For this reason none but the most skillful engineers and the most conscientious enotractors should be employed in building model roads. If the improvement proves good and permanent, it will soon convince the tex-payers that more such road is desirable, and development in that line will follow. Should the model road prove defective, it would be a serious cothack to the cause

STATE AID.

New Hampshire has taken a most remarkable step in the direction of a better system of public highways. A measure has been enacted into law appropriating no less a sum than three parters of a million dollars for the nermanent improvement of the main highways of the State. The money is 1904 and was graduated four years to be raised at the cate of $125,200 p year for six years.

This amount will build a great many miles of mucadam road, and will, no doubt, lead to still further construction

It is what we will all have to come sooner or later. The State must no the general road making. The cities and villages and even counties are too small units for so large a work. But (Sate and towns in combination can accomplish a great deal and the bursten will be lighter. New Hampshire, in reality, has only taken a place in the murch of progress

CIVIL SERVICE ENDANGERED.

The President, by Executive order of October 17, holds the lid down securof enough, but he also kicks the bottom out. By this new departure an officer or a employe in the classified service may be summarily dismissed ey the President or head of an executive department, for "inefficiency" or 'incapacity." That is, the knocking of the bottom out. But vacancies are to be filled by drafts from the eligible lists made up by the civil service commission. That is the holding down of The order continues: "When misonduct is committed in the view and presence of the President or head of executive department, removal may be made summarily and without notice." And that necessarily makes the word misconduct" overwhelmingly important, what is misconduct? There ere as many different definitions of the word as there are different tempers and different opinions among men. Eugene Higgins, when he was a political magnate of the first Cleveland administration, held that to adhere to the Republican party was gross misconduct on the part of a clerk or employe of the treasury department, while your Mugwump hold that to be a spoilsman is conduct outrageously unbecoming.

Now, all of us are ready to admit that a civil service reform administraant that we fear will wound him tion can administer the civil service Lestiny, and that the great Nim-October 17 in letter at the same time. pose a disreputable administration gry and very thirsty, believing with the thirty-nine electoral votes of the sort of administration and this execu master any better than his live order of October 17 at the same Republicans in it?

The littlest thing is the world would be magnified into the biggest sorts of what is all this purchase worth. misconduct—the way an employe parta cigarette or bit a sandwich. Any so enormous as to merit dismissal.

But unless the Democratic party mends its manners it is going to be a long time between Eugene Higginses in seats of the mighty, and as we have a thoroughly civil service reform adporting ships. Our territory ministration there is not the slightest hold all the civil service reform necessary, even though the bottom is knock-
