SULLY'S ADDRESS. Speaks to 1,000 Farmers and Business Men—Estimates Crop at 10,000,000 Bales. RALEIGH, N. C., October 10, 1905. Daniel J. Sully, the great cotton "bull," to-day addressed about 1,000 farmers and business men in Metropolitan Hall. His speech was short and to the point. He told the farmers that when the consumers found out that they were going to hold their cotton they could command any price for their crop. "Hold your cotton for two weeks, and you will get near eleven cents," said Mr. Sully, "and in a few weeks more you will get 12 1/2." Mr. Sully said that the English spinners had sold their productions as far ahead as 1907, and that they had made contracts on a basis of 12 cents; and when they get it for this they were making profits not expected. Mr. Sully estimates the crop at not over 10,000,000 bales. He was interviewed by Secretary T. B. Parker, of the North Carolina division of the North Carolina Cotton Growers' Association, and he was given a great ovation. J. T. McLEAN. South Atlantic Quarterly for October.

The October number of the South Atlantic Quarterly opens with a scholarly and interesting article on the "Ancestry of Robert Lee," by Hon. W. H. Mann, of Petersburg, Va. Mr. J. D. Rodefer, of Washington, D. C., writes of the relation of the South to the Library of Congress, pointing out the recent additions of manuscript material relating to Southern men. Rev. T. A. Smoot, of Durham, has a timely article on "Some New North Carolina Industries," noting especially the lettuce and dewberry crops. Prof. Charles Lee Raper, of the University of North Carolina, summarizes the progress of cotton manufacturing in the South, and gives a hopeful forecast for the future. Prof. D. V. Thomas, of the University of Florida, discusses the prerogative of the Executive, reviewing some of the most recent acts of Presidents in the light of history and the Constitution. Prof. Edwin W. Bowen, of Randolph-Macon College, has a timely article on "The Franklin Bicentennial." Prof. Bruce R. Payne, recently appointed to a chair in the Curry School of Education at the University of Virginia, has a very thoughtful article on "Ethical Theory as the Basis for Educational Theory and Practice." Hon. Junius Davis, of the Wilmington bar, contributes to the present widest discussion of Paul Jones a careful presentation of Jones' relation to Hon. Willie Jones, of North Carolina. The number closes with timely book reviews and literary notes by the editors.

TRUE Before Mother's Friend was introduced. The older the prospective mother be the more difficult the ordeal through which she must pass before she experiences the glory of the maternal state. This was true before. Mother's Friend was introduced, but now tangible evidence in the shape of countless mothers of advanced years who have used it with entire success forces us to gladly relate the integrity of this statement. Old or young, the result is the same. It is simply indispensable during the parturient state, and absolutely invaluable at the crucial time. For external massage, easy and simple to apply, wonderful in its effect, it surely is a living monument to the truth of that adage, "What's in a name?" We reply, "Simply Mother's Friend." $1.00, at all druggists. Send for book, "Motherhood." It is free. Bradford Regulator Co., ATLANTA, GA.

Last Week We Talked About Blankets. This week we want to say a word about spreads. Every one admires a dainty fresh looking bed; but everyone knows how hard it is to keep one so. Spreads cannot be satisfactorily washed by hand—they are too heavy. Even if well washed improper ironing leaves "streaks" that only sunshine—the washwoman's friend—can take out. We don't depend on sunshine to take out "streaks"; our washers and extractor are in a perfect condition, and our soaps, the best on the market, and we can give you a clean spread every day in the week.
