AN OLD CHURCH BELL

CAME FROM LISBON AND HANGS IN A NANTUCKET CHURCH.

The Story of Its Purchase by Captain Clarby and Its Transportation to This Country-A Very Good Clock and a Very Pine Bell,

Beneath the outlook in a Nantucket church is the beifry, in which swings the "old Spanish bell." Knowing that this is now a Unitarian church, the visltor will be surprised to see a Catholic cross on the bell. If he could read Por tuguese and had not previously acquainted himself with the history of the bell he would be still more surprised at the inscription on it. The translation of this inscription is as fol-Carolina. The question for Democrats lows: "To the Good Jesus of the Mountain the devotees of Lisbon direct their prayers, offering Him one complete set Dacosta has made it in Lisbon in the year 1810." Of course the bell must have an interesting history to account for this inscription. That history is briefly as follows:

A plague was ruging in Lisbon and certain people in that city prayed to the Virgin Mary for the cessation of the plague and vowed to place a set of ix bells in the Church of the Good Jesus of the Mountain if their prayers were heard. "The Mountain" is the same of a certain district in the city of Lisbon in which there is a very ven rable church called as above. Shortly ifter this the plague ceased, and, accenting this as the answer to their prayers, these devotees of Lisbon proseeded to fulfill their vows. The work of custing these six bells was intrusted o Jose Domingos Dacosta, the best bell founder in Liston.

The six bells had been cast, the mas ter's labors had been crowned with success, when Captain Clasby of the Nantucket whaling feet chanced to cisit Lisbon. He had long wished to buy a bell for use in his native town. In company with Captain Cary he visited the bell foundry of Jose Domingos Davosta. Captain Cary, it eems, was a connoisseur in bells. Da costa applied the lever to one bell after another as he struck each to ascertain its peculiar tone or tone quality, but each time Captain Cary said, "That will not do."

At last Dacosta raised and struck the bell whose history we are describing. Captain Cary was delighted with the result. "Ah, Clasby," he said, "you need look no further. That's the bell you want. She is a beauty. She sounds on B."

"Well, sir," remarked Dacosta, consider that to be the finest bell that we have in our foundry." At first Dacosta demurred and could not see his way clear to selling the bell, since it belonged to the set of chimes designed for the Church of the Good Jesus of the Mountain and was appropriately inscribed and all, but Captain Clasby would have no other. Finally Dacosta decided, since the bell had not yet been consecrated and since he could cast another to take its place, that it would be all right to sell.

So Captain Clasby bought the bell, home first. In Lisbon, just before he Isher had been at sen for some time and had not yet heard of the declara tion of war. "The commander asked Captain Cary the news, but Captain Cary says he took especial pains not to tell all he knew. If he had told, our precious bell would probably never have seen Nantucket. It might now be either at the bottom of the sea or it some English church. The bell was landed in Nantucket and placed in the store cellar of Samuel Cary, where it remained until 1815, when it was purchased and placed in the tower where it now lungs. About $500 was given for the bell-the society unid about $350 and the rest was raised by subscription. Even some Friends or Quakers subscribed.

After the bell had been in use a little while the agents of the historic Old Bouth church in Boston heard of it, and they sent a fetter to the agents of the South church in Nantucket, saying that they had a very good clock in their tower, but no bell; that they had heard that the South church in Nantucket had a very fine bell, and they would like to know for how much the bell could be bought.

The Nantucketers replied that they had a very fine bell in their tower, but no clock; that they had heard that the Old South church had a very fine tower clock, and that they would like to know the price of the clock.

The agents offered to pay $1 a pound for the bell. Since the bell weighs 1675 pounds, this would have made the price $1,575, making a net profit of $1,075 above the price paid for the bell and $1.225 above the amount contributed by the society. It seems that the old Nantucketers must have had some sentiment after all and were not purely mercantile in their spirit.

If the Nantucketers had agreed t sell, as they might have done, our bell would probably be hanging in the historle tower of Old South church in Boston today. That might have been great honor for the bell, but it would have been a great deprivation for Nantucket. Moreover, it would now be spending its time in elegant leisure instead of being a very useful bell where it is. The history of this bell is like a veritable parable of human life. possibilities which occur in the history of the bell remind us of the possibilities which abound in every life. - Cor. The Mexican Boundary Line The international boundary line be-tween the United States and the republie of Mexico is marked by pyramids of stones placed at irregular distances along the line all the way from the Rio Grande to the Pacific occur. Wherever it was found practicable to do so these pyramids were built on prominent peaks at road crossings, fords, etc. The line was not surveyed, as is the usual custom, the location of the monuments being based on astronomical calculations and observations.
