

The Thief... of Beauty. Captured by Bradfield's Regulator. Thousands of young women are awaking to the fact that inherited complexions have been ruined by the use of the former. This is the warning feature of 'Wash, Treat and Renew'... Bradfield's Female Regulator. THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO. ATLANTA, GA.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS. NEILL A. SINCLAIR, Attorney-at-Law, 117 DONALDSON STREET, FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. D. T. OATES, Attorney-at-Law, ROOMS 2 and 3 K. of P. Bldg., FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.

D. L. McDuffie, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, 117 DONALDSON STREET, FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. Q. K. NIMOCKS, Attorney-at-Law, Office in K. of P. Building, Phone 239, Fayetteville, N. C. H. S. AVERITT, Attorney-at-Law, (Notary Public) 118 Green Street, FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.

Robinson & Shaw, Attorneys-at-Law, OFFICE 121 Donaldson Street, Fayetteville, N. C. J. H. MARSH, M. D., Physician and Surgeon, OFFICE 108 HAY STREET, Fayetteville, N. C. Dr. E. L. HUNTER, Dentist, North-east Corner Market Square, FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.

J. A. MacKethan, M. D., Practice limited to Diseases, EYE, EAR, NOSE and THROAT. OFFICE HOURS 10 to 1, 3 to 5 or by special appointment @ Office Highsmith Hospital. Newton H. Smith, General Manager. SMITH'S Real Estate and Investment Agency, Box 226, Fayetteville, N. C.

PENNYROYAL PILLS. PARKER'S HAIR BALM. RHEUM-AID. For rheumatism is absolutely without an equal on earth for curing Rheumatism, Pains, Bruises, Inflammations of all kinds, Itch, etc. RHEUM-AID Med. Co., Sole Proprietors, P. O. Box 464, Fayetteville, N. C.

WILSON & ROGERS, Office open DAILY and NIGHT. DIRECTORS. (Garrett Old Brand) Fayetteville, N. C.

RUSSIAN REFORM. Stimulated by the Japanese victories, the spirit of reform grows apace in priest-ridden Russia. Hon. William Jennings Bryan made a flying trip to Kansas City to the Baltimore Sun says: Hon. William Jennings Bryan made a flying trip to Kansas City, going to the Hotel Baltimore, where he met Moses C. Wetmore, of St. Louis, by appointment, to arrange for a hunt in the Ozarks, the party to be made up of Mr. Bryan, Mr. Wetmore and a few others. Mr. Bryan denied that his meeting with Mr. Wetmore was to talk politics or to arrange for a conference of Democrats.

THE OZARKS AND THE DIVINE. Baltimore Sun. The good ladies of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union determined that lager beer in the army posts of the United States is an accursed thing, even as the silver and the Babylonian garment and the wodge of gold which Adam, the son of Adam, hid in the midst of his tent. They decided, therefore, that it should be put away utterly. They made a descent upon Congress some years ago and Congress surrendered and enacted a law abolishing the canteen. Then came the army officers with one consent and declared that the law of the canteen was a wrong that should be righted. They affirmed that the abolition of the canteens had promoted drunkenness and desertions and insubordination. That instead of drinking beer in the post exchanges, or clubs, or canteens, as they are variously called, where they are under the supervision of their officers and are in a sense wholesome surroundings, they go forth and drink vile whisky at the dives around the main gate. They also averred that these dives grew up like mushrooms around every army post as soon as the canteen was abolished. They further aver that the patronage of the soldier is so valuable to these dives that the keepers thereof are ready to enlist along with the temperance societies in the war against the canteens.

THE NORTH CAROLINA REGIMENTAL HISTORIES. Raleigh Times. State Librarian M. O. Sherrill, says he still has on hand quite a number of sets of the North Carolina Regimental Histories, published by the State. Every Confederate veteran and son of a Confederate veteran especially ought to have a set of this work in his library. It is a complete history of the North Carolina Troops from the year of 1861-'65, in five large octavo volumes of over 800 pages each, a total of 4,000 pages.

News of Interest. From Thursday's Daily. There are now 350 pupils in the State School for the Blind. This is 7 pupils more than the largest attendance throughout the session of any previous year.

From Friday's Daily. The creditors of the D. J. Snly Company have withdrawn all objection to the claims filed against the company, and have agreed to accept a 25 per cent. dividend on the $3,000,000 of assets now in the hands of the receiver.

In the Supreme court yesterday there was a continuance of argument on the Selma railway connection case, in which both the State and the Atlantic Coast Line are making such a hard fight. The State has had the case in preparation for many weeks, and is represented by the very best counsel. The case involves a very important principle, and it is said that if the decision is adverse to the State, the result will be a further enlargement of the powers of the Corporation Commission by the next legislature.

MR. BRYAN ON THE REFORMATION. A telegram from Kansas City to the Baltimore Sun says: Hon. William Jennings Bryan made a flying trip to Kansas City, going to the Hotel Baltimore, where he met Moses C. Wetmore, of St. Louis, by appointment, to arrange for a hunt in the Ozarks, the party to be made up of Mr. Bryan, Mr. Wetmore and a few others. Mr. Bryan denied that his meeting with Mr. Wetmore was to talk politics or to arrange for a conference of Democrats.

THE RUSSEAN REFORM MOVEMENT. Atlantic Constitution. Recent events in Russia have given the metaphysicians fresh food for reflection, as to whether questionable means are ever justified by virtuous ends. In other words, was the assassination of Von Plehve, morally an indefensible act, justified by subsequent developments? The tone of the world-press at the time of the assassination was morbidly pessimistic. Editors and diplomats agree that the abrupt taking off of the stately representative Plehve was, per se, no more than deserved for his implacably cruel policies. They pointed out, however, that every such violent protest in Russia had been followed by a redoubting of the czar's power, and that the results should have been in the line of hardening and enduring present ills. From this point they argued that the reactionary influences would be even more aggressive than under Plehve, in order to nip the resentment in the bud and terrify the malcontents into quiescence.

THE OZARKS AND THE DIVINE. Baltimore Sun. The good ladies of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union determined that lager beer in the army posts of the United States is an accursed thing, even as the silver and the Babylonian garment and the wodge of gold which Adam, the son of Adam, hid in the midst of his tent. They decided, therefore, that it should be put away utterly. They made a descent upon Congress some years ago and Congress surrendered and enacted a law abolishing the canteen. Then came the army officers with one consent and declared that the law of the canteen was a wrong that should be righted. They affirmed that the abolition of the canteens had promoted drunkenness and desertions and insubordination. That instead of drinking beer in the post exchanges, or clubs, or canteens, as they are variously called, where they are under the supervision of their officers and are in a sense wholesome surroundings, they go forth and drink vile whisky at the dives around the main gate. They also averred that these dives grew up like mushrooms around every army post as soon as the canteen was abolished. They further aver that the patronage of the soldier is so valuable to these dives that the keepers thereof are ready to enlist along with the temperance societies in the war against the canteens.

THE NORTH CAROLINA REGIMENTAL HISTORIES. Raleigh Times. State Librarian M. O. Sherrill, says he still has on hand quite a number of sets of the North Carolina Regimental Histories, published by the State. Every Confederate veteran and son of a Confederate veteran especially ought to have a set of this work in his library. It is a complete history of the North Carolina Troops from the year of 1861-'65, in five large octavo volumes of over 800 pages each, a total of 4,000 pages.

News of Interest. From Thursday's Daily. There are now 350 pupils in the State School for the Blind. This is 7 pupils more than the largest attendance throughout the session of any previous year.

From Friday's Daily. The creditors of the D. J. Snly Company have withdrawn all objection to the claims filed against the company, and have agreed to accept a 25 per cent. dividend on the $3,000,000 of assets now in the hands of the receiver.

In the Supreme court yesterday there was a continuance of argument on the Selma railway connection case, in which both the State and the Atlantic Coast Line are making such a hard fight. The State has had the case in preparation for many weeks, and is represented by the very best counsel. The case involves a very important principle, and it is said that if the decision is adverse to the State, the result will be a further enlargement of the powers of the Corporation Commission by the next legislature.

MR. BRYAN ON THE REFORMATION. A telegram from Kansas City to the Baltimore Sun says: Hon. William Jennings Bryan made a flying trip to Kansas City, going to the Hotel Baltimore, where he met Moses C. Wetmore, of St. Louis, by appointment, to arrange for a hunt in the Ozarks, the party to be made up of Mr. Bryan, Mr. Wetmore and a few others. Mr. Bryan denied that his meeting with Mr. Wetmore was to talk politics or to arrange for a conference of Democrats.

THE RUSSEAN REFORM MOVEMENT. Atlantic Constitution. Recent events in Russia have given the metaphysicians fresh food for reflection, as to whether questionable means are ever justified by virtuous ends. In other words, was the assassination of Von Plehve, morally an indefensible act, justified by subsequent developments? The tone of the world-press at the time of the assassination was morbidly pessimistic. Editors and diplomats agree that the abrupt taking off of the stately representative Plehve was, per se, no more than deserved for his implacably cruel policies. They pointed out, however, that every such violent protest in Russia had been followed by a redoubting of the czar's power, and that the results should have been in the line of hardening and enduring present ills. From this point they argued that the reactionary influences would be even more aggressive than under Plehve, in order to nip the resentment in the bud and terrify the malcontents into quiescence.

THE OZARKS AND THE DIVINE. Baltimore Sun. The good ladies of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union determined that lager beer in the army posts of the United States is an accursed thing, even as the silver and the Babylonian garment and the wodge of gold which Adam, the son of Adam, hid in the midst of his tent. They decided, therefore, that it should be put away utterly. They made a descent upon Congress some years ago and Congress surrendered and enacted a law abolishing the canteen. Then came the army officers with one consent and declared that the law of the canteen was a wrong that should be righted. They affirmed that the abolition of the canteens had promoted drunkenness and desertions and insubordination. That instead of drinking beer in the post exchanges, or clubs, or canteens, as they are variously called, where they are under the supervision of their officers and are in a sense wholesome surroundings, they go forth and drink vile whisky at the dives around the main gate. They also averred that these dives grew up like mushrooms around every army post as soon as the canteen was abolished. They further aver that the patronage of the soldier is so valuable to these dives that the keepers thereof are ready to enlist along with the temperance societies in the war against the canteens.

THE NORTH CAROLINA REGIMENTAL HISTORIES. Raleigh Times. State Librarian M. O. Sherrill, says he still has on hand quite a number of sets of the North Carolina Regimental Histories, published by the State. Every Confederate veteran and son of a Confederate veteran especially ought to have a set of this work in his library. It is a complete history of the North Carolina Troops from the year of 1861-'65, in five large octavo volumes of over 800 pages each, a total of 4,000 pages.

News of Interest. From Thursday's Daily. There are now 350 pupils in the State School for the Blind. This is 7 pupils more than the largest attendance throughout the session of any previous year.

From Friday's Daily. The creditors of the D. J. Snly Company have withdrawn all objection to the claims filed against the company, and have agreed to accept a 25 per cent. dividend on the $3,000,000 of assets now in the hands of the receiver.

In the Supreme court yesterday there was a continuance of argument on the Selma railway connection case, in which both the State and the Atlantic Coast Line are making such a hard fight. The State has had the case in preparation for many weeks, and is represented by the very best counsel. The case involves a very important principle, and it is said that if the decision is adverse to the State, the result will be a further enlargement of the powers of the Corporation Commission by the next legislature.

SPLENDID SHOWING FOR THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE. Report of Secretary Ross. Fayetteville, N. C., Dec. 1, 1904. Mr. Fremont and Gentlemen of the Chamber of Commerce.

Fayetteville, N. C., Dec. 1, 1904. Mr. Fremont and Gentlemen of the Chamber of Commerce. With the end of November, 1904, this reorganized Chamber of Commerce completed its first year. For several months prior to November 1903, the chamber of commerce had ceased to assemble as a body; or even to keep up the meetings of its directors. The secretary, however, continued to give attention to matters of importance connected with the public interest, replying to many letters addressed to the chamber of commerce; and attending also to correspondence turned over to him, addressed to the postmaster and mayor of the city. Although without the support and backing of any one in particular during this interval, the secretary was enabled to accomplish some good for the public—namely, the establishment of the Free City and Rural Delivery of mails, which has proven of great comfort and convenience to the city and section, bringing employment to quite a number of people and causing an annual expenditure of about $8,000 or over for the work.

On the 22nd of November 1903, public spirited citizens of the city in a meeting held at that time, resolved to make the effort to throw new life into the chamber of commerce, by giving it better support and encouragement and by increasing its membership. At that meeting the secretary and the officers tendered their resignation, which were accepted, to take effect when others were elected. It was resolved to dispense with any fee for membership, and to remit all past dues. It was further agreed that the dues per month should be 25c, except in the case of the number who signify their willingness to pay a larger sum per month. About 69 persons became members, a good proportion obligating to pay more per month than the regular amount. An election was then held on the following result:

Officers—W. M. Morgan, President, Jas. D. McNeill, 1st Vice President, B. R. Huske, 2nd Vice President, F. R. Rose, Secretary and Treasurer. Directors—E. J. Hale, A. L. McCaskey, W. L. Holt, J. P. Harrison, W. Williams, T. C. Williams, H. S. Scomb, R. L. Holland, J. F. L. Armistead, C. J. Cooper, J. J. Maloney, E. R. McKethan.

In this way the newly reorganized Chamber entered upon its work; and tonight it becomes my duty to submit a statement of business as treasurer; and, as secretary, to review briefly the work attempted and accomplished by the body during the year. The public interest in the chamber is submitted herewith, and I respectfully ask for a committee to audit same.

During the year the regular monthly meetings of this body were duly held, except twice during the summer from lack of quorum, and once because the time of meeting coincided with our County Fair celebration. The direct membership of this body, but it was one of these meetings that the public building matter was started on the right plan. I am convinced that more frequent meetings of the directors would be of value, and would add interest to the public meetings by tending to bring important matters up for action before the entire body.

The press of North Carolina has complemented very highly our "Facts and Figures"; and Fayetteville through these notices has been widely and favorably advertised. It is to my best interest that the world should know that there is such a city as Fayetteville, N. C.; and we should all endeavor to get in, and keep in, touch with the outside; for this means prosperity, progress and wealth! On the backs of thousands of envelopes that are constantly being mailed from this city, attention is called to a few of our most salient advantages. This expense has been met by the Chamber.

SPLENDID SHOWING FOR THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE. Report of Secretary Ross. Fayetteville, N. C., Dec. 1, 1904. Mr. Fremont and Gentlemen of the Chamber of Commerce.

Fayetteville, N. C., Dec. 1, 1904. Mr. Fremont and Gentlemen of the Chamber of Commerce. With the end of November, 1904, this reorganized Chamber of Commerce completed its first year. For several months prior to November 1903, the chamber of commerce had ceased to assemble as a body; or even to keep up the meetings of its directors. The secretary, however, continued to give attention to matters of importance connected with the public interest, replying to many letters addressed to the chamber of commerce; and attending also to correspondence turned over to him, addressed to the postmaster and mayor of the city. Although without the support and backing of any one in particular during this interval, the secretary was enabled to accomplish some good for the public—namely, the establishment of the Free City and Rural Delivery of mails, which has proven of great comfort and convenience to the city and section, bringing employment to quite a number of people and causing an annual expenditure of about $8,000 or over for the work.

On the 22nd of November 1903, public spirited citizens of the city in a meeting held at that time, resolved to make the effort to throw new life into the chamber of commerce, by giving it better support and encouragement and by increasing its membership. At that meeting the secretary and the officers tendered their resignation, which were accepted, to take effect when others were elected. It was resolved to dispense with any fee for membership, and to remit all past dues. It was further agreed that the dues per month should be 25c, except in the case of the number who signify their willingness to pay a larger sum per month. About 69 persons became members, a good proportion obligating to pay more per month than the regular amount. An election was then held on the following result:

Officers—W. M. Morgan, President, Jas. D. McNeill, 1st Vice President, B. R. Huske, 2nd Vice President, F. R. Rose, Secretary and Treasurer. Directors—E. J. Hale, A. L. McCaskey, W. L. Holt, J. P. Harrison, W. Williams, T. C. Williams, H. S. Scomb, R. L. Holland, J. F. L. Armistead, C. J. Cooper, J. J. Maloney, E. R. McKethan.

In this way the newly reorganized Chamber entered upon its work; and tonight it becomes my duty to submit a statement of business as treasurer; and, as secretary, to review briefly the work attempted and accomplished by the body during the year. The public interest in the chamber is submitted herewith, and I respectfully ask for a committee to audit same.

During the year the regular monthly meetings of this body were duly held, except twice during the summer from lack of quorum, and once because the time of meeting coincided with our County Fair celebration. The direct membership of this body, but it was one of these meetings that the public building matter was started on the right plan. I am convinced that more frequent meetings of the directors would be of value, and would add interest to the public meetings by tending to bring important matters up for action before the entire body.

The press of North Carolina has complemented very highly our "Facts and Figures"; and Fayetteville through these notices has been widely and favorably advertised. It is to my best interest that the world should know that there is such a city as Fayetteville, N. C.; and we should all endeavor to get in, and keep in, touch with the outside; for this means prosperity, progress and wealth! On the backs of thousands of envelopes that are constantly being mailed from this city, attention is called to a few of our most salient advantages. This expense has been met by the Chamber.

SPLENDID SHOWING FOR THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE. Report of Secretary Ross. Fayetteville, N. C., Dec. 1, 1904. Mr. Fremont and Gentlemen of the Chamber of Commerce.

Fayetteville, N. C., Dec. 1, 1904. Mr. Fremont and Gentlemen of the Chamber of Commerce. With the end of November, 1904, this reorganized Chamber of Commerce completed its first year. For several months prior to November 1903, the chamber of commerce had ceased to assemble as a body; or even to keep up the meetings of its directors. The secretary, however, continued to give attention to matters of importance connected with the public interest, replying to many letters addressed to the chamber of commerce; and attending also to correspondence turned over to him, addressed to the postmaster and mayor of the city. Although without the support and backing of any one in particular during this interval, the secretary was enabled to accomplish some good for the public—namely, the establishment of the Free City and Rural Delivery of mails, which has proven of great comfort and convenience to the city and section, bringing employment to quite a number of people and causing an annual expenditure of about $8,000 or over for the work.

On the 22nd of November 1903, public spirited citizens of the city in a meeting held at that time, resolved to make the effort to throw new life into the chamber of commerce, by giving it better support and encouragement and by increasing its membership. At that meeting the secretary and the officers tendered their resignation, which were accepted, to take effect when others were elected. It was resolved to dispense with any fee for membership, and to remit all past dues. It was further agreed that the dues per month should be 25c, except in the case of the number who signify their willingness to pay a larger sum per month. About 69 persons became members, a good proportion obligating to pay more per month than the regular amount. An election was then held on the following result:

Officers—W. M. Morgan, President, Jas. D. McNeill, 1st Vice President, B. R. Huske, 2nd Vice President, F. R. Rose, Secretary and Treasurer. Directors—E. J. Hale, A. L. McCaskey, W. L. Holt, J. P. Harrison, W. Williams, T. C. Williams, H. S. Scomb, R. L. Holland, J. F. L. Armistead, C. J. Cooper, J. J. Maloney, E. R. McKethan.

In this way the newly reorganized Chamber entered upon its work; and tonight it becomes my duty to submit a statement of business as treasurer; and, as secretary, to review briefly the work attempted and accomplished by the body during the year. The public interest in the chamber is submitted herewith, and I respectfully ask for a committee to audit same.

During the year the regular monthly meetings of this body were duly held, except twice during the summer from lack of quorum, and once because the time of meeting coincided with our County Fair celebration. The direct membership of this body, but it was one of these meetings that the public building matter was started on the right plan. I am convinced that more frequent meetings of the directors would be of value, and would add interest to the public meetings by tending to bring important matters up for action before the entire body.

The press of North Carolina has complemented very highly our "Facts and Figures"; and Fayetteville through these notices has been widely and favorably advertised. It is to my best interest that the world should know that there is such a city as Fayetteville, N. C.; and we should all endeavor to get in, and keep in, touch with the outside; for this means prosperity, progress and wealth! On the backs of thousands of envelopes that are constantly being mailed from this city, attention is called to a few of our most salient advantages. This expense has been met by the Chamber.

SPLENDID SHOWING FOR THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE. Report of Secretary Ross. Fayetteville, N. C., Dec. 1, 1904. Mr. Fremont and Gentlemen of the Chamber of Commerce.

Fayetteville, N. C., Dec. 1, 1904. Mr. Fremont and Gentlemen of the Chamber of Commerce. With the end of November, 1904, this reorganized Chamber of Commerce completed its first year. For several months prior to November 1903, the chamber of commerce had ceased to assemble as a body; or even to keep up the meetings of its directors. The secretary, however, continued to give attention to matters of importance connected with the public interest, replying to many letters addressed to the chamber of commerce; and attending also to correspondence turned over to him, addressed to the postmaster and mayor of the city. Although without the support and backing of any one in particular during this interval, the secretary was enabled to accomplish some good for the public—namely, the establishment of the Free City and Rural Delivery of mails, which has proven of great comfort and convenience to the city and section, bringing employment to quite a number of people and causing an annual expenditure of about $8,000 or over for the work.

On the 22nd of November 1903, public spirited citizens of the city in a meeting held at that time, resolved to make the effort to throw new life into the chamber of commerce, by giving it better support and encouragement and by increasing its membership. At that meeting the secretary and the officers tendered their resignation, which were accepted, to take effect when others were elected. It was resolved to dispense with any fee for membership, and to remit all past dues. It was further agreed that the dues per month should be 25c, except in the case of the number who signify their willingness to pay a larger sum per month. About 69 persons became members, a good proportion obligating to pay more per month than the regular amount. An election was then held on the following result:

Officers—W. M. Morgan, President, Jas. D. McNeill, 1st Vice President, B. R. Huske, 2nd Vice President, F. R. Rose, Secretary and Treasurer. Directors—E. J. Hale, A. L. McCaskey, W. L. Holt, J. P. Harrison, W. Williams, T. C. Williams, H. S. Scomb, R. L. Holland, J. F. L. Armistead, C. J. Cooper, J. J. Maloney, E. R. McKethan.

In this way the newly reorganized Chamber entered upon its work; and tonight it becomes my duty to submit a statement of business as treasurer; and, as secretary, to review briefly the work attempted and accomplished by the body during the year. The public interest in the chamber is submitted herewith, and I respectfully ask for a committee to audit same.

During the year the regular monthly meetings of this body were duly held, except twice during the summer from lack of quorum, and once because the time of meeting coincided with our County Fair celebration. The direct membership of this body, but it was one of these meetings that the public building matter was started on the right plan. I am convinced that more frequent meetings of the directors would be of value, and would add interest to the public meetings by tending to bring important matters up for action before the entire body.

The press of North Carolina has complemented very highly our "Facts and Figures"; and Fayetteville through these notices has been widely and favorably advertised. It is to my best interest that the world should know that there is such a city as Fayetteville, N. C.; and we should all endeavor to get in, and keep in, touch with the outside; for this means prosperity, progress and wealth! On the backs of thousands of envelopes that are constantly being mailed from this city, attention is called to a few of our most salient advantages. This expense has been met by the Chamber.

Nice Horses. are shown to advantage when neatly tared. Our double and single harness is everything neat, durable and attractive horses should be. BUY OUR HARNESS and it will be a source of much gratification to see your horses admired by all. We have the low priced kind, too; but the best is always the cheapest and most satisfactory. Constantly on hand.

Full Line of Vehicles. J. A. KING, Fayetteville, N. C. FAYETTEVILLE MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS. Strictly First-Class Work. Call at my yard or write for prices. Respectfully, E. L. REMSBURG, Proprietor, Fayetteville, N. C.

H. R. HORNE & SONS. Established 1868. Always on hand a complete stock of Drugs, Chemicals, Toilet Articles, Paints, Oils, Etc. PRESCRIPTION DEPARTMENT and LABORATORIES in charge of Graduates in Pharmacy.

A Great Variety of PIPES. After a long and painful illness, Mrs. J. W. Welch, the wife of our former townsman, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Dr. Henry Davis, of Lincoln, Loudon county, Virginia. She leaves four children: Mrs. F. H. Briggs, of Raleigh; Mrs. Henry Davis, of Virginia; Miss Jennie Welch, of Morgantown; and Mr. Tucker Welch, of Rockfish, and also her aged brother, Maj. James R. McDonald, of this place, to mourn her loss.

McDuffie Drug Store. (FRANKLIN & MOORE). Prescription Druggists, S. W. Cor Market Square. Day 'phone, 120; Night 'phone, 272. HOT DRINKS AT SEDBERRY'S PALACE PHARMACY. Hot Chocolate, Cream Bouillon, Beef, Tomato, Oyster, Coffee, &c.

Florida Oranges. Mince Meat, Nuts, Raisins, Currants, Dates, Figs, Citron, and just what you need in a well regulated family. Fancy Fresh Cakes and Crackers, Syrup, Molasses, Coconut and Cereals, etc. A. S. HUSKIE, J. H. PEARCE, Manager.

Revolution imminent. A sure sign of approaching revolt and serious trouble in your system is nervousness, sleeplessness, or stomach upsets. Electric Bitters will quickly cure the troublesome causes. It never fails to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver, and clarify the blood. Run down systems benefit particularly and all the usual attending aches vanish under its searching and thorough effectiveness. Electric Bitters is only so, and that is returned if it does not give perfect satisfaction. Guaranteed by B. B. Sedberry & Sons, Druggists.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Digests what you eat. No More Suffering. If you are troubled with indigestion get a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and see how quickly it will cure you. Geo. A. Thompson, of Spencer, Ia., says: "I have had Dyspepsia for twenty years. My case was almost hopeless. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was recommended and I used a few bottles of it and it is the only thing that has relieved me. I am now healthy and hearty and able to do my usual work. I can eat anything I wish and I feel no pain. I am a great believer in Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and I heartily recommend it. Every person suffering with indigestion or Dyspepsia should use it." Sold by All Druggists.