IS PROSPECT OF WAR WITH JAPAN.

Speaking before the Illinois Legislature, Senator J. Ham. Lewis...

Senator Lewis declared that Mexico, Central and South America were making combinations and alliances against the United States...

He said it was the result of our late course of unnecessarily meddling at the direction of stock speculators into the private and financial affairs of foreign lands.

Senator Lewis' address was delivered before the Legislature on the occasion of the hundredth anniversary of the birth of Stephen A. Douglas.

Referring to the United States Senate in the days of Douglas, Trumbull, Webster and Clay, compared with the present estimate, Senator Lewis said:

"In those days the United States senate, in the influencing of opinion of the American citizen, was the most powerful legislative body in the world; but in affecting the market rates of stock speculation it was of little consideration, as it should have been. The reverse is seen in the present day. In matters of finance and stock market gambling the United States Senate is the most potent, in its least expression of legislation, of all tribunals. But such has been its course in later days that in the influencing of political opinions of the citizens, the United States Senate of today is the least potent of any legislative body in the world."

Senator Douglas had as his political life theme, the establishment of home rule, or self government in each State, or political division, and that to preserve in all matters of home local autonomy, would not conflict with the constitution of the United States.

NURSE IS VICTIM OF SPEEDING CAR.

Young Lady of Charlotte Dies Without Regaining Consciousness After Being Struck.

Charlotte, April 23.—Miss Annie King, a trained nurse, was run over and fatally injured by an automobile this afternoon by Lemuel Houston, machinist for The Observer, who is said to have been going beyond the speed limit at the time of the accident.

The young lady was carried to the Presbyterian hospital, where she died without having regained consciousness while on the operating table.

Houston is very popular and has always been considered a careful driver. He was arrested and bailed in the sum of $5,000 for his appearance before Recorder Hamilton Jones Saturday morning. Friends immediately went on his bond.

Accounts of the tragedy vary. Some state that Houston was racing with one of the auto fire trucks and that he was unable to stop or turn aside when the young lady alighted from a street car and stepped directly in front of the machine.

Others state that he was not racing with the truck but that she stepped off the car directly in front of the automobile.

In attempting to avoid the collision, Houston badly wrecked his car by contact with a telegraph pole. The young lady suffered a fractured skull, broken arm and broken leg and internal injuries.

Strike at Holt-Morgan.

Some days ago about sixty of the seventy weavers at the Holt-Morgan Mills asked for a raise of five cents on the cut of cloth. The management declined to make the advance and a large number of the men went out. Some few have left town and about half of the strikers have gone back to work, and the management hopes to be running all the looms next week.

The strikers have been perfectly quiet and peaceable and no trouble is anticipated. The State papers say 250 men are out, but this is a mistake. The mill only employs about 70 weavers in all. None of the other mills in Fayetteville are affected.

DISTRICT MEETING OF U. D. C.

District meeting of the United Daughters of the Confederacy met at the civic library last Saturday. The director of the district, Mrs. J. H. Currie, of Fayetteville, presided, and Mrs. Har'oe Townsend, of J. E. B. Stuart Chapter, was secretary.

Mrs. N. H. Smith, president of J. E. B. Stuart Chapter, delivered an address of welcome, after which "Dixie" was sung, and refreshments were served.

The following chapters were represented: Averysboro Mrs. D. L. McBryde, of Linden.

Raeford—Mrs. W. T. Covington; Lumberton—Mrs. E. R. Proctor; Maxton—Mrs. L. McKinnon; Fayetteville—Members of J. E. B. Stuart Chapter.

The director explained the object of the meeting, and read the State president's letter to the chapters of the district.

Mrs. Hunter G. Smith made a report on the Home for veterans' widows Mrs. Smith is State chairman for that work.

The reports from the different chapters were read.

Mrs. J. M. Worth read a paper on the Confederate monument in old Cross Creek cemetery. A communication as to the educational fund, from the State president, Mrs. Marshall Williams, of Faison, was read.

Mrs. N. A. Sinclair urged care in the admission of new members to chapters.

Mrs. Kate Matthews, director of the Children's J. E. B. Stuart Chapter, gave an account of the work done by them during the year.

Mrs. J. H. Currie, the director, read some very interesting extracts including an appeal to chapter historians to do more work along this line.

Little Nellie Irvin recited admirably during the meeting music was delightfully rendered by Misses McArthur and Nolley. The refreshments which were delicious, were served by the Woman's Civic Association under the direction of Mrs. W. F. Blount.

After the meeting, the museum of J. E. B. Stuart Chapter was thrown open and inspected by the visiting delegates.

CHURCHES MAKE PRAYER FOR CHINESE REPUBLIC.

Response Was in Connection With Worldwide Movement to Hood Appeal From the New Government.

New York, April 27.—Churches in this city and throughout the country joined today the Christian churches of China in praying for that Nation as requested by the present Chinese authorities.

The response here was in connection with a world-wide movement to heed the appeal from the new Republic said to be the first that ever came to Christian forces from a non-Christian land.

Points specified by China as being subjects for petitions were the Chinese people, the President to be chosen, the Constitution and its making and clean men wisely selected for members of Congress.

To this, in this country, petitions were added that Christians of American birth now in China may act wisely toward that country and that Christians in America may be liberal with money and tolerant in spirit.

Episcopal, Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian and other mission boards appealed to their respective churches to observe today in such petitions, Bishop Greer prepared a prayer which was used in all Episcopal churches in New York and Presbyterians prepared another which was said to concert at a union service held this afternoon at the brick church on Fifth avenue, where the address was given by the pastor, Rev. Dr. William P. Merrill.

Lower Cumberland Dots.

Graded School Trustees Nominating.

There was a mass meeting at the mayor's office last Friday night for the purpose of nominating trustees for the graded schools.

The following nominations were made: J. W. Judge, for the second ward, instead of Mr. Q. E. Nimocks, who refused to stand for re-nomination; Dr. J. W. McNeill, third ward; Mr. J. A. Klug, fourth ward, and Mr. N. J. Bell, for the sixth.

Dr. R. T. Vaan Lectures.

Dr. R. T. Vaan lectured last night at the auditorium of the High School building. He was introduced by Mr. J. A. Gates, who announced that a full lecture course has been arranged for next year by distinguished speakers.

Dr. Vaan's subject was "Education," which he subdivided into three parts—"B. B. B.", or bricks, brains and books. He spoke over an hour and his hearers were delighted and punctuated his speech with applause.

He was humorous, instructive and serious. He likened the mind to a great concrete structure. It is necessary to build the scaffold first, stand upon the true foundation is language, and the scaffold must be from Cicero, Virgil and other famous writers.

When the building is complete the scaffolding can be torn away leaving only the beautiful and symmetrical building. Books, he said, were the great force in education, to these he added newspapers, which are embryo books.

He said the men who made Greece and Rome famous were not the warriors and orators, but the writers, who have enshrined the burning words of eloquence, the noble deeds of daring, the learning of philosophers and the success of statesmen, and handed them down to bless and instruct posterity.

It was an eloquent appeal for education, which he said could only be attained by contact with the master minds of books and great writers.

Invincible Lumber Bridge.

The team of the Lumber Bridge Company, N. C. N. G., again carried off the honors at the target practice of the Second Regiment at Goldsboro last week. Ex-Sheriff Hall of the team got seven successive bulls' eyes at a range of 600 yards, and before he finished his ten shots, he got another. The other men on the team came across with their usual scores. There is no use talking, it is absolutely impossible to beat Lumber Bridge at target firing and the people down here are by no means behind in other ways. We are glad that we live near Lumber Bridge.—Fayetteville-Observer.

at Fire Truck.

The ... of a fire truck is here, and some of the boys have designated it as a thing of beauty and a joy-never-it-made-by-the-Seagrave-company of Columbus, Ohio, and is about two thirds the length of an ordinary freight car, shaking the sidewalk as it passes by. It is being driven through all sorts of tests by Chief J. D. McNeill and Mr. Burton, the expert machinist and demonstrator.

Mayor Underwood and Mr. John R. Taylor were among the first to take a little spin in it, and from the speed it has been making on Hay street the boys should be satisfied with this part of it. It costs $4,800, and has the weight and capacity to climb a telegraph pole like a scared boy going through a briar patch.

Mayor Underwood and the firemen are welcome to all the rides they get out of that thing as long as an expert handles it.

Another Merchant.

Mr. K. Stein, who has had charge of the Sanford branch of Stein Bros' clothing business, has moved here and will occupy the Folb house on Dick street. The Folb house has been newly painted and is one of the best streets in the city.

Stein Bros have a men's furnishing establishment on Person street, and some time ago bought the stock of goods belonging to J. L. Kennedy on Hay street, where they will carry a general line of dress goods and women's ready-to-wear. K. Stein will have charge of the Hay street store which is one of the best business places on the street.

TO THE SHOPPER.

Frank Thornton has put on his ten days' sale, and it may be of value to the shoppers to see what the offers in this week's Index. The firm is not only one of the oldest, but one of the largest in the State. Goods can be sold just as cheap in Fayetteville as anywhere, and the readers of The Index will be able to pick up rare bargains by watching our advertising columns. All live merchants advertise, and if you fail to find a Fayetteville merchant's name in this paper, you can put him down as a dead one. When you want anything, try those who advertise in The Index. It will pay you as well as the merchant.
