Rev. P. R. Law has won his suit pending in Congress and before the United States Court of Claims. It was a claim upon the government for using and destroying the Lumber to recall: Bridge Presbyterian church for war purposes by Sherman's army in 1865. The bill was introduced by Congressman Patterson, and he and Mr. Law have been working hard on it ever

COTTOR CROP SINCE 1800.

Says Rev. P. R. Law in the Robe-

In 1800 we made 155,536 bales of 1350 we made 2,333,718, in 1860 we made 4,861,292, in 1870 we made 3.114,592, in 1880 we made 5,761,252, in son. 1890 we made 7,311,322, in 1900 we made 9,434,016. In 1901 the number of bales actually sold was 10,218,000, in 1902 the number sold was 10,380,-000, in 1903 the number sold was 10,-450,000, in 1904 the number sold was 11,080,000. In 1904 the total amount cotton consumed was 14,351,930 bales. Two things are very clear about the foregoing figures. The increase of population, we do not give the figures for lack of space, has been far greater than the increase of bales of cotton produced. Then it is entirely obvious that even last year's record areaking crop fell short of the needs of the world. Let it be kept in mind that the yearly increase of demand by the world has gone on while the crop for this year will fall short of the crop last year in our judgment by possibly two million bales. appears to be no reason why we should rush our cotton on the market.
