LOCAL NEWS.

The steamer Neuse is again on her old route to New Berne.

The small pox scare in town turns out to be a fad or a bugaboo.

Mrs. C. H. Robinson and children have returned from their summer outing in the mountains of Virginia.

Lieut. W. A. Failing's family have joined him here and they are cordially welcomed by their numerous friends.

C. B. Bliven's store, in the First Ward, was broken into on Monday night, and some forty dollars worth of property stolen.

Departed this life in Edenton on Sunday, Mrs. John C. Bond, after lingering sickness. She was a kind, good woman and greatly beloved for her many virtues.

Miss Sallie Cox, one of Hertford's popular young ladies was married to Mr. Urquhart, of Norfolk, last Tuesday 11th. The marriage took place in Baltimore from the home of the bride's brother Dr. T. Cox.

Mr. Lonnie Sanderlin is occupying the house of J. B. Blades on Main street, on the old Griffin lot, and he occupies the office of the late W. J. Griffin, Esq., as a place of business for, insurance, on the same lot.

The house of Mr. T. B. Wilson, on Burgess street, was broken into on Sunday night while the family was at church, and clothing and other articles of value were stolen. They entered forcibly through a window.

We never cultivate hopefulness in elections, but the signs of the times all indicate that the negro and low white party is a sinking ship and its former adherents are leaving it in great numbers. It must be doomed to defeat.

In Currituck Co., men are registering who have not voted in ten years they will vote this year the straight Democratic ticket and for white supremacy in N. C., Currituck county, will come out all right for Democracy and good government.

Boys, be not "wary in well doing," but keep up the fire on the enemy. They are on the run. Watch the polls on the 8th, and spot any white black man that slips in a Pub. ticket, mark him with the brand of Cain; thence-forward and forever, and let him be anathema—marantha, (accursed among men).

Our young friend, Will. Wood has returned from Baltimore, where he went for medical treatment, in improved health.

We are complimented by an invitation from Dr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Cox, of Baltimore, to the marriage of their sister, Miss Sallie W. to Mr. Walter M. Urquhart, on Tuesday, October 11th, eighteen hundred and ninety eight.

The Democratic county Convention will meet in the Court House tomorrow at 11 a. m. to nominate a Democratic county ticket. All white men who are in favor of white government and are disgusted and maddened by the dirty combination of negroes and low whites, are invited to be present and take part in the proceedings.

Mr. J. B. Flora has purchased the old Whedbee residence on Road street for $1,700. It was once the finest residence on the street and when the rising tide reaches that point lucky Flora will turn over his $1,700 several times. Road street was once the commercial seat of empire in the town and the World is a Ferris Wheel and turns over.

The house of Mr. Allen K. Kramer, on Ehringhaus street, was burglariously attempted to be entered on Wednesday night, and the Republican robber made his escape by the light of a pistol flash fired by brave Mrs. Kramer. Have the white leaders exhausted their treasury and turned the needy black Republicans into the range to make their own living as best they can, in their own way.

Sixty-seven new members of the White Man's Union were added to the Club on Monday night at the meeting at the Court House. The Union was addressed by the President, J. B. Leigh, E. F. Aydtlett, Ben. Gunn and Rev. Mr. Pittman in stirring and enthusiastic speeches. The speech of Mr. Pittman was exceptionally excellent and if he be as good a pulpit speaker as a rostrum speaker then, indeed, "there is a man."

A New York trucker has rented the land adjacent to Preyor Town, and will establish an extensive truck farm in that locality. No business can be established here that will pay better than a truck farm, a bull frog farm or a fish pond, and all are sited to the locality that the New York man has leased. Good luck to him! We are an authority on bull frogs, and would be glad to sow a few bull frog-thought-seeds in the new comer's brain.

It makes us proud to see the good work that our brother Democrats are putting into this vital campaign in which everything that is dear to us and to the State of North Carolina is involved—the character and good government of the State, our own self respect, our families, their safety and honor, our prosperity in business, our personal safety, the security of our property, our Anglo-Saxon manhood and its supremacy in North Carolina.

There are only three more Saturdays for registration before election on the 8th day of November. Register! Register! Saturday, 29th is "challenge day." The registration on the two registration days in town from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. On the challenge day, (Oct. 29,) the books will be open for registration in the country from 9 to 12 p. m., and in town from 9 to 9 p. m., Persons becoming of age after registration days and before election can register on the day of election and vote.

The nomination for County Commissioners by the Republican party in Convention last week, the most important and responsible office in the county, is an abomination and a stretch to the decency of the county. Of the three men nominated, one is a nigger Winslow, one is a young white man 23 years old, without experience and without character and the third a new man here, and the trio are a set of putty boobies that would do the order of Jack and put money in his pocket and the county might whistle.

Our friend Ben. Gunn, is a Democrat, a wit and a humorist. He made a speech at the Club on Monday night which shows that there is a practical and serious mixture in his make up. Everything he said was illustrated by a reference to shoes or boots. In referring to Bush Leigh's speech he said it lifted him out of his boots, to another speech that it shrank him up in his shoes. He talked about boots straps, shoes, benches and soles, which caused a rival crispin to say that Ben. Gunn was advertising his own business, and it weren't fair.

We had a call on Saturday from Hon. T. G. Skinner, our candidate for the State Senate from the First Senatorial District, and we reviewed together the political situation in this district. When he was nominated, he thought his party had put up a job on him and offered him as a holocaust for the sacrifice, but he now thinks the people intend to pit up another job on him of a different kind. He has been over the district, has taken counsel with the people of every class and persuasion, and is confident of his election by 500 majority. His friends know that, constitutionally, Mr. Skinner does not see the rosy hues of a distant prospect, hence, we accept his conclusions with less distrust, and rejoice with him at the bright outlook.

MOTHERS
We have a book, prepared especially for you, which we mail free. It treats of the stomach disorders—worms, etc.—that every child is liable to and for which has been successfully used for a half century.
Prepared by Dr. J. C. Frey, M.D., U.S.S. FREY, Baltimore, Md.

There is no public art gallery in Norfolk, Va., but admirers of works of the Couper marble works, of that city, at their extensive ware-room at 159, 161 and 163 Bank street contains a large variety of statuary, and beautiful carved memorials made from fancy varieties of marble and granite from the leading quarries of America and Europe, affording to visitors a fine opportunity to study the results of a man's artistic skill upon nature's most beautiful formations. The ware-room is open daily and visitors are welcomed whether they want to buy anything or not. If you contemplate purchasing gravestones or a monument it would be well worth your while to visit this establishment, the largest in the South, and examine their works, or write for their illustrated catalogue.

Dreams and Visions.
We had a dream last night. Would it were all a dream. "Old men dream dreams," sayeth the Good Book, "and young men see visions," and, perhaps, the old age that lingereth in the lap of youth may both dream dreams and see visions. But, in life's drama dreams are potent factors. Napoleon's dream foreshadowed Waterloo. Marie Antoinette's dream foretold her doom. Joseph's dream of the sheafs, foretold his greatness. The dream of Joseph, the carpenter, caused his flight into Egypt with the young child.

We had a dream last night of the present, past and future. Would it may be all a dream.

We dreamed that the 8th of November had come and gone, that the banner of victory floated over black and tan partisans, that the buzzes of triumph came from black and tan throats.

We were standing on Main street, at Bradford's corner. Groups of white men, gesticulating fiercely, were seen down Water, up Main and across into Poindexter street. A cry, a shriek, a curse, an exclamation—"They come! They come!" A black cloud, growing larger and larger; bugles blasting, cornets sounding, with a few old uniformed negro soldiers in front. At the head of the procession was a white man, grizzly bearded, collarless, with a guilty stammer in his voice. They came down Road and turned into Main street. It looked like a dark cloud portending a storm. They were singing at the top of their voice—"Old John Brown is rotting in de ground." And the white tan held aloft a banner inscribed—"Remember John Brown. Remember Harper's Ferry." We saw white men dashing up the street. We saw white women with disheveled hair and streaming eyes, flying before the black cloud. Some cried "mercy!" Others "protection!" As the black and tan host turned off down Elliott street, a startling phenomenon appeared. Like a lightning flash, all unexpected, on every building on every street, before us, behind us, to right of us, to left of us, around us, showed up four large letters, about six feet in length—H E L L.

It formed an ominous word. The maddened crowd of white men, mostly armed with deadly weapons, some with bludgeons, dashed down Elliott. The black cloud scattered. Three white men were captured and hustled to the Bradford building. They were bruised but not killed. Each one of them pointed to the grizzled traitor with their accusing thumbs. He was torn from the outraged mob and borne to the county jail for protection.

We trust the dream was not prophetic. If your blood is thin, appetite poor, troubled with night sweats, a bad cold or LaGrippe take Robert's chill tonic. All druggists.

The Grand Democratic Rally.
White men of Elizabeth City who are disgusted with the present government of North Carolina, and who are determined that its infamous rule shall not be continued, with their help are invited to attend the grand rally of the Democrats of Pasquotank county and Elizabeth City, the county seat, at Lowry's Academy building on Monday night

October 17th. It will be the grand Democratic demonstration of this political campaign, and will be the last before election on the 8th of November. It has been carefully gotten up with elaborate preparation. Our lady friends will grace the occasion with their presence, and will furnish the vocal and instrumental music, to us showing their interest in the vital struggle in which their male friends are inspired by considerations of their own safety and happiness. We trust that every true white person in town and county will be present, and thus contribute his influence to make this occasion bear fruits in the momentous struggle we are now making to break up the most infamous league of bad men in the whole range of North Carolina's history.

NO CURE—NO PAY.
That is the way all druggists sell GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC for Malaria, Chills and Fever. It is simply Iron and Quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter, nauseating Tonics. Price, 50c.

Public Speaking.
We agree upon the following joint appointments for Hon. Harry Skinner and John H. Small in this campaign and the following as the towns of the speaking. One speaker to open one day and the other on the day and the other on the day following. Each party to speak one hour, and to have a rejoinder of twenty minutes.
