Mr. Bryan had so won the confilence of the Democracy, before his Madison Square Garden speech, that the corporation Democrats were laying their plans to capture him and to use him as a breakwater against the Roosevelt tide. He dashed their road subject in that memorable speech, and, straightway, they set about weakening his hold upon the people by misrepresentation. This has been exposed, and the course of the railroads themselves has since confirmed the justness of the moder ate views then expressed by him. A New York dispatch of yesterday BRVB:

William J. Bryan, who was in town for a short time to-day, while en route to Boston, said that the rail-roads prefer Federal to State legisla-

That during the past fifty Ш. years the "units of labor" involved in cotton production have been pracunchanged, while in the case of tically nearly every other product of human labor-saving machinery Industry which has materially reduced the amount of labor (or "labor units") required for production, has been successfully applied. IV. That during the past ten years and especially during the last three years, the value of these "labor units," i. e., a day's work, as expressed in the terms of gold, has greatly increased. V. That in 1895, cotton sold at 5 9-16c, which was lower than since 1848, and that in the next year (1896) silver was finally demonstrized in the United States, and thereafter practically throughout the world.

That the increase in the pur-VI. chasing power of gold anticipated as ficates, however, are receivable for a result of silver demonstization has all public dues excent duties on imstimulated gold production that in 1996 there was produced twice as much gold as in 1896, i. e., $400,000,000 lic dues, except interest on the pub-against $200,000,000; that since 1895 lic debt." enabling Congress to there has been produced and added to

That this increase in the world's gold production is without recedent, the total production from the discovery of America in 1492 to (400 years) having been only 1892 $8,175,000,000; and that we are therefore, dealing with strange conditions, doubt, the grounds for Democratic of which, perhaps, it can only be said alignment will have been well chosen. that they promise no reaccertainly tion until the inflation shall cease. That such an increase in VIII the gold production has only been made possible through the appliance of chemistry and labor-saving machin-apparent in those things for which, like cotton, no cheaper substitute can be found, and to which no labor-saving machinery has been applied that reduces the amount of human energy required for its production. I have chosen to put this dem-onstration in syllogistic form in the hope that its force may be more readily apparent, and that the temptation which the subject offers to the imagination might be avoided. It is, however, difficult to control one's enthusiasm in the face of such facts as the progress of the world's cotton trade unfolds, and such pos-sibilities as the increase in the world's gold production suggests.

It is a gress to begin the work.

The people of the Cape Fear Sec tion are now face to face with the greatest business proposition that has ever been presented to them. We can acquire this important improvement by an intelligent, persistent and sysour people. tematic effort on the part of our business men in educating the people to the possibilities and benefits of this work. Congress will soon follow public sentiment in favor of any great public enterprise, and we must make a determined demand, backed by a compelling public sentiment favoring necessary appropriations for this im-1 am in favor of this improvement, have been in favor of it in the past, and expect to favor it with all my efforts in the future. I have declared for it in both public and private conversation, and I advocated it upon the stump in every county in the district in the recent campaign, stating at the time that it was the most important measure now before the peo ple.

That the improvement of the Cap Fear means increased facilities for transporting freight, and the conse quent saving of hundreds of thoufor a number of years in Fayetteville sands of dollars to both producers and consumers, is self evident. Our waer power to-day is our greatest un developed resource. Wc can make this river a great navigable highway which will help remove freight congestion and lower rates. If we can mprove this river it will mean increased value of the land and its products for the Cape Fear Section by securing new markets and more direct transportation at a cheapened cost. It will mean natural regulation of freight rates for this entire sec tion. I desire to congratulate you upon the determined effort you have made towards this improvement. I have noted, with a great deal of pleasure, the articles which you have recently published in the Fayetteville Observer. I wish you would send me these articles as some of the papers in which they were published were misplaced while I was out of the office. With best wishes and high personal
