FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.

THURSDAY.....OCTOBER 6, 1887.

WE MUST STAND TOGETHER.

The Republican party makes a great hue and cry on account of the solid South, and questions our loyalty, impugus our motives on all occasions, and in every Republican convention their resolutions are bitter and full of hate. The hate is with them, not with us. We are for the Government, to be administered for the good of the people, they are for the spoils.

Ever since the war the people of the South have by every act manifested a desire to let bygones be bygones. It has endo this, it was and is, a necessity that Democrats fill the offices. The country holds the white people of the South responsible for every act, and especially for a just and equitable administration of her affairs. Experience has proved that to enif they again get into power there are other measures of greater weight that will be brought forward. Foremost, we believe is the question of mixed schools, and although the children of the wealthy may not be thus brought down, yet the poor Lungs, and friend and physicians pronounced laboring man, who has no means of edu- me an Incurable Consumptive. Began taking cating his children (who are as dear to Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, him as the rich man's are to him), and who am now on my third bottle, and able to overrelies upon the public school fund, will find, under Republican rule, that he must either let his children be raised in ignorance or go to school along with the colinduced to east his vote with a party who for the sake of elevating the negro, would degrade his child? We think not. Republicanism may do well enough for the North, but our climate does not suit it. who brag that they fought to defend it; and it is by our firmness in standing together in voting for the best men and right measures that the present prosperity of our

NEW YORK DEMOCRACY.

The Democratic Convention of New York, which recently assembled at Saratoga, was perfectly harmonious. It is, we all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, believe, the first time since the war that the or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give Democracy of that State have presented a perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price solid front on all issues, and the delegates, For Sale by B. E. Sedberry, Fayetteville, after making the nominations and adopting a platform perfectly plain, decided in its opinions and policy, one that can meet with little or no criticism, returned to their homes jubilant, feeling that the ticket nominated will be sure to carry the State. They have placed no man thereon who runs on the credit of his father. The platform is rather too long for us to publish, but we give elsewhere a meagre synopsis of it, and it will be seen that notwithstanding the opposition of the New York World and Sun, President Cleveland is heartily endorsed, and that his administration has received unqualified approval. Gov. Hill is with the Democracy, and will bide his time, and as he has filled the Gubernatorial chair made vacant by Cleveland, so at a future time, he will fill the Presidential

New York is the pivotal State; as she votes so goes the country, and it is gratifying to feel that the Democracy are now in line ready for the fight-to pave the way for a sure thing in 1888. The predictions are that the Democratic ticket will carry the State by 25,000 to 30,-000 majority, and thus keep the party in line for the great struggle.

The yacht Volunteer, has beaten the Scotch Thistle. So America takes the cup.

The newspapers are beginning to talk about a successor to our present excellent Executive. Fortunately we have abundant material for a score of good Governors. We see mentioned, Armfield, Dowd, Jarvis, Holt, Stedman, Saunders and Coke. To this list we add the name of H. R. Bryan, of Newbern. Of excellent family, of pure character, of fine personal appearance and physique, of high attainments and sound discretion, he posesses all the requisites of a Governor to ensure a wise, progressive and patriotic administration. To be sure of success we must have a strong man before the people. We confidently believe that Mr. Bryan would poll as large a vote as any one the Democrats could nominate. Perhaps Judge Gilmer has a stronger hold upon the people, but he is from the same town as Gov. Scales, and that perhaps would defeat him before the convention; and it is understood that he has no notion of allowing the use of his name. We would be glad to know that the people of North Carolina would have for the next term so good a Governor as Henry R. Bryan. - Pittsboro Home.

[While the OBSERVER is pleased to copy the above, and does not think the Home could say too much in praise of Mr. H. R. Bryan, yet our preference must be for the man named by the party in convention.]

ANDERSON - THOMAS, -In Washington City, on the 21st ult., DAVID MARSDEN ANDERson to Miss Dora Thomas, of Richmond, Va PARKS-COOK .- In Franklinville, N. C., Crockery and Glassware, on the 4th inst., Mr. HUGH PARKS to MISS Annie Cook, daughter of the late Jas. G. Cook, of this town.

SLOCOMB,-On Wednesday evening, Sep. tember 28th, Louise, daughter of Albert H. shall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in His bosom." We have here, from the pen of an inspired Prophet, a sweet picture of the gentle Shepherd of the souls of men. We d two years. see Him gathering in His loving arms the lambs of His flock, and bearing them away from this hard, cold earth to the green pastures and the still waters of Paradise. With tenderest love He folds them gently to His bosom, softly wiping from their eyes the tears of pain and sorrow which they have shed here below, that they may enter, in perfect peacer upon the joys of that blessed abode. So, in mercy has He taken to Himself the soul of this lovely innocent, while yet pure and undefiled by sin. Already has her sweet spirit tasted of the joys of Paradise, already has she taken her place among the great cloud of witnesses that encompass us around. There will she watch with loving eyes those who have been dear to her on earth, and whom for a brief season she has left behind, looking forward with eager longing to the day when they with her shall have their perfect consummation and bliss in the eternal glory of Heaven. AUTRY .- At the home of his parents, near AUTRY.—At the home of his parents, near Fayetteville, N. C., on the evening of the 28th of September. 1887, FESTUS CLYDE, third son of A. R. and Lizzie J. Autry, aged nine years. Little Clyde was a child of unusual promise, bright, intelligent and deeply affectionate. Among his last words were, "Lord, come take me away" Jesus, who said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me, for of such is the kingdom of God," heard him and took him in His arms, where he proceefully fell asleen. His arms, where he peacefully fell asleep.

The Socialists in New York city demand recognition as an independent party, and will hold a convention for the nomination of State officers. They say they can cut down George's vote to $26,000,

BEAUTIFUL NEW BOOKS.

The University Publishing Co., New York, are now publishing the neatest and most usedeavored to work only for the good of the ful sets of School Readers that have yet been country; to place men-men of character presented to the public. The generation of and brains-in all places of trust, and to school children now learning to read and use the English language properly are greatly favored above all others. Here are books filled with interesting and instructive articles and beautiful stories, printed with the blackest type upon the brightest paper, and embellished with the very finest engravings. What a contrast between these brilliant books and sure this the Demecrats, or white people of | those which we thumbed over in our boyhood the South, must rule. When Republicans The oldest of our readers, as well as the ruled in this State, the State and counties youngest, will be delighted in looking over all suffered; and to-day, although many these elegant volumes.
