Butler-Galloway Wedding Set Valentine's Day

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Butler Jr. of Rosman have announced the engagement of their daughter, Helen Elaine, and Billy Wayne Galloway.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Robert Glen Galloway of the Frozen Creek Road, Rosman, and the late Mr. Galloway. He attended Rosman High School. He is employed by Juno Construction Company.

The bride-elect, a graduate of Rosman High School, is employed by DuPont.

The wedding is planned for Feb. 14 at 8 p.m. at the Rosman Pentecostal Lighthouse. Friends are invited to the wedding and the reception which will follow at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Morris Reid on the New Town Road in Rosman.

Mrs. Clyde Summey Heads County Homemakers

Mrs. Clyde Summey was installed as president of the Transylvania County Homemakers at the quarterly meeting of the council Friday.

Twenty-five women representing 13 of the 16 clubs in the council attended the meeting in the fellowship hall the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd.

Other officers include Mrs. Leroy Mills, vice president; Mrs. Clyde Seay, secretary; Mrs. Howard Schmidt, treasurer; and Mrs. Ray Ideker, historian.

They were installed by Miss Jean Childers, county home economics extension agent, who compared them and their leadership to precious gems. She presented each officer with a book mark which she had woven, its pattern indicating the ladder of success, color indicating a particularly quality of the gem it represented.

Mrs. L. E. Callender read "This Is My Day," taken from National Notes, as her thoughts on the final day of her two-year-term as president.

Nine chairmen of the program of work committees for the county, along with county officers, will attend a training meeting Tuesday at the Central United Methodist Church in Asheville.

The chairmen are Mrs. Marvin Garren, citizenship; Mrs. Lamar Hamilton, cultural arts; Mrs. Ray Ideker, education; Mrs. L. E. Callender, family life; Mrs. Morris Hawkins, health; Mrs. Randal Lankford, home economics; Mrs. Howard Hyatt, international; Mrs. C. F. Allison, public information; and Mrs. John Rhyne, safety.

Mrs. Allison also serves as district treasurer.

Dorothy Osborne, women's editor of The Transylvania Times, talked about the newspaper and the importance of the work of the club reporters.

It's Time To Enter Chicken Cooking Contest

Your favorite chicken recipe could win you $10,000. That's first prize in the National Chicken Cooking Contest.

One finalist from each state and the District of Columbia will be selected through local cook-offs. State finalists will win an all-expense paid trip to San Antonio, Tex., for the national cook-off, plus a trophy, a $100 cash award and a year's supply of Ac'cent and Mazola Corn oil.

The contest is sponsored by the National Broiler Council, and the makers of Ac'cent and Mazola corn oil.

UDC Members Hear Program On Gen. Lee

The Pisgah Chapter of United Daughters of the Confederacy met Jan. 20 at the home of Mrs. Lucian Deavor, with Mrs. E. A. Knott as co-hostess.

Mrs. W. A. Parry reported on the state convention held in October in Raleigh, and displayed the certificates of award presented the chapter for its annual report. The certificate will be put in the club scrap book.

Mrs. Lewis Hamlin, chapter president, announced that the Transylvania County Historic Properties Commission had requested information about the formation and history of the chapter for its records.

Mrs. Mark Osborne was welcomed as a new member.

Tentative plans were made for a luncheon meeting to be held in June near Flag Day.

The program on Gen. Robert E. Lee was given by Mrs. John Verner, who described the general as a great American and a great soldier. His campaign tactics, she said, were studied by Gen. Rommel. He was a great man in victory or defeat, and beloved by his men, she said. After the War Between the States, he was president of Washington College at Lexington, Va., which later became Washington and Lee University.

A paper about another Confederate soldier, Col. William Hawkins, was read. Col. Hawkins was the grandfather of Mrs. Knott.

CALORIE COUNTERS

One of the greatest areas of misinformation about meat is the misconception concerning the calorie content of pork.

Research shows that many cuts of pork are just as low in fat as similar cuts of beef and lamb.

When you think of prescriptions, think of VARNER'S adv.

A NEW extension homemakers club has been organized in the Williamson Creek Community, and meetings are held at 1 p.m. each third Thursday. Purpose of the club is to put into practice the extension program of home economics based on research and information helpful to homemakers. The organization is open to all people without regard to race, color or national origin. Officers of the new club, pictured above, from left, are: Mrs. E. D. Damon, president; Mrs. William C. Garing, vice president; Mrs. Kathlyn L. Carlsen, secretary; Mrs. Eugene H. Clavier, assistant secretary; and Mrs. H. F. Wendt, treasurer.
