GRIN AND BEAR IT By Lichty

"You know more about diamonds than I do, Elsie. Which would you marry?"

Caroline Chatfield Says

While Career Girls Have Their Minds on Careers, the other girls who have nothing on their minds but hats and husbands get busy and gobble up the prospects. Girls shouldn't delay in looking for husband.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

The more I see of marriage, the more I feel sort of glad that I have none of it for the present. It appears to me that unless young people have years of experience in working at a business or profession before taking on matrimony, they are likely to head for the rocks and hit them. Better be single than sorry and so I am working at my career but not losing sight of the star to which I have hitched my wagon. Of course I know that there is no such thing as a perfect man or a perfect girl either but we must have ideals and cling to them. As a thoughtful girl who is looking and learning I would like to hear your reaction to my dream of love. Cleanliness being next to godliness I want a clean husband, morally, mentally, physically. I think it takes religion to keep a man clean and loyal. College education isn't essential but a good mentality is. If a man is mentally alert he is likely to be industrious and progressive and likely to sense true values. Am I right?

A. W. R.

ANSWER:
As far as your ideal husband is concerned I think you are just about correct, but as to putting in the salad years, pursuing a career before you volunteer for matrimony, I'm not in agreement with you. I don't believe business or professional experience is necessary to make a girl a good picker of a pilot nor do I believe that this experience will necessarily enable her to keep her marital ship off the rocks.

Certainly in these days of economic upsets it is sensible for every girl to be able to support herself. A short fling at collecting the pay envelope, writing her own check and casting up her own accounts will stand her in good stead when she's married. But if you ask me, I think it is a pretty good plan for her to be cutting her eyes around for the prospective groom, the minute she finishes her education.

The longer she puts off marriage the more the masculine field is reduced. While she has her mind on her career, the girls who have nothing on their minds but hats and husbands are gobbling up the prospects. In her thirties she has a much smaller chance of finding the right man than she would have had in her twenties and for several reasons. She has tasted the sweetness of financial independence and she will be reluctant to relinquish it unless the beau ideal comes off the horizon. In the meantime she has been moving up her stakes, heightening her requirements and the men aren't improving any.

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Letters unsuitable for publication will be answered personally, provided they contain stamped, self-addressed envelopes. All names are held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, in care of this newspaper.

Moyock Social

Club Meeting
The Moyock Home Demonstration club met with Mrs. D. W. Bagley at her cottage at Nags Head, Monday from 11 to 5 o'clock.

Swimming was enjoyed by the guests before lunch. Members of the club carried picnic lunch, which was served by the hostesses of the day, Mrs. D. W. Bagley, Mrs. S. M. Mann and Miss Rosa Mann.

After lunch, the meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Rosa Mann. "The Old North State" was sung and the Collect repeated, after which "The More We Get Together" was sung.

Mrs. L. S. Basmight was elected as a delegate to attend the State Short Course which will be held in Raleigh, August 2-6. Mrs. Amanda Poyner and Miss Rosa Mann were elected alternate delegates.

The next club meeting will meet at the home of Miss Rosa Mann from 2 to 4 o'clock, August 16, at which time an interesting demonstration on "Afternoon Teas" will be given. At the conclusion of the meeting, a tea will be given from 4 to 6 o'clock and the ladies of the community will be invited.

After the business was transacted the meeting adjourned.

Those present were: Mrs. W. F. Scaff, Mrs. L. R. Bundy, Mrs. L. S. Basmight, Mrs. S. M. Mann, Mrs. Luna Jarvis, Mrs. Amanda Poyner, Mrs. Wallace West, Mrs. A. C. Copeland, Mrs. R. O. West, Mrs. W. H. Creekmore, Mrs. D. W. Bagley, Miss Vivian Bundy and Miss Rosa Mann. Visitors present were: Mrs. Ella Wilkerson, Miss Elinor Wilkerson and Miss Kathleen Bray.

To Meet at Beach
The Missionary society of the Moyock Methodist church will meet with Mrs. D. W. Bagley at her cottage at Nags Head, Tuesday, from 11 to 5 o'clock. All members from both circles are urged to be present.

W. M. S. Meeting
The Woman's Missionary society of the Moyock Baptist church met Wednesday afternoon at the church.

The meeting was opened by singing the hymn, "Come Holy Spirit, Faithful Guide." The devotional was conducted by Miss Eunice Aydtette.

The topic for discussion was "The Negro."

A brief introduction was given by the leader, Miss Marion Fiske. "The Negro, His Characteristic and Sorrows," was discussed by Mrs. George N. Hathaway.

"His Contributions to the South, Home Missions and Negroes," was given by Mrs. J. W. Flora.

At this time Mrs. L. F. West played the hymn, "Nothing Between" the words and music by C. A. Tindley, who is a Negro.

"Our Task as Neighbors to the Negro and our Nigerian Mission," was then given by Miss Eunice Aydtette.

A short business session followed after which the meeting adjourned with the society benediction.

PARIS STYLES

By MARY FENTRESS
United Press Staff Correspondent
Paris, (U.P.)—Paquin uses the unusual combination of black velvet and white organdy to make an effective evening gown in the new collection.

The principal part of the dress is a black velvet sheath which is fitted closely to the body. The front neckline is slightly draped and is supported by traps of twisted velvet caught in at the back with twisted white organdy. A fanlike train of white organdy is inserted in the back of the skirt. The white organdy insertion is cut on the bias in extreme fullness and is bordered by two narrow bands of black velvet.

More summery is the gown in pink organdy trimmed with bands of puffed ruching stitched flat on both edges. Those puffed bands of organza outline the low-cut decollete and form a halter-stray at the neck which supports the front bodice. The same trimming is used as a band 6 inches above the hem of the full skirt. There is an accompanying bolero jacket which is trimmed with the same banding at the edge of the short sleeves and at the hem. A wide-brimmed hat of pink organza is worn on the back of the head.

Paquin makes an attractive beach costume in bluish lavender linen trimmed with biscuit colored linen. There is a sun suit worn with shorts in the bluish lavender and a long fitted coat to wear over it.

The coat, which is made with short, puffed sleeves, is edged with a band of biscuit linen, applied in scallops, down the front opening.

Parish Same as County
In the state of Louisiana the word parish is used to designate what the other states call counties.
