Young Emperor Faces Crisis.

London, June 29.—The youthful emperor of Austro-Hungary was confronted today with his most difficult task as a ruler since assuming the throne. The entire Austrian cabinet headed by Count Clam-Martinic, resigned late yesterday.

Formal announcement by the Poles that they would refuse to deal with Clam-Martinic's ministry was directly responsible for the resignations of those advisors. The Slavic parties have been anti-government and with defection of the Poles, the anti-furors held a majority in the Reichstag.

Judging from the cautious comment of the German press on the ministry's fall, the Germans regard the situation as grave.

Transporting To Be Secret

Washington, June 29.—The nature, number and time of departure of forthcoming expeditionary units will be disclosed carefully by the war department. Names of transport ships will be withheld and the department will especially guard against naming higher officers, inasmuch as this would indicate the strength of the command to be dispatched.

Washington, June 29 Starting conditions of immorality at Newport were called to the attention of the governor of Rhode Island by Secretary Daniels today, because of their effect on men in the naval training station there.
