Death of Mr. L. L. Worrell. . Mr. L. Worrell, died at Hillsboro Mississippi on the 11th of October. Mr. Worrell was quite a successful far mer. He sold his farm in Seventy First township to the late Mr. Thos. Bennett, and moved to Mississippi in 1893. He leaves a great many friends and relatives in Cumberland who will be pained to learn of his death. He died in his seventy-fifth year.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK COAST LINE TRAIN.

Obstruction Placed on the Bridge Ad rose Cape Fear.

There was a dastardly attempt to wreck north bound passenger train No. 80 yesterday at noon. Mr. Eugene Tomlinson, was on the point of cross ing the upper steel bridge which cro'ses the Cape Fear, about noon yester day, when he discovered that a heav piece of wooden guard rail, had been placed along side the steel rail, and after some effort, managed to remove it just before the approach of No. 80 The obstruction could hardly have been seen by the engineer, and but for its timely discovery there might have been a fatal disaster. Hanging would be too good for the villain who did this.

THE LATE CAPT. W. P. WEMYSS.

Funeral This Afternoon. From Wednesday's Daily.

The funeral of Capt. William P Wemyss, whose death was announced in yesterady afternoon's Observer too place from Hay Street Methodist Church this afternoon.

William Proudfoot Wemyss, was born in Glassgow, Scotland, on April ter. In the center of this float stood 26th 1834, being a descendant of the ancient family of Wemyss, which traces its descent through the famous Earl of Fife, the slayer of Macbeth, whom Shakespeare made famous, to Duffus, King of Scotland, 962. Mr. Wemyss, had a complete family tree, showing the above facts, of which he was justly proud. Capt. Wemyss came to this country when quite young with his parents. Prior coming to Fayetteville the family resided at Clinton in Sampson County. He came to Fayeteville before the war, and at the outbreak of hostilities he went with the Bethel Regiment as First Sergeant, to Yorktown.

He was a Mason, and is said to have been one of the best posted men of this great order, in the Satte His wife who was Miss Mary Frizzell, died some years ago. He is survived by one sis ter, Mrs. Charles Kennedy, of this city; and three sons and one daughter, as follows: David F. Wemyss of Port Norfolk, Va.; John Wemyss, of Rocky Mount; Robt. L. Wemyss, and Mrs. C. P. Overby, of this city.

PATTEN IS BOOMING COTTON

Predicts 17 and 18 Cents.

By telegraph to Observer. New York, Oct. 29.-James A Patten is the dominating influence in trading on the New York cotton exchange today. Prices are booming and he it is almost universally said, is the boomer. Cotton was excited this morning with a tendency ever upward. Patten through his publicity mediums is making the prediction of 17 and 18 cents for cotton, and the price trend today makes it feasible. January on opening went to a new high level for years, while all other months were from 20 to 22 points up. Around noon there was some heavy profit taken, but prices held firm with a prediction for a rise this afternoon.

THE COAST LINE'S NEW TRAIN. Goes On November 15th.

The additional train on the Atlantic Coast Line, which the Observer several days ago stated would soon be put on, it is now officially announced will begin its regular schedule on the 15th

This train will run from New York to Florida, and will arrive in Fayetteville somewhere about 8 o'clock. Returning, the train will arrive here from Florida somewhere about 7 o'clock. The schedule has not yet been published. This train should be of great service to Payetteville, as it gives us train service on the Atlantic Coast Line from the north in the morning, and returning late in the after-trains from New York daily over the poultry, etc, which attract much inter- officers equal to the city taxes, is not Atlantic Coast Line, in addition to est and favorable comment. Alto- obnoxious to any section of the Conthe Florida Specials.

THE FIRST DAY OF THE FAIR.

The Agricultural Exhibits Fine-Mag Nificent Floats-Tomorrow Big Day.

From Wednesday's Datly.
The Cumberland County Fair opened this morning under the most favorable auspices for the largest and best fair in the history of the Agricultural Society-forty-seven years. The agricultural exhibits are the finest and largest ever displayed in Cumberland County.

Mrs. C. E. Ayer and Mrs. W. H. Powell each have a fine display of potted flowers.

Among the exhibits were noticed many meritious displays by the farmers, one by Mr. W. C. Fields, of Cedar Creek township, Mr. M. Bill, of Carver's Creek township; Messrs, J. H. McArthur, D. K. Taylor, L. L. Pate and John M. Owen, of Seventy-First township. Mr. Taylor's exhibit was very attractive, indeed, and shows the true spirit in which the farmers can make the county fairs a success and advertise her advantages to the people of the country who come from far and near to attend the Fayetteville Fair. which is becoming more and more popular every year.

The exhibits in the floral hall are excellent, and perhaps better than ever, before, which shows that the ladies are keeping nace with the men in the progress of our County.

Mrs. N. A. Sinclair, had a fine play of garden products which compared favorably with the field products of the best farmers in the Coun-

Dr. Seavy Highsmith's automobile, which was tastefully decorated in white and green, in which was seated the Doctor, and Misses Alice Haigh, Mary Fuller Robeson and Mary Mc Neill. Is it any wonder that this auto mobile should win the first prize? These charming young ladies, all dressed in pure white, would be enough without any other decorations to win the first prize anywhere.

Dr. J. V. McGougan's machine, which was decorated in yellow and occupied by some more of Fayetteville's lovely woman folks: Mrs. W. N. Williams. Miss Jessie Crosswell and Miss Maron Slocomb, won the second prize

Mrs. Belle Carson, won the first prize for a horse and buggy turnout. This turnout was driven by Miss Annie Theresa McMillan, and was decorated in Royal purple. Miss McMillan, as pretty an attractive a girl as there is, was cheered many times as she drove down Hay Street in the pro-

The Ideal Electric Company, wor the first prize for the best business float and the Adams Grain and Feed Company, the second. They were both fine, but the finest of them all, perhaps was the Manchester School float, which was awarded the first prize This float was pure white, and drawn by two fine iron gray horses furnished by the Croatan Club of Manchesthe statue of liberty, holding the torch harbor, which faces the harbor, and tells to the world the story of the greatest victory for liberty and freedom ever recorded in the pages of history. This statue was in the person of Mrs. W. A. Nickolson, who was well known as Miss Frances Clark, before her marriage. Her sister, Miss Nellie Clark, represented Science, Miss Elma Brooks, Liberty, Miss Mamie McFarland, Art, and Miss Nellie Black, Music. Messrs. Herbert Clark and Scott McFarland rode in front of this float on horse back. Chief Marshal C. L. Dunn, is to be congratulated on the parade. The Italian band which is one of the finest in the country took their place in the procession, furnishing delightful music. There were about one hundred nounted marshals in the parade. Thursday and Friday the people will come on special as well as regular trains and Fayetteville will have more folks in her borders than at any time since the Centennial.

Thousands Pour into Fayetteville

From All Directions.

From Thursday's Daily. As the Observer forecasted yesterday afternoon this is a record breaking day in attendance for the Cumberland County Agricultural Society, and President S. H. Strange, Treasurer Walter Watson, Secretary J. B. Tillinghast, and Chief Marshal Carl Dunn, are to be congratulated.

From early morning until when the regular and special trains arrived, thousands of people poured into Fayeteville, on foot, in carriages and automobiles and by railroad. Many of the numerous trains were taxed beyond their capacity, and for two hours, from 10:30 A. M. until 12:30, P. M. thousands of people marched in continuous prosession from the railroad stations, down Hay Street, and thence to the Fair Grounds. The vast area of the Fair Grounds is literally packed with people; while from the grand stand, and around the track, thousands are watching the interesthorse races. It is a well dressed and prosperous looking crowd, and all seem bent on to sell only in the city market, which enjoying themselves to the fullest extent. The various shows, and riding devices are crowded, while other thousands throng the exhibition buildings, where they find profitable and interesting amusement, in studying these fine displays, of farm, garden, and nfill products, and man a ndoewnmreleis cials; that the market be under the products and man and woman's handi- city's supervision, and that the city work. LAST DAY OF THE FAIR

A Good Crowd in Attendance.

From Friday's Daily.

This is the last day of the biggest fair in the recent history of the Cumberland County Agricultural Society. For the last day there is an unusually large crowd on the grounds and all are having a jolly time. The great crowds from abroad who have visited the Fair, go home, expressing pleasure at having come, and promise certain ly to attend the next Fair. Most of these took advantage of Fayetteville's unsurpassed shopping facilities, as the big trade done by our merchants attests.

Following are the results of the races yesterday. The feature of the card was the 2:17 pace, won by Giles Mebane, entered by Penny, of Greens-

SUPREME COURT DECIDES TWO MORE CUMBERLAND CASES.

Kindley vs Railroad, New Trial-Pen ry ve City, Affirmed.

In the case of W. E. Kindley vs the S. A. L. railroad, in which Mr. Kindley got a verdict for $170, the Supreme Court yesterday granted a new trial; a digest of its decission being:

1. Plaintiff sues to recover value of diamond. Plaintiff bought ticket from Fayetteville over A. C. L. Ry. and S. A. L. Ry. to Charlotte. Owing to the failure to make connection at Maxton, plaintiff returned to Fayetteville. The trunk of the plaintiff containing a diamond ring was carried to Charlotte and later returned to Pavetteville where it was ascertained that the trunk had been opened and the diamond stolen. Trial judge instructed the jury that the S. A. L. Railroad might be held to be insurer. warehouseman or gratuitous baillee depending on the view they took of the acts presented in the evidence. Held that such instructions were error, that plaintiff failed to go to Charlotte the S. A. L. Ry. could only be a gratuitous bailee bound only to a light degree of care and liable for gross negligence, if the diamond was abstracted from the trunk while in its possession. As gratuitous bailee the burden was on plaintiff to show negli-

On this decision, today's Raleigh News and Observer says:

"The case of Kindley against the Seaboard Air Line railroad, decided yesterday by the Supreme Court, settles the liability of railroads for the baggage of persons who are not passengers. The plaintiff, Kindley, bought a ticket at Fayetteville over the Atlantic Coast Line to Maxton, and over the Seaboard to Charlotte. Her baggage, a trunk, was checked to Charlotte and in the trunk was a diamond ring. When the plaintiff reached Maxton, she found that the Seaboard train was late by several hours and so she returned to Fayetteville, leaving her trunk at Maxton as she could not find the agent to re-check it to Fayeteyille. The trunk was taken on to Charlotte, and later returned to her at Fayetteville, where it was discovered that it had been opened and the diamond stolen.

"Suit was brought and judgment recovered against the Seaboard for the value of the diamond. The jury was instructed that the Seaboard might be held liable as insurers, warehouse men or as gratuitous baillees. Upon this instruction the Supreme Court granted a new trial, stating that the Seaboard could be only held as gratuitous baillees and responsible for gross negligence. Under the laws of this State, the plaintiff not using her ticket to Charlotte had a right to return it and be re-imbursed and the railroad received nothing for carrying the trunk from Maxton to Charlotte for her. It could recover nothing. This being the case, the railroad was only responsible for any damage to the trunk or its contents which were proven to have been done by gross negligence. State vs Perry, Cumberland

Affirmed., Brown, J. 1. Indictment for violating an ordinance of the City of Fayetteville by selling fish upon its streets. Held that this ordinance is a valid exercise of the police power vested generally in municipalities.

True enough, the arrow from that unerring Archer pierced him, with harness on, at over three score years and ten, and doing good work as head of the Law School at Chapel Hill; but some of us know, that his heart yearned for rest, and that the evening of his days might be spent here, where

Stops Lameness

Much of the chronic lameness in horses is due to neglect. See that your horse is not allowed to go lame. Keep Sloan's Liniment on hand and apply at the first sign of stiffness. It's wonderfully penetrating — goes right to the spot — relieves the soreness — limbers up the joints and makes the muscles elastic and pliant

Here's the Proof.

Mr. G. T. Roberts of Resaca, Ga., R.F.D. No. 1, Box 43, writes:—"I have used your Liniment on a horse for sweeney and effected a thorough cure. I also removed a spavin on a mule. This spavin was as large as a guinea egg. In my estimation the best remedy for lameness and soreness is

Sloan's iniment

Mr. H. M. Gibbs, of Lawrence, Kans., R.F.D. No. 3, writes:—"Your Liniment is the best that I have ever used. I had a mare with an abscess on her neck and one 50c. bottle of Sloan's Liniment entirely cured her. I keep it around all the time for galls and small swellings and for everything about the stock."

Sloan's Liniment will kill a spavin curb or splint, re duce wind puffs and swollen joints, and is a sure and speedy remedy for fistula, sweeney, founder and thrush.
