

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Mr. Jno. R. Spearman is our authorized traveling agent for subscriptions and notices...

Northern Political Leaders and the Northern People.

We venture to assert, by the aid of judgment which we confess to be very fallible and liable to error...

At the close of the war, the Northern people had become wrought up to such a state of desperation and desperation by the magnitude of the conflict...

The grand rebellion which lasted over the "ninety days"—at which period it was to have been crushed...

But now we have already said, great interest was felt to know of the moral and social effect of the war...

It is this course of procedure necessitated the total ruin of the South—very well; let it be, it was deserved...

A military dictator, treating the South as a conquered province, submitting every thing to the arbitration of superior force...

But narrow-minded politicians, declaring throughout that the war was waged solely for the restoration of the Union...

The Northern people—some of them, with an affectation which is very apparent, and shows their bad taste and invidiousity...

Now, however much our remarks above may bear the tone of levity, we speak in sober earnest...

Demoralized by the War. During the recent great civil struggle through which we have passed...

There was one influence that is as essential and grateful to mankind, and at the same time as quiet and unobtrusive as the dew that falls from Heaven...

Man cannot pursue his visions of honor, his schemes of ambition and happiness, without the thrill of woman's voice, the magic of woman's presence...

NATIONALITY OF EMIGRANTS.—The following is a statement of the emigrants arriving at New York during 1866...

THE IMPROVEMENT. The following from one of Forney's last letters, indicates that the fringes of the impeachment gun are terrified at the echo...

THE ENGLISH INTEREST IN THE SOUTH.—The English capital and English commercial interests have already since the close of the war...

THE IMPROVEMENT. The following from one of Forney's last letters, indicates that the fringes of the impeachment gun are terrified at the echo...

THE IMPROVEMENT. The following from one of Forney's last letters, indicates that the fringes of the impeachment gun are terrified at the echo...

er world. So it has ever been, and so it will ever be. From the cradle, who, the first tint of dawn falls upon the upturned face, even to the tomb...

What shall we call that state of society where, through the crowd and din and bustle of Broadway, a fair creature, showing the means and appliances of wealth and luxury on her person...

The demoralization of prosperity and very unduly acquired riches—the demoralization of poverty and ruin. Here are the two pictures—compare them, and judge for yourselves.

But now we have already said, great interest was felt to know of the moral and social effect of the war...

It is this course of procedure necessitated the total ruin of the South—very well; let it be, it was deserved...

A military dictator, treating the South as a conquered province, submitting every thing to the arbitration of superior force...

But narrow-minded politicians, declaring throughout that the war was waged solely for the restoration of the Union...

The Northern people—some of them, with an affectation which is very apparent, and shows their bad taste and invidiousity...

Now, however much our remarks above may bear the tone of levity, we speak in sober earnest...

Demoralized by the War. During the recent great civil struggle through which we have passed...

There was one influence that is as essential and grateful to mankind, and at the same time as quiet and unobtrusive as the dew that falls from Heaven...

Man cannot pursue his visions of honor, his schemes of ambition and happiness, without the thrill of woman's voice, the magic of woman's presence...

NATIONALITY OF EMIGRANTS.—The following is a statement of the emigrants arriving at New York during 1866...

THE IMPROVEMENT. The following from one of Forney's last letters, indicates that the fringes of the impeachment gun are terrified at the echo...

THE ENGLISH INTEREST IN THE SOUTH.—The English capital and English commercial interests have already since the close of the war...

THE IMPROVEMENT. The following from one of Forney's last letters, indicates that the fringes of the impeachment gun are terrified at the echo...

THE IMPROVEMENT. The following from one of Forney's last letters, indicates that the fringes of the impeachment gun are terrified at the echo...

THE IMPROVEMENT. The following from one of Forney's last letters, indicates that the fringes of the impeachment gun are terrified at the echo...

THE IMPROVEMENT. The following from one of Forney's last letters, indicates that the fringes of the impeachment gun are terrified at the echo...

er world. So it has ever been, and so it will ever be. From the cradle, who, the first tint of dawn falls upon the upturned face, even to the tomb...

What shall we call that state of society where, through the crowd and din and bustle of Broadway, a fair creature, showing the means and appliances of wealth and luxury on her person...

The demoralization of prosperity and very unduly acquired riches—the demoralization of poverty and ruin. Here are the two pictures—compare them, and judge for yourselves.

But now we have already said, great interest was felt to know of the moral and social effect of the war...

It is this course of procedure necessitated the total ruin of the South—very well; let it be, it was deserved...

A military dictator, treating the South as a conquered province, submitting every thing to the arbitration of superior force...

But narrow-minded politicians, declaring throughout that the war was waged solely for the restoration of the Union...

The Northern people—some of them, with an affectation which is very apparent, and shows their bad taste and invidiousity...

Now, however much our remarks above may bear the tone of levity, we speak in sober earnest...

Demoralized by the War. During the recent great civil struggle through which we have passed...

There was one influence that is as essential and grateful to mankind, and at the same time as quiet and unobtrusive as the dew that falls from Heaven...

Man cannot pursue his visions of honor, his schemes of ambition and happiness, without the thrill of woman's voice, the magic of woman's presence...

NATIONALITY OF EMIGRANTS.—The following is a statement of the emigrants arriving at New York during 1866...

THE IMPROVEMENT. The following from one of Forney's last letters, indicates that the fringes of the impeachment gun are terrified at the echo...

THE ENGLISH INTEREST IN THE SOUTH.—The English capital and English commercial interests have already since the close of the war...

THE IMPROVEMENT. The following from one of Forney's last letters, indicates that the fringes of the impeachment gun are terrified at the echo...

THE IMPROVEMENT. The following from one of Forney's last letters, indicates that the fringes of the impeachment gun are terrified at the echo...

THE IMPROVEMENT. The following from one of Forney's last letters, indicates that the fringes of the impeachment gun are terrified at the echo...

THE IMPROVEMENT. The following from one of Forney's last letters, indicates that the fringes of the impeachment gun are terrified at the echo...

er world. So it has ever been, and so it will ever be. From the cradle, who, the first tint of dawn falls upon the upturned face, even to the tomb...

What shall we call that state of society where, through the crowd and din and bustle of Broadway, a fair creature, showing the means and appliances of wealth and luxury on her person...

The demoralization of prosperity and very unduly acquired riches—the demoralization of poverty and ruin. Here are the two pictures—compare them, and judge for yourselves.

But now we have already said, great interest was felt to know of the moral and social effect of the war...

It is this course of procedure necessitated the total ruin of the South—very well; let it be, it was deserved...

A military dictator, treating the South as a conquered province, submitting every thing to the arbitration of superior force...

But narrow-minded politicians, declaring throughout that the war was waged solely for the restoration of the Union...

The Northern people—some of them, with an affectation which is very apparent, and shows their bad taste and invidiousity...

Now, however much our remarks above may bear the tone of levity, we speak in sober earnest...

Demoralized by the War. During the recent great civil struggle through which we have passed...

There was one influence that is as essential and grateful to mankind, and at the same time as quiet and unobtrusive as the dew that falls from Heaven...

Man cannot pursue his visions of honor, his schemes of ambition and happiness, without the thrill of woman's voice, the magic of woman's presence...

NATIONALITY OF EMIGRANTS.—The following is a statement of the emigrants arriving at New York during 1866...

THE IMPROVEMENT. The following from one of Forney's last letters, indicates that the fringes of the impeachment gun are terrified at the echo...

THE ENGLISH INTEREST IN THE SOUTH.—The English capital and English commercial interests have already since the close of the war...

THE IMPROVEMENT. The following from one of Forney's last letters, indicates that the fringes of the impeachment gun are terrified at the echo...

THE IMPROVEMENT. The following from one of Forney's last letters, indicates that the fringes of the impeachment gun are terrified at the echo...

THE IMPROVEMENT. The following from one of Forney's last letters, indicates that the fringes of the impeachment gun are terrified at the echo...

THE IMPROVEMENT. The following from one of Forney's last letters, indicates that the fringes of the impeachment gun are terrified at the echo...

SUMMARY OF NEWS.

CONGRESSIONAL. Washington, Jan. 15, P. M. SENATE.—The Chair laid before the Senate a communication from the Governor of South Carolina...

Mr. Howard called up the resolution, heretofore introduced by him, instructing the committee on Foreign Affairs to inquire into the present relations between France, Mexico and the United States...

The resolution was laid aside for the bill regulating the tenure of office, which was discussed to the time of adjournment.

HOCES.—Took up the bill for the admission of Nebraska. The Senate had inserted a condition to adjournment, that the word "white," in the Nebraska Constitution, should not discriminate against citizens on account of race or color.

Butwell moved to amend, substituting as a condition of ratification, "without distinction of color or race," in the bill. Mr. Davis, of N. Y., desired to know if Congress had the right to impose conditions upon a new State and to enforce those conditions, without the consent of the people.

Furness said Congress clearly had that right. It was a territory, and a territory a charter to become a State, and there was as much authority to impose a condition as to impose a condition on a territory, while it was a territory.

Wise, of Kentucky, and others, opposed the bill, saying that it was a violation of the Constitution. The bill for the admission of Colorado, with similar conditions precedent, passed by a vote of 90 to 58.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. SENATE.—House amendment to the Nebraska bill was passed by the Senate, and the bill was reported to the House. The probabilities are in favor of its passage.

Stevens' enabling act was taken up, and Bingham, of Ohio, took the floor in opposition.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16, P. M. SENATE.—Sumner presented eleven petitions from North Carolina negroes, favoring Stevens' bill. The bill for the admission of Nebraska and Colorado, with the House amendment, passed by a vote of 29 to 14, and now goes to the President.

HOCES.—The Judiciary Committee was instructed to report in reference to accommodations for the colored people of the District of Columbia. The bill for the admission of Colorado, with similar conditions precedent, passed by a vote of 90 to 58.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17, P. M. SENATE.—In Committee of the whole on the Appropriation Bill, an amendment, forbidding the exclusion of witnesses from the Court of Claims because of color or interest in the case, was adopted.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. SENATE.—A communication from Gov. Bramlett, of Kentucky, announcing the rejection of the constitutional amendment, which was laid on the table.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. SENATE.—The whole Pennsylvania delegation protested against Mr. Cowan's confirmation as Minister to Austria.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. SENATE.—The whole Pennsylvania delegation protested against Mr. Cowan's confirmation as Minister to Austria.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. SENATE.—The whole Pennsylvania delegation protested against Mr. Cowan's confirmation as Minister to Austria.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. SENATE.—The whole Pennsylvania delegation protested against Mr. Cowan's confirmation as Minister to Austria.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. SENATE.—The whole Pennsylvania delegation protested against Mr. Cowan's confirmation as Minister to Austria.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. SENATE.—The whole Pennsylvania delegation protested against Mr. Cowan's confirmation as Minister to Austria.

gaged in procuring evidence for the impeachment of the President. They have adopted a bill for reconstruction, which provides that the appointing power shall be vested in the President and the Senate...

It is said that the English mission will be tendered to David Dudley Field.

Markets and Financial. New York, Jan. 21, M. Flour quiet and steady. Pork steady; new mess $21.37; old $19.87.

Vienna, Jan. 17. The Press of this City, in an article this morning, states that large insurances had been made at Hamburg on the personal effects of Maximilian, which are to be shipped, per steamer Maria, to Regensburg.

New York, Jan. 17. Heavy Snow.—There is the heaviest snow here that has fallen in years. It is already a foot deep and still falling.

The delegates from New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore have been invited to attend a convention at St. Louis next month, for the consideration of measures of improvement on the Upper Mississippi river.

New Advertisements.

Mayor's Office, JANUARY 21, 1867. A. M. CAMPBELL, Town Clerk.

GRAIN AND FEED STORE, WILMINGTON, N. C., PRINCES, NEAR WATER ST.

THE undersigned keeps constantly on hand and for sale low: Corn, Oats, Peas, Meal, Hony, Racked Corn, Provender, Wheat Bran, Middlings.

COUNTY CLAIMS. PERSONS holding claims against the County of Cumberland, are hereby notified to file them with the Clerk of the county Court, before the 1st Feb'y next...

W. G. MATTHEWS, No. 58 & 60, HAY ST.

GARDEN SEEDS, (GROWTH OF 1866.) W. G. MATTHEWS, At 58 & 60 Hay Street, OFFERS FOR SALE CHEAP.

JUST RECEIVED AT THE "CROCKERY STORE," A LOT of those Beautiful Porcelain Steels; Fine A Ivory, Balance Handle, Table Knives, Brass and Iron Top; Shavers and Toiletry Articles; Sausage Grinders; Slop Tubs, &c., at Reduced Prices.

STOLEN! FROM the plantation of Geo. Bullard, in Cumberland Co., on the Clinton Road, a deep SORREL MULE, small star in the forehead—a little gray on the face—both fore-feet split. The mule is about 15 or 16 years old, and about 15 hands high. A liberal reward will be paid for the recovery of the mule.

LIME! FRESH LOTS received each week and for sale by E. P. POWERS & CO. Jan. 22

QUEEN OF THE SOUTH! ONLY ONE BOX of that choice brand just received. I want to buy immediately 10 good young mules. W. C. FLOYD, Jan. 22

THE Southern Republican Association here are announced.

THE Southern Republican Association here are announced.