The Raleigh News and Observer of today says of the nomination of Hop. C. C. Lyon in this city on Wednesday :

The nomination by acclamation of Hou. C. C. Lyon, of Bladen, for solic itor of the Seventh district, was a deserved honor. Upon the death of Boliciter Malean the Governor named his friend and countyman, Mr. Lyon, to succeed him. The appointment was everywhere applauded. Mr. Lyon has re than met high public expectation as his unanimous renomination shows. Mr. Lyon has been one of the most useful and efficient party leaders in the State. A BOLD GANG OF SNEAK THIEVES.

near Stedman on the 4th of July, in Nine More Robberies During Last

There were two more robberles in Fayetteville last week, evidently by the same gang that has already committed a dozen or more robberies in the last two weeks. One night they visited the residences of Alderman T. H. Maultsby, on B street, and Mr. John D. Williams, on St. James' Square. In each case they sawed the blinds to bed room windows, making a sufficient space through which to thrust an arm and abstract anything within reach.

At Mr. Maultsby's there were able to abstract his trousers, from which they took his pocketbook. The trousers and pocketbook with all its contents, save the money it contained, were found on the ground under the window this morning. The gang has in no case taken anything by which they might be connected with any robbery; money is all they touch.

At Mr. John D. Williams' Mr. Gordon Jessup, who was sleeping in one of the rooms, was awakened about 2 o'clock by a noise, and, looking up, saw a man's arm thrust through the window. He jumped up and looked out of the window in time to see three men, whom he thinks were white, disappear down the street.

Mayor McMillan has the entire police force at work on the case, besides he offers a reward of $25 for their apprehension.

LATER.

Since the above was written seven more attempts (some successful) at rob bery last night have been reported to the police. All were similar as to the methods adopted—the entting of the will in a few days award the contract stats in the blinds to bedroom windows, A Peculiar and Painful Accident. with attempts to fish out clothing. In no case was any attempt made to actually enter a house.

Mill Was Here Before Mill Will Be Here When the Town Aint. THE OLD RELIABLE

I know it counds strange for a man to ask his customers to give him a rest and trade elsewhere for a while. But really, the superiority of my goods, and the price at which I have been selling them, has created a demand for "Merchant Mills" products. That is far absad of my capacity to supply, &c.

In addition, the new crop of wheat is now being harvested, and will require the bulk of the time of the mill, night and day, to accommodate my patrons, many of whom come in wagons 15 to 30 miles to mill in order to get my O. K. FLOUR for their wheat.

I'll do my best to supply the best bread making material and high-grade feed stuffs to those who have so generously patronis: d me for the past 20 years.
