The Case of Roger Brown.
The sentence of Roger Brown, the negro bootblack, who was convicted of selling whisky in the Superior Court last week, was at the last hour of the court, changed to a fine of $100, $50 to be paid down, and the other $50 by the term of court. He paid the fifty dollars and was set at liberty.

Things Reversed.
The Jury failed to find a true bill against Thomas Seals, charged with tampering with the ballot box, in the Rockfish school election, and instead, found true bills for perjury against L. C. Jackson and Henry Ratley, the prosecuting witnesses in the case before the magistrate, in which Seals was bound over.

A Motley Lot.
The Lumberton Robesonian of yesterday says:
The convicts at work on the Virginia and Carolina Southern Railroad form a motley crew. There are preachers, lawyers and doctors in the lot, and shoveling dirt is to them unaccustomed work—or was before they began work for the State. Dr. Jay, who is serving a term for killing his two children at Asheville some two years ago, is one of the number, and the man in charge of the work says Dr. Jay makes a mighty good hand.

Big Comet.
A number of our citizens are getting up early these mornings to see the splendid comet in the southeastern heavens. It is getting brighter with each day.
Mlle G. Renardot, a noted writer on scientific subjects and a member of the Astronomical society who has been observing the comet of 1907 from the Juveny Observatory in France, has formed an opinion of what would happen in event this comet, which is described as a great puff of wind, of fantastic shape, about 20,000,000 miles in length, would collide with the earth.
In all probability, she says, the first effect would be a diminution of oxygen in the air. There would be extremely low spirits, a general depression, a dull lethargic stupor. Business would cease and a cold terror would fall on the earth, until the comet passed away.
Then, with the diminution of nitrogen and the increase of oxygen in the air, a great reaction would be produced. First there would be a happy satisfaction, and irresistible gales, then would come nervous excitement, caused by a more rapid combustion of the blood in the lungs and its more rapid circulation. A wild orgy would follow. The whole of humanity would palpitate to the beating of one heart and in the end the brain would be attacked by oxygen. The world would be transfixed into wild madness, and paralyzed into wild madness, and paralyzed in final exhaustion. But this will probably never happen."

Death of Mr. R. J. Beard.
Mr. R. J. Beard, who was brought from Latta, S. C., recently suffering with a hopeless case of peritonitis, died early yesterday morning. The remains were taken to the home of the deceased's father, Mr. William Beard, at Beard's Station for burial.

Ten Years in Bed.
"For ten years I was confined to my bed with disease of my kidneys," writes R. A. Gray, J. P. of Oakville, Ind. "It was so severe that I could not move part of the time. I consulted the very best medical skill available, but could get no relief until Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended to me. It has been a God-sent to me." Mr. Dunlap, Drug Store (O. O. Sanders, Prop.).

The 117th case was added to the docket to-day.
The trial of Make Levy, for the murder of Will Ray, will be taken up the first thing to-morrow.

The trial of Worth Smith, the young white man, charged with a secret assault on Mr. A. A. Bucken, by striking him in the face with a heavy piece of wood with nails in it while Bucken was asleep in a hammock at his place of business on Person street, took place yesterday afternoon. The defendant introduced no testimony, his counsel arguing to the jury that the State had failed to show that Smith was the man who committed the crime. The jury was out only a short time, and returned a verdict of guilty of secret assault. The judge has not yet pronounced sentence. The crime of secret assault is punishable by imprisonment of from one to twenty years, a fine of $2,000, or both.

Make Levy on Trial for Murder.
(From Friday's Daily.)
The Solicitor has added the 120th case to the docket of the Superior Court, now in session for the trial of criminal cases.
The trial of Make Levy, for the murder of Will Ray on the outskirts of this city on the Fourth of July, was begun at noon to-day, and by one o'clock recess, the jury had been selected and four witnesses examined. Ex-Judge Sutton represents Levy.
There is no question as to the fact that Levy killed Ray, but he claims that he was drunk, and went to slash at another man when he stumbled and fell, the knife stabbing Ray in the leg, severing an artery, from which he died in a very short while. Levy made his escape, but later came to the city and surrendered to the Sheriff.
The following compose the jury: L. B. McFadyen, J. N. Cameron, W. H. Culbreth, Walter McDonald, J. W. Lee, W. P. Powers, W. A. Baggett, W. R. Maxwell, Jno. Parnell, Jr., R. S. West, W. E. Wood and W. A. Crumpler.
Strange to relate, there was not a challenge by either the State or the defendant, both sides being content with the regular panel.
When the prisoner was arraigned, Solicitor Sinclair stated in open court that he would not ask for a verdict of murder in the first degree.
The trial of J. F. West, a policeman of the city of Fayetteville, charged with an assault with a deadly weapon on Mr. J. J. Pate, which was begun yesterday afternoon, was concluded this morning. The judge returning a verdict of guilty. The jury imposed a fine of $25 and costs. This jury was composed as follows: Wash Carter, Walter McDonald, J. W. Lee, W. P. Powers, W. A. Baggett, R. S. West, W. E. Wood, J. D. McCorquodale, D. L. Crumpler, W. E. Willford, J. B. Downing, J. B. Jackson.
The case of Henrietta Spearman, retelling, was not pressed with leave.
John McNeill, carrying concealed weapon, guilty; 90 days on roads.
Alex. Williams, rape and incest; defendant called and failed, and instant capias issued for him.

LATER.
Shortly after court reconvened this afternoon, counsel for Levy submitted to a verdict of manslaughter, and the judge sentenced him to two years in the penitentiary.
Worth Smith, the young white man,

THE SOUTHERN LIFE IN NEW QUARTERS.

Is Growing Rapidly.

It should be a source of great pride to the people of Fayetteville and this section to know that the Southern Life Insurance Company is growing rapidly. This institution will bring to Fayetteville over $200,000.00 in premium receipts from January 1, 1908.

The company is now operating in four States and is writing insurance at the rate of about $400,000.00 per month.
This institution has just moved into the Thornton building to their handsome new quarters in the Hinsdale and Beasley building. The company purchased from the National Bank the two story building formerly occupied by the bank, and have made many improvements in same. A new vault has been erected on the second floor and improvements made on the interior. The company now occupies the second floor, together with the two offices in the Beasley building and two offices in the Hinsdale building.

The company, with new facilities and progressive methods, is extending its line of operation and it is a question of only a short time before "The Southern Life" will be one of the largest, if not the largest, institution of its kind in the South.
The first floor of this building is occupied by another new enterprise, which is having remarkable success—the Scottish Fire Insurance Company. Both are home enterprises, and deserve all the good fortune they may seek.

"In Peace Prepare for War."
For the Observer.
The heading of this article is a profound and salutary political maxim—and war is coming. The advocates of the proposed new county of Glenn, who were defeated before the last legislature, will make the fight again, and they are well organized. There is nothing blameable in their action; on the contrary, it is praiseworthy, as showing their vigilance of their development and their industrial interests. Should we have Glenn county, doubtless Raeford would be its seat—a great advantage to all that town's tributary country.

But it is a grave issue with the remainder of this county. Should the county of Glenn be formed Cumberland would become politically doubtful, having lost part of its Democratic stronghold—and, unless signs and portents fall, we are going to need all the votes we can rake and scrape. Well in advance of the coming contest, we should meet organization with organization, or we may be "caught napping." We may depend on the ability and watchfulness of Mr. Charles G. Rose, the excellent chairman of the Democratic county executive committee, but we must be ready to hold up his hands when he calls for help.

But war is coming from a new quarter. If there be anything in surface indications, into the legislative and United States Senatorial canvasses a year hence are to be injected fresh new to the party. The question is not which the Democratic party wants for United States Senator, Overman or Glenn, nor is the question whether or not prohibition, as a State measure, is a good thing for North Carolina. The serious question confronting the Democracy is whether or not it shall enter the campaign of 1908, handicapped by a "combine," in which men are to be elected to both branches of the legislature, conditionally on pledges to pass a certain law and to vote for a certain man for office.

As this movement is already in agitation, in ten months it will have so solidified and crystallized as to make the State nominating convention "cut and dried," its assembling perfunctory, its mission forestalled, its action a farce, and every right of the minority absolutely nullified, despite any plan of the party organization. This "combine" will create disaffection in the party ranks and cause dissatisfaction to the minority; and the Republican party, seizing the opportunity of our weakness and want of harmony, will make a mighty effort to capture counties and parts of counties in the personnel of the legislature.

For years it has been the policy of the North Carolina Democracy, tacitly understood and avowedly expressed, to regard the liquor question as a moral question, not to be thrust into a political campaign. State prohibition may be a good thing, and its adherents, as individuals, have a right to advocate it. But it has not the imprimatur of the Democratic party assembled in convention, and enunciating its principles by its platform; and no branch of the party has a right to commit the Democracy, in advance of its State convention, to this or any other measure—even though it be led by the Governor of North Carolina.

Suppose that the Democratic convention of 1908 declares against the party's adoption of State prohibition, what will be Governor Glenn's attitude after that convention?

Fayetteville.
A writer in the Raleigh Enterprise of recent date says:
In coming to this city, we had occasion to stop over at Fayetteville, our train on the Raleigh and Southport having reached that city before the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad train. Fayetteville shows a great impetus in the building lines since the Raleigh and Southport Railroad connected it with Raleigh, the trade of which has also increased. Sewerage system is being laid and work on the new street railway has begun at Fayetteville. The Observer has recently added a linotype machine and is prospering. Mr. Atkinson, a clever gentleman, is foreman of the paper. The Highsmith Hospital is a magnificent institution, and is a credit to the city. A general remodeling of stores on Hay street has taken place. A new $25,000.00 Missionary Baptist church is nearing completion and ground has been broken for a new Methodist church. Haymarket is now in the corporate limits, and is a poem of loveliness.

To check a cold quickly, get from your drugist some little Candy Cold Tablets called Preventives. Druggists everywhere are now disposing Preventives, for they are not only safe, but decidedly certain and prompt. Preventives contain no Quinine, no Iazava, nothing harsh nor sickening. Taken at the "onset stage" Preventives will prevent Pneumonia, Bronchitis, LaGrippe, etc. Hence the name. Preventives sold for feverish children. 48 Preventives 25 cents. Trial Boxes 5 cents.
