ADA WALKER'S BRIEF CAREER

SHE CAME TO TOWN AND CELEBRATED BY DRINKING MEANWHISKEY AND GETTING ON A TEAR.

Her name is Ada Walker, colored and she hails from the good town of Creswell. It is a far cry from that village to the police court in Elizabeth City, but Ada made the trip and made it with distinction.

She came up Saturday bent on having a good time and she proceeded to do so.

The first step was to tank up on mean whiskey, brought (so she said) from her native heath. The liquid was of an especially strong and fiery brand and the continuous copious deughts which Ada took went to her head. She grew good-humored. She became jovial. The world appeared tinted with rosyate hues. So pleasing was the prospect that she became hilarious, even boisterous, and gave expression to her pent-up emotion in loud, long drawn out profanity that made the atmosphere blue for blocks around. She swore no delicate lady-like oaths, but large mouth-filling ones that would have unloaded the heart of a sailor.

A disturbing element appeared upon the scene in the form of Chief Bell, who took a hand in the proceedings. The hand of the a wwas laid upon Ada and she was escorted to the lock-up where she spent the night and the Sabbath day in quite meditation on the ways of the world.

She appeared before Mayor Leigh in Tribulation Hall this morning a wiser, but seemingly not a whit sadder person. She was ar aligned on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. In response to Mayor Leigh's query, she said she reckoned she must be guilty. Chief Bell reckoned so too and gave the court an account of Ada's actions. She cussed and swore boisterously and indulged in vulgar language upon the city streets. When arrested she seemed disinclined to go and was rather violent in her protestations, both verbal and physical. In fact, she was so much so that she had to be tied in the buggy; and then she resorted to the last trick of her kind and tried to bite the officer.

For all this wickedness, Mayor Leigh imposed a fine of $5.00 and cost, the whole amounting to $7.70. She said she didn't want to part with the money, though she wished it understood that she had plenty of it. Rather than pay it over she would "do time", she said. These being her sentiments she was left in the custody of Chief Bell, with instructions to turn her over to Capt. Massey's brigade if the money was not forthcoming.

MERELY SOCIAL ANDREWS SAYS

DENIES RUMOR THAT N. & S. IS TO BE ACQUIRED BY SOUTHERN RAILWAY—HIS A PLEASURE TRIP.

A statement is given out from Raleigh which denies the report which has been circulated in some quarters in regard to the recent visit of Col. A. B. Andrews to this section. A great many people said that the Southern Railway of which Andrews is first vice president, had designs on the Norfolk and Southern and that he went over the line with this view. The rumor was printed for what it was worth in the Economist and the State papers.

Col. Andrews gave to a reporter a statement which says that there is nothing in this rumor, that he simply took a trip over the line in fulfilling a promise made some time ago to General Manager Gannon. He says that his visit was purely social.

For constipation, sick headache, dizziness and all Liver troubles, use Brown's Little Liver Pills. For sale and guaranteed by Albemarle Pharmacy, corner Main and Road streets.

Citizens Complain Of Disturbances

The few citizens who have been compelled by force of circumstances to spend much time on Water street during the past few nights are very loud in their complaints of disturbances created in that neighborhood. They say that for several nights it has been almost impossible to sleep until a late hour owing to carousals which take place there. Recently several negroes got into a mixup about midnight and made the air thick with their unearthly noises. At another time a party of white men made as much if not more noise, disturbing the peace and quiet of the community to no small degree.

Those who have had to suffer these things express the hope that the police will spend more time on this street and try to clarify the atmosphere.

If your glasses need straightening step in and let me do it for you. Only a minute's work that will save you weeks of worry. Dr. J. D. Hathaway, Optician.

The O. B. S. Class gave a very enjoyable party at the home of Miss Sadie Fearing on Lawrence St. Friday night between the hours of 8 and 11. A large number of young people responded to the invitations and it was an evening of pleasure for all.

After indulging in various games, the crowd proceeded to the dining room, where a principal part of the program was awaiting them.

After several songs by the young ladies the party took their leave, expressing their opinion of the evening in very favorable terms.

Those present were Misses Kate Reid, Annie Woodley, Louise Hall, Lell Beveridge, Edna Tyer, Kate Banks, Julia Wood, Marion Smith of Anderson, S. C., Mabel Evans of Mantoo, Elizabeth Miller, Louise Mincent, of Baltimore and Mary Gilbert, Messrs. FARMER'S INSTITUTE.

Dr. Tait Butler Closes Successful Series in the West—Several Also Held in Eastern Counties.

Raleigh, N. C., August 13 1906.

Dr. Tait Butler, State Veterinarian has returned from the western part of the State, having finished the summer series of farmers' institutes in Western Carolina. Every western county and several in the East have been visited.

The interest in the work has been every where increased, and its value cannot be estimated. Its strongest features is that nothing is told at an institute that the man telling it has not done himself.

All over the world, and especially in the United States, there are being maintained experiment stations and test farms for finding out new facts in agriculture. There are two ways of carrying these facts to farmers. One is through bulletins, and the other is through farmers' institutes. The most effective way to tell a man anything is by word of mouth rather than through bulletins. After the farmers have heard the leaders in agricultural thought speak, having been in actual contact, they will read the articles those in experimental work write with more interest and greater understanding having confidence in them and faith in their work.

The institutes bring together the farmers in a community engaged in growing similar crops, having similar problems to overcome and the same difficulties to meet, and the institute enables them to discuss the matters and assist one another by relating their individual experiences.

In these institutes the practices recommended or suggested are entirely practicable, because those making them have not only actual done the things themselves, but because there are hundreds of farmers throughout the State doing the same thing successfully at the present time. What the institute aims at is to present the best methods of the best farmers.

TO EXHIBIT PRODUCTS OF SOUTH

THE SOUTHERN RAILWAY HAS SCHEME FOR DEVELOPMENT OF TERRITORY THROUGH WHICH IT RUNS. TO ADVANTAGE IN NORTH.

(Special Correspondence.)

Washington, Aug. 13.—The Land and Industrial Department of the Southern Railway is preparing to render a most valuable service to the Southern States through which the company's lines run, a service that will cost the company many thousands of dollars. The company's plan is to place on exhibition at fairs and expositions in Northern States this fall products of the farms, forests, factories, mines, and orchards of the South. These exhibitions will be in charge of trained agents who will explain to visitors just what is produced in each section of the South, how much per acre, the climate, character of the soil, etc. Thousands of pieces of literature on Southern Industries will be distributed at these fairs. The agents of the railway company will personally explain to Northern immigrants just what can be produced in each locality, and will endeavor to select the very best labor for each section. Special attention will be given to agriculture, lumber, truck-growing, and the cotton milling industry. Southern railway officials are confident that this plan will lead honest and thrifty workmen to make that section their home. The products of Southern orchards will be displayed in large glass jars. Specimens of Southern lumber, minerals, and factory products will be exhibited and thoroughly explained. This is a new venture on the part of the Southern Railway Company, and the officials of the company feel certain that splendid results will be accomplished.

From the grain fields of the West comes the cry for more laborers, and in spite of wages running from $1.75 to $3.00 per day, including board, the cry remains pretty much unanswered. The Northern Pacific Railroad advertised a few days ago for 6,000 men to work in the fields along its lines, but not more than 100 men answered the appeal. The "Soo" Line has a standing advertisement for 12,665 men, and conditions along other roads in the grain country are similar. There is also a great demand for laborers in the cotton fields of the South, but the supply is very limited according to reports. So serious has the labor situation become that all of the great railway system of the country are putting forth unusual efforts to supply the demand for labor in their respective sections.

Cotton brokers in the East report partly boll weevil in Louisiana and Texas, as well as shedding and rust caused by excessive heat on the tender plant; but on the whole conditions are pictured as favorable. One writer and close student of the cotton situation says that only about 10 per cent of the crop is suffering from damage by bad weather, while ninety per cent has been helped, but fortune develops in the next few weeks must show more clearly true conditions. Trade is very light and the public seems to be waiting for more satisfactory developments as to crop conditions. Sentiment seems to be bearish, with a disposition to sell on any advance rather than to buy on decline.

The officials of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, located in this city, are working night and day to achieve victory at the polls in November next. Chairman Griggs, Vice-Chairman Bowers and Secretary Edwards have their forces well in hand and every effort is being put forth to bring the voter to a realization of the political situation and to convince him that the time has arrived again when the Government should be entrusted to the care of the Democratic party.

The officials say that reports from the Middle West are most encouraging, especially those coming from Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. In these States every Democrat is shouting for Bryan, and county campaign managers report that the independent voter is flocking to Democracy's standard in a manner that leaves no doubt as to the outcome of the campaign.

Some Elizabeth City People Have Learned How to Get Rid of Both.

Backache and kidney ache are twin brothers. You can't separate them. And you can't get rid of the backache until you cure the kidney ache. If the kidneys are well and strong, the rest of the system is pretty sure to be in vigorous health.

Doan's Kidney Pills make strong, healthy kidneys. E. N. Holland, 595 South St., Portsmouth, Va., employed in the navy yard, says:—"I suffered for a long time with symptoms of the kidney trouble. There was a dull aching pain in the small of my back and other indications of this complaint. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills so highly recommended for such ailment, I got a box. I had used only part of the contents of one package before the backache disappeared. I gave the remainder of the box to a person whom I heard had disappeared. I gave the remainder found relief."
