Government Help Required for Two Million

Nation's Headache

Lack of Initiative and Self-Reliance, Ignorance and Malnutrition, Aggravate the Problem.

Washington, Dec. 20.-(U.P)-Government aid is necessary to lift the nation's tenant farmers from stark poverty, acting resettlement administrator, W. W. Alexander said tonight.

Alexander is a member of a committee named by President Roosevelt to study the .tenancy problem and submit recommendations for relief legislation, expected to form the basis of a vigorous drive for congressional action early in the new session. Most of the more than 2,000,-000 tenant farmers can be made self-sustaining only with government help through a long-stepby-step process involving closely supervised credit and painstaking education in far mmanagement, Alexander said in an interview. He forecast the administration farm tenancy legislative program would involve: 1. Federal loans to help impoverished tenant families buy their own farms. 2. "Character" loans at low interest rates to those who must remain tenants and now are forced to pay as high as 40 per cent an-3. Expert guidance in farm pro-
