"Garden Time's" Creator Dies

"Garden Time" will appear in North Carolina non-daily newspapers for the last time this week. The popular column's author, Professor Monroe Evans Gardner, died in a Raleigh hospital Wednesday morning, January 29, at the age of 79.

Professor Gardner was a member of the North Carolina State University horticultural faculty for 47 years, during which time he had a large leadership role in developing North Carolina's horticultural industry.

He was the head of the Department of Horticultural Science for 25 years, and he helped secure the first state appropriation to fund horticultural research in the state in 1937.

He organized the N. C. Association of Nurserymen in 1936, the N. C. Commercial Flower Growers in 1947, and the N. C. Apple Growers Association in 1954. NCSU honored Professor Gardner by dedicating the new campus arboretum to him in 1973.

He remained active until his death, helping neighbors and friends with their landscaping problems, promoting community gardening and beautification and writing his column, which has been distributed weekly for nearly 20 years to some 150 Tar Hell newspapers.

The "Garden Time" column B. F. Allen Dies, Last Rites Held

Burlin Fredrick Allen, 63, of Pisgah Forest, died Saturday at his home after a long illness.

He was a millwright and welder.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Frances King Allen; a son, Dennis Allen of Pisgah Forest; six daughters, Mrs. Pat Pope and Mrs. Betty Gonce of Horse Shoe, Mrs. Peggy Anders, Mrs. Gwendolyn Snyder and Mrs. Drema Mahoney of Brevard and Mrs. Deborah Jones of Leary, Ga.; two brothers, Clyde Allen of Horse Shoe and Russell Allen of Akron, Ohio; two sisters, Mrs. Neal Swangin of Brevard and Mrs. Lucy McCall of Balsam Grove; and 18 grandchildren.

Graveside services were held at 2 p.m. Monday in Pisgah Gardens. The Revs. Joe Medford and Ralph Banning officiated. Pallbearers were Kenneth Allen, Russell and Allen Swangin, Tommy McCall and Ted and Edward King.

Frank Moody Funeral Home, Brevard was in charge.

gentleness of the author and his deep interest in his fellow man and the environment. He started the column when he stepped down as NCSU department head to devote his time to teaching. He continued writing it when he retired in 1965 and became professor emeritus.

Professor Gardner continued to maintain an office in Kilgore Hall on the NCSU campus. One of the most time consuming activities he had was answering the mail generated by "Garden Time."

He is survived by two sons, Charles E. Gardner of West Jefferson and Monroe Evans Gardner Jr. of Raleigh. His wife, Margaret, died in 1973.

Mrs. McDonald's Father Dies

Funeral services were held for Hugh Anderson Walker Sr. on Jan. 24 at the First United Methodist Church, Matthews. The Rev. William Bobbit, pastor of the church, and Dr. Mitchell Faulkner officiated.

Hankins - Whittington Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements, and interment was Forest Lawn, East.

Mr. Walker was survived by the widow, Mary Ella Clegg Walker, five children and 15 grandchildren. He was the father of Mrs. Henry C. McDonald, Jr. of Brevard.
