ore think, there has been none so ineresting and satisfactory as the new publication by "The Neale Publishing Co.," of New York and Washington, the "Life of Robert Edward Lee, by Henry B. Shepherd, M. A., LL. D." To us of Fayetteville and North Carolina this book is especially interesting, for the author is a native of Fayetteville and resident here up to the war, and he is the most scholarly man produced by the State. To the South, generally, its publication should be an event of more than usual interest, for, without disparagement to the other writers on this great theme, Dr. Shepherd is completely entitled to the much abused appellation, "a Southern gentleman." From such a standpoint he addresses himself with consummate skill and success to a delineation of those fine traits of character which distinguished Lee, the Southern gentleman, and which overtopped even the transcendant merits of the Great Commoner as they are more familiarly known.

We desire to quote, with approval, the following criticism of this remarkable book, which we find in the publisher's prospectus:

Out of a long and close study of the nan, the conditions under which he lived and worked, and the results he achieved; out of a loving study of Lee, his life, his ideals, his motives, his ge-nius and his character, Dr. Shepherd has written this life of the great Confederate chief. It is in no wise a con-ventional biography, a narration of the facts and dates of a man's life, when he did certain things and how and with what effect. This biographer has looked below the sign to the thing signified, beyond the act to the soul of the actor, beneath the man's life to the man's character. It at Ivanhoe last week. is better than biography; it is char-

AN IMPORTANT FACTOR IN HEARST'S

A New York press dispatch of the day after the election says:

At the headquarters of the Independance League tonight the following statement was issued : "Reports from up-State indicate not only that Mr. Hearst cut down the Republican vote materially, but that the Independence League vote for Mr. Hearst was not counted in many counties. These votes will have to be added to the announced result of Mr. Hearst's vote in order to give the correct Hearst figures in the State.

"Last night Captain William Astor Chanler stated that his brother,

Robert, who was running for sheriff in Duchess, had threatened to bring mandamus proceedings against sav-eral election boards before they con-sented to count the Independence Leasented to count the independence hearing up vote for Mr. Hearst. Today other reports were received indicating that Independence League votes for Mr. Hearst were not counted in Eric and Hearst were not counted in Eric and Allegheny counties. Reports come in also showing that in districts in Clinton, Catkragus, Herkimer, Wayne, Albany. A NEW AND NOTEWORTHY LIFE OF GENERAL LEE.

There have been a great number of books written about General Lee, but, cast for Mr. Hearst and his associate under the emblems of the scales. In was 1,625,907. This year with sixty-three election districts missing only 1,373,450 votes are accounted for alngh the registration this year was unusually heavy and the weather conditions and the interest taken in the campaign all tended to bring out a full vote. These matters are being fully investigated."

THE VICTORY OF THE DEMOCRATIC

One of the most gratifying results the election in New York is the sweeping victory won by the Democratic judiciary ticket over the mongrel ticket gotten up by Mr. J. H. Choate, Republican, and Mr. Alton B. Parker, late the "sane and safe" candidate for the presidency on the Democratic ticket.

The engines used on the passenger trains on the A. & Y. road are not large by any means. illustrations of much interest and and to have pulled the regular train and pushed the treight, the little engine certainly did have a task.

Mr. Holt Doing Well.

The news from Mr. L. Banks Holt, who was shot Tuesday night, is that he is resting well to-day, and will soon be able to be about. The grand jury of Alamance yesterday found a true bill against the negro, Harry Walker, who is in jail, charged with the crime. Harry is to be tried for the attempt on the life of Mr. Holtand for a burglarious entrance.

The trial is to begin on Thursday norning at 10 o'clock, and the evidence against Walker, the discharged servant, seems to be conclusive. Walker will not talk, but it is thought that an endeavor to prove an alibi will be made. It is possible that on the trial there may be evidence sufficient to implicate as an accomplice the negro woman who was formerly a cook at the Holt home.

These capitalists will be incorporated as the "Croatan Club." each of the 12 subscribing $5,000 to the capital stock. With this fund it is purposed to erect a club house and keeper's home on the property and to make some other improvements as may tend to the comfort and pleasure of the members and their friends when they visit the preserve.

The incorporation papers are now being prepared. After they have been executed, which it is expected will be done within the next 10 days, the members will meet and select of-

The tract acquired is in the vicinity of Manchester, in this county, and is partly divided by the Atlantic & Yadkin division of the A. C. L. (the old C. F. & Y. V.), which runs through it. There are 8,000 acres of arable land in the purchase. These will be cultivated in corn, wheat, buckwheat, hay and other necessities for the wild game, but none of the product will be harvested for market.

There is a lake of 500 acres on the property. The new clubhouse will "Faith, Hope and Charity. overlook this and will contain all the Mr. W. T. The forest, which is of spruce, pine and hemlock, abounds in deer, pheasants, quail, wild turkeys, squirrels and rabbits. There are also many foxes to be found, and the sport of hunting these wily animals is expected to be no small part of the pleasure of those who are investing their money in the tract.

The Baltimore Sun says: This land was first brought to the attention of General Gill when he was president of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad. Its advanquickly recognized by him on his frequent business visits to the section, and he concluded to purchase it if he could enlist enough of his friends in he enterprise of holding it for hunting purposes. Mr. James T. Wood-ward was the first approached, and he also thought so well of the proposition that he immediately joined with General Gill and bought the land. It was then that the suggestion of forming a club, to be composed of the personal friends of the original promoters, was conceived and carried nto effect. The name of the organization is taken from the tribe of Indians that the regular engineer went up on vacaeral Gill says that evidences of their war implements are still to be found that he went aboard the Lyon yesterwithout effort. In addition to the game, the lake on the property abounds in trout and bass, so that the angler, as well as the hunter, will find much to give pleasure when looking for sport on the club's land.
