

It was a noticeable coincidence in the late election in Pasquotank county that the negro Hugh Gale, candidate for the Legislature, got one vote more than Isaac Meekins, candidate for Solicitor in the first Judicial District. United in life in death they were not divided.

The work of the dredges in the main trunk of the D. S. Canal is temporarily suspended, but will be soon resumed. We understand the suspension is caused by the caving of quicksands, which will be soon remedied. The work on Turner's Cut, and on the Deep Creek lock continues.

Departed this life on Tuesday evening at her residence on Dry Point, in this town, Mrs. Emma Markham, relic of the late James Markham, aged about 50 years. Mrs. Markham was a good woman, of great business capacity and a devout member of the M. E. Church.

There will be an entertainment at Camden Courthouse on Tuesday evening, November 22d, at 7 o'clock, for the benefit of Nash's Chapel, by the ladies of the Methodist Church, assisted by other friends. There will be refreshments and other appliances for social enjoyment. The public is cordially invited.

We have seen an engraving of the new brick building of the Citizens' Bank, now being erected on the Zimmerman lot, corner of Poindexter and Fearing streets. It is a beautiful building and will be an ornament to that portion of the town. It will be one of the most imposing structures in the city.

"Beyond the Alps Lies Italy." But let not the beauty of the Alps beyond dazzle your eyes and blind your judgement. Let the Democrats who will soon take the reins of our State Government in its most important department, be wary, be careful, be circumspect. The time of triumph is the time of test and trial.

President McKinley issues his Thanksgiving Proclamation to observe Thursday, November 24th, as a day of devout prayer and thanksgiving for the many blessings that God has vouchsafed to us during the year. The greatest of these to North Carolina is the great victory that our people have gained in the late vital political contest.

The enemies of our peace and happiness are routed and driven to hiding. We hear of some unwise declarations, but it is as much the part of the defeated to be quiet in defeat as for victors to be magnanimous in victory. We do not counsel violence but if any of the pie-suckers are so shameless as to proclaim the infamy of their treason, they should be ostracised and scattered by all decent white men.

Mr. D. T. Gallop, traveling salesman for the wholesale grocery house of Robinson & Co., is in luck. He is in receipt of a handsome gold watch presented to him by the McCam Manufacturing Co., of Macon, Ga., the maker of Magic Cleaner Soap. The sale of this soap has increased so rapidly of late that Mr. Gallop sold nearly two car loads within nine weeks to the retail trade in a limited territory.

We can all take a rest. North Carolina is a dear old State to live in. Our civilization is safe. Our homes are safe, and the negro population is safe now and more contented than at any time since the war. Three cheers and thanks to Chairman Simmons. Walk in and help yourself. The office seeks you, you sought not the office. How would Jarvis and Simmons of North Carolina look on the rolls of the U. S. Senate?

There will be a "Democratic Celebration and Grand Rally" at Edenton on Wednesday Nov. 23, in celebration of our glorious victory in the late election. There will be a free dinner at the Fair Grounds. Music, speaking by distinguished speakers. The public is invited and especially the ladies. We acknowledge a kind invitation. The old historic has put on its robes of rejoicing and bids her friends to rejoice with her.

In the victorious campaign fight in dear old Camden county that we have just passed through, so gloriously, there is one man that deserves special mention and commendation. He has been a life long Republican. Has always been regarded as a good man, but bound to party by the ties of membership, and had given strength to it by becoming its representative in the General Assembly. But when our supreme peril, came he rose like the strong man, the son of Manoa, and burst the ties of party like wisps of straw, and did work for white supremacy that no other man could have done so well. That man is D. B. Squires. Honored be his name!

Without something is done to Poindexter street to make it navigable in the winter spon to be with us, the business of that business street will be seriously handicapped.

"Big Ike" has become an attaché of the "Bee Hive" store. He did yeoman service in the late white man's fight for North Carolina, and we hope he may "live long and prosper."

Our dear friend, W. D. Pruden, of Edenton, dropped in to see us on Saturday and exchanged congratulations over the great triumph of Tuesday. He was en route home from Dare court.

The next North Carolina Annual Conference of the M. E. Church will be held in Elizabeth City, commencing Wednesday, November 30. Preparations are now being made for the entertainment of visitors.

We are told that Dr. John H. Pool has been charged by some persons in South Mills, where he lives, with being the author of the late excellent letters in the Economist signed "X." That is incorrect.

The First National Bank of Elizabeth City, recognizing the importance and value of a safe deposit vault, has placed in the Bank for the use of its patrons and the public generally a set of private boxes, thoroughly protected from fire and burglars. Persons who desire a safe deposit for deeds, valuable papers, gold and silver coin and plate, can rent a box by the year, quarterly, at a very small expense by applying to the cashier.

We counsel peace, as a general rule, but we honestly think that the lex talionis calls for the impeachment of one Daniel L. Russell, a man who has prostituted the highest office in the State of North Carolina to the damage and disgrace of the State, and the gratification of his devilish private hatred and malice. He is about 5 feet 10 inches high, with a sinister facial expression, weighs about 250 pounds and carries most of his avoirdupois in his abdominal region.

Mrs. Col. Ferebee, of South Mills, offers her residence and grounds attached for sale or rent. It is an elegant establishment and can be bought at a great bargain now, before the completion of the D. S. Canal. Its value will be greatly enhanced after the canal is completed. It is near the canal, 150 yards from South Lock. It would be an admirable location for a factory of any kind. Mrs. Ferebee would not dispose of it now, but that her only daughter has just left school, and desires a larger field for social and church work.

Departed this life on Thursday, November 17, at the residence of his parents, on Church street, Thos. Wells, Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Wells, aged 1 year and 2 months. "And he put his hands upon them and blessed them, and said: suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven." The parents and family of the deceased have not been long among us, but they have by their kindness and courtesy gained the esteem of our community, who sincerely sympathize with them in their bereavement.

The refugees from Wilmington who left there during the social cyclone last week, passed through New Bern and Elizabeth City enroute North, the land of their nativity. At both Newbern and E. City, they were given the order to "pass on." A negro who came over from New Bern on the Neuse, supposed to be the negro Manly, stopped at the depot went into a store near by and asked to buy some cheroots. The clerk asked where he was from. He replied, from N. C., that he left there yesterday, and soon left the store and took the train for Norfolk.

"Let Blessed Peace Prevail."

The meeting of the "Democratic White Man's Union," at the Court-house on Monday night was a graceful and patriotic finale to a campaign in North Carolina and its divisions that will ever be memorable in our annals. The meeting was addressed by Judge Albertson, Prof. Hinton and President J. B. Leigh. Altho there was evident gratification on all faces, there was no undue disposition to exult over the defeated, but rather to counsel peace and hope that that there would be no further attempt to reverse the natural order and place the tax paying white men in subjection to the irresponsible and ignorant classes. Resolutions of thanks were passed, acknowledging the services we had received from our adopted fellow citizen of northern birth in which patriotism rose above party and all other considerations were submerged to the safety of home and the good of North Carolina. And no harsh words were used to the citizens of African descent, but rather commendation for their submission to the campaign results which will redound to their benefit as well as our own.

The Last Shot.

The following cheering note of victory was addressed by Chairman Simmons, to county Chairman Wilson of Pasquotank county, on Saturday after the great fight on Tuesday.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 10, '98.
 DEAR SIR—The official vote is in from most of the counties, and where that is not in, we have estimates which I regard as reliable. Basing our calculations upon these returns, it now appears that we will have about 98 members in the house and about 41 members in the Senate. This may be increased to 100 in the House and 44 in the Senate.
 No man is entitled to the credit of this great victory. It belongs to the people, and the people have given it to us, because our cause was just, and because after intelligent consideration of the conditions in North Carolina, and the government of the last four years, they determined upon a change of men and parties.

 Our organization throughout the State, from election precinct up, has been most excellent. The newspapers, the public speakers, the organization, has worked in absolute harmony from the beginning to the end of the fight. I have known for a long time that upon the County Chairman, in each county, much depended as to the result in that county. I want to express to you my hearty commendation of your splendid work. Like the other chairmen in the State, your efforts have been well directed and unceasing and the splendid result in your county is largely due to your excellent work in behalf of the party. We have had no jar, no conflict, no disagreement. Your courtesy to me has been uniform and I shall ever remember it with pleasure and gratitude.
 With great respect and best wishes for your future success, I am,
 Yours very truly,
 F. M. SIMMONS,
 Chairman.
