Here's A Mighty Important Map—Study It

ELIZABETH CITY business interest are beginning to show some concern about the development of greater trade relations with the Southern Albemarle. One way is to know the Southern Albemarle and give intelligent consideration to its road problems. Here is a map, prepared by a member of The Daily Independent staff, that will be very helpful. Clip it, file it or, better still, paste it up where you can refer to it frequently.

We are all more or less familiar with Tyrrell County's insistent demand for a bridge over Alligator River and a thru route from the west to Roanoke Island and the Dare coast. But quite as insistent are the people of Hyde County for an all weather road from Engelhardt to Manns Harbor, via Stumpy Point, putting Roanoke Island and the Dare beaches within approximately 60 miles of a large population in Hyde, and inviting tourist traffic from the interior to consider their direct route to this section's coastal playground.

And then the people of Fairfield in Hyde and Columbia in Tyrrell want an all weather road in place of the dirt road (N. C. 94) which connects the two towns, but which is now impassable six months in the year.

Here is an important map for the consideration of everybody interested in the fullest possible development of the whole region. Study it and prepare yourself to talk intelligently and sympathetically to the people of Tyrrell and Dare about their road problems. They want to do business in Elizabeth City. Elizabeth City can cement its relations with these counties by cooperating with them.

A Jest Started It All: Greatest Lincoln Impersonator

It was the good-natured kidding of a fellow clerk in Marshall Fields' big store in Chicago 30 years ago that started Luther D. Aydelotte on the way to becoming the greatest living impersonator of Abraham Lincoln. Mr. Aydelotte disclosed in an interview late yesterday afternoon, shortly after his arrival here to visit his brother, N. T. Aydelotte.

Mr. Aydelotte, who changed his name to the French spelling of it shortly after leaving here in 1912, was an awkward and rather homely fellow when he went to work for Marshall Fields. A fellow clerk soon had dubbed him "Abe Lincoln."

"You're the only man I've ever seen who was as homely as Lincoln," said the clerk.

Luther Aydelotte took the kidding good-naturedly and thought little about it until he happened to attend John Drinkwater's production "Abraham Lincoln" in

Prepare to Make Assault on Peiping Unless Chinese Meet Terms; Americans Move to Protected Area

Peiping, China, Tuesday, July 20.—(U.P.)—Japan's powerful North China army drew a ring of steel around the walls of Peiping this morning, prepared to smash into the city and drive out its Chinese defenders if Japan's ultimatum is not accepted by noon today (Monday, EDT.)

Within the walled city the roar of Japanese cannon could be heard as they opened preliminary fire to clear a road to the gates of the city. All Americans were ordered to clear out of the danger zone.

The "final warning" of the Japanese military high command, demanding evacuation of Chinese

Coinjock Transient Camp May Move To Camden

Report Points to Arneuse Creek As New Location of WPA Organization

Coinjock, July 19.—(Special) It is learned from semi-official sources that the floating barracks in which 200 or more WPA Negro Transients have been quartered here will be removed to a point on Pasquotank River, near Elizabeth City, Arneuse Creek, near the Elizabeth City Country Club, is indicated as the possible location.

It is said that the cost of removing the great fleet of house boats will be approximately $10,000, but that this would be offset in a year by the more favorable location, nearer the point of origin of the brush that this labor unit is engaged in cutting and bundling for beach erosion work.

The removal of the camps from Coinjock will mean a loss of a monthly payroll of more than $5,000, a large part of which will flow to Elizabeth City if the removal is effected.

Some at Coinjock are hopeful however that the camps will not be removed, believing that the Currituck County Commissioners may yet reconsider and withdraw their petition to Congressman Warren to have the camps removed.

Objection to the camps at Coinjock originated with a few influential citizens in the upper Coinjock neighborhood who were disturbed by the alleged boisterous conduct of men from the camps under the influence of liquor purveyed by bootleg joints in that neighborhood.

Again it has been hard for some farmers to employ local Negro labor at depression-low wages this summer, and the proximity of the Negro transients has been held

Polar Flights Prove The World Flat, Says Voliva

Zion, Ill., July 19.—(U.P.)—Wilbur Glenn (the world is flat) Voliva chewed reflectively on a Brazil nut today and said the two Russian flights over the North Pole "absolutely confirm my theory that the world is as flat as a new pine board."

"They went up in the air and flew over the earth," he said, "not around it."

"The pole is just a point fixed by the North star. It's nothing special. A cricket can hop over an ant hill and do the same thing. He just starts from one point on a flat surface and lands on another."

Voliva, militant head of the Christian Catholic church, pictures the world as something like a plate. In the case of the Russian flyers, Moscow might be on one edge and San Francisco or Los Angeles on the other.

But, had the Russians claimed to fly via the south pole, that would be different.

Voliva indicated he might even suspect trickery.

"There isn't any south pole," he said. "Why should there be? There is no need of it."

"But even if there was, I'm still right. You might fly south for a while but sooner or later you'd have to turn east or west. You might think it was south but it wouldn't be. It would be impossible."

Lehman's Declaration Heartens Foes of Court Change

Governor's Letter

Wednesday Vote On Robinson Successor Will Indicate Factions' Might

Aboard Congressional Special, Enroute to Washington, July 19.—(U.P.)—Vice President John Nance Garner tonight proclaimed the administration's neutrality in the contest for leadership of the senate to replace the late Majority Leader, Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas.

His announcement was made at a time when it was believed the senate vote on President Roosevelt's judiciary bill would be delayed until after Robinson's successor is chosen Wednesday, and as foes of the administration court bill were heartened by the addition of Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, New York Democrat and friend of Mr. Roosevelt, to their ranks.

The Candidates

Returning from Robinson's funeral, Vice President Garner sat in his special car alongside of Sen. Pat Harrison, D. Miss., and Sen. Alben Barkley, D. Ky., only candidates for Robinson's post, and asserted:

"In the contest for the senate leadership, there is not by the bat of an eye, or by the nod of a head, or my the squeak of a vocal cord any preference."

He squinted out from under his bushy white brows, glancing first at one candidate and then at the other. Harrison chewed solemnly on a long black cigar. Barkley sat stiffly on an overstuffed chair, his hand on his knees. Garner

Hertford Tax Rate Fixed at $1.60

Hertford, July 19.—The county board of commissioners in an all-day session today did quite a bit of arranging on the budget for the coming year to settle the tax rate at $1.60; last year's figures. The building of the new Perquimans county consolidated graded school in Winfall, which has been completed and is ready for occupancy this fall, failed to make an increase in the tax rate for the year just ahead.
