Visitors to the Fair!

Visitors to the Fair, from Cumberland and all the surrounding counties, are cordially invited to call at the SUN Office, Excelsior Printing Company Building, on Person Street, and get a copy of the Sun, on Tuesday afternoon, 6th inst., between the hours of 41/4 and 61% o'clock, giving a full programme of the three following days of the Fair:

The races: the hour of meeting of the different committees; the entertainments for the different evenings, etc. Come one and all. The Sun Office will be glad to see you, and the mailing clerk will hand you a freshly printed paper, with all the late news, up to the hour of going to press.

The Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court of the State of North Carolina convened last Monday. We will give the proceedings from week to week.

Should Wafch as well as Pray.

An exchange says: "Chaplain Keeling, while engaged in prayer at the session of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives on Wednesday, was robbed of his gold-headed cane."

To Advertisers!

Remember, advertisers, that the Sun. with a large edition, will be issued on Wednesday morning of Fair Week, and will be in the hands of every stranger in town as well as of regular subscribers. Next week is the time to advertise!

To the Friends and Patrons of "The Sun."

There could be no better time than Fair Week to come in and renew your subscriptions to the Sun.' The Sun office open from sunrise to sunset, during Fair Week, on Person Street, or you will find the Editor or Agent on the Fair Grounds.

Subscribe to "The Sun."

Those who have received specimens, or who have seen copies of the Sun, can show their appreciation of it during Fair Week by subscribing for one year, $1.50; or for six months. 75 cts. We wish to add 250 subscribers to our list during the week of the Fair.

Temperance.

On Wednesday evening the District Council of Friends of Temperance will meet with Perseverance Council in Fayetteville, Wednesday, Nov. 7th. Rev. Roger Martin will deliver a public Lecture on Thursday evening, Nov. 8th. Due public notice will be given of the time and place of lecture.

New Band.

We are glad to learn that some of our young men have organized a string band. The leader, Mr. Joseph Ivey, a neighbor, says he will be prepared to furnish good music throughout the season of winter to the dancing young people of our community. The members are: Messrs. Joseph Ivey, Henry Ingram, Hugh Carter, Wilbur Clark.

The Luscious Oyster.

Messrs. Singleton & McAnge, through their agent, Mr. G. W. Lake, announce to their customers that they have conquered the adverse elements of the briny deep, and will offer to their customters the toothsome bivalve in perfection. If you want a delicious treat for your country guests during fair week, or the material for a "stag" supper when you are sitting up for the train on Saturday night, or a breakfast to make the children happy on Sunday morning-give Lake your order. Special Trains Next Week.

For the accommodation of persons living beyond Sanford and along the Raleigh & Augusta Air-Line R. R., who desire to visit the Cumberland Fair next week, there will be a special train down from Sanford on Wednesday night, the 7th, after the arrival of the train from Raleigh; and a special train will leave Favetteville for Sanford at ber 10th, connecting with the Raleigh & Augusta A. L. train to Raleigh.

There will also be a freight train, with passenger car attached, leaving Ore Hill for Fayetteville on Wednesday morning, 7th, at 10 o'clock.

Fair Excursion Trains.

The C. F. &. Y. V. R. R. will run the following excursion schedule for the convenience of visitors to the Cumberland Fair: On Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, tickets good to return till Friday, 9th, will be sold as follows, including one Amusements.

During Fair Week, we are glad to note, there will be two dances, which our young folks may be assured will be pleasant. Our community has an enviable and merited reputation for these pleasant entertainments, and we hope, especially, that our stranger visitors will enjoy them. Favetteville Hall, Wednesday evening, at 81/2 p. m. Williams Hall, Friday evening, 81/4

Both balls are given by the young men of Favetteville. No invitations will be issued to ladies. Gentlemen will provide themselves with admission tickets. Committee: H. McD. Robinson, Dr. T. M. Hunter, Capt. W. F. Campbell, Jno. R. Myrover, Capt. Jno. B. Broadfoot.

The Graded School.

Last Monday those departments of the Favetteville Graded School, which have for some time been occupying a portion of the Female Seminary build- hope may be continued till the bones of ing, were removed to the new edifice on every North Carolina soldier now rest-Haymount, and are now comfortably installed in the different rooms of their new quarters. The new building is warmed by a large heater which will regulate the temperature throughout the whole structure, and do away with much trouble and inconvenienec in fuel, besides lessening the risk by fire.

In this connection, it gives us pleasure to speak in commendatory terms of the excellence of the Graded School, as evinced so far in its fall session. The attendance is large, and both teachers and pupils seem determined to keep the institution up to its high standard.

List of Letters.

Below we give a list of last week's letters remaining uncalled for in the Favetteville Post-office. Persons asking for any of these letters will please say, Advertised.

·Pounding."

Quite a pleasant gathering of friends met at the residence of Mrs. W. B. Hollingsworth on Wednesday evening, 24th inst., to give some manifestation of their kindly feeling and sympathy for the bereaved family and children as well as for the departed husband. Contributions of all kinds, delivered in person, or sent by generous hands, were received in profusion—for all of which the recipient tenders the most grateful appreciation.

This handsome compliment was made under the auspices of the Baptist Congregation, and met with a heartfelt response.

Important to Exhibitors.

Exhibitors shipping articles for the Cumberland Fair over the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley R. R., will do well to note the following: The regular rates for freight will be charged on all articles intended for exhibition. They will be returned over the road free of charge, and when reshipped the money collected for the freight down will be refunded on certificate from the Secretary of the Society that the articles in question were regularly exhibited at the fair. All articles intended for exhibition must be shipped on or before Tuesday, the 6th of November, and none of them will be returned over the road until Nov. 10th.

A Pleasant Entertainment.

"Looker-On" gives us the following pleasant and interesting notice of an entertainment giventby Mr. H. McD. Robinson at the Fayetteville Hotel, last Saturday night;

Our young, talented and very social friend, H. McD. Robinson, again gave a number of his friends—including the dignified bachelors and many of the most fashionable beaux in town—quite a fete at the Fayetteville Hotel on Sat-urday night last. It was a matter of dispute among the celebrated Epicure-3 o'clock on Saturday morning, Novem- ans present whether the oysters or the 'possums were the best cooked. The supper was creditable alike to the taste of "mine host" of the hotel and the gentleman who conceived the idea of giving the first "stag" party of the season. The question is still unsolved as to who will give the next.

It was a very enjoyable affair, and the writer hopes that the example of our young and generous friend will awake to action some other generous Ep-

The Case of McBonald.

The jury of inquest, in the case of Thos. McDonald, run over by an engine on the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley R. R., on the night of the 19th inst., after its adjournment on last Friday, met on Monday, 29th inst., composed as follows: Dr. J. W. McNeill, Coroner: Jury-Capt. S. C. Rankin, foreman; W. H. Tomlinson, H. O. Sedberry, A. M. Campbell, Jr., R. F. Peterson, E. M. Waddill. The jury's verdict was as follows:

"That Thos McDonald came to his death by being accidentally run over by an engine on the C. F. &. Y. V. R. R." The evidence exonerates the railroad and its employes. It finds no care-lessness on the part of the engineer, who was not, as charged, running against orders. His death was solely caused by his getting his foot fastened between the rail and a plank on the trestle at the water tank, causing him to fall in such a manner that the engineer could not see him.

A Generous Subscription.

The Raleigh News-Observer of Thursday, 25th inst., publishes the following letter from Maj. A. A. McKethan, in behalf of the Independent Company making the liberal subscription of $100 to the Ladies' Memorial Association of Raleigh, to assist in defraying the expenses of removing the Arlington Confederate Dead; Mrs. R. H. Jones, President of the Ladies' Memorial Association: DEAR MADAM: I am instructed by my command, after thanking you for the honor conferred in our selection as escort to the Arlington Dead, to remit you the within check for $100 as our mite toward defraying the expense of this grand and noble work, which we ing in other States may be deposited in our good old State. Again thanking you for the honor conferred on us, and the interest taken in behalf of our noble dead. I am, with much respect, your obedient servant. A. A. McKethan, Jr., Major Comm'dg F. I. L. I.

Marshals for the Fair.

Serious Accident.

We regret to learn of the serious accident befalling Mr. Arch, McMillan, of Manly, at Cary, on the 23rd inst. Being off the cars at the hotel for a few minutes, the train moved forward for a short distance, when he, with others, rushed forward to board the cars: and by some means he was thrown down and the car-wheel caught his foot, crushing it almost to pieces.
