We sincerely trust that the child will recover.

NEGRO SUPPOSED TO BE DEAD, COMES TO LIFE. In Presence of Coroner and Police.

From Monday's Daily. Saturday night, Capt. Beasley and Stewart of the A. C. L., while on their way home, discovered a negro lying near the track at the Maiden Lane crossing, with a very ugly gash in the forehead over the left eye, and apparently dead. They notified police headquarters, and summoning the Coroner, Dr. J. V. McGowan, Chief of Police Monaghan accompanied by that official, and several policemen, repaired to the scene to investigate the killing and hold an inquest. Just as they reached the body, which was stretched out where it was found, the supposed corpse rose up, to the surprise of the large crowd that had gathered around, got on its feet and began to amble off. He said his name was Dave Richardson and that while walking with a girl, some one he did not know, struck him in the head with an iron instrument. He did not know anything more until he came to his senses in the presence of the coroner and police. The woman with whom he was walking had disappeared and he could give no clear account of her.

Death of Mrs. Julia Cromartie. Mrs. Julia Cromartie, wife of Mr. Luther Cromartie, died at her home in Garland on Saturday evening. Mrs. Cromartie was 76 years of age. She is survived by her husband, who is 90 years of age. Their married life has been a most remarkable one. On November 7th, they spent the 60th anniversary of their marriage. Although 13 children were born to them, they had lost by death only two of them, one of the two, a married daughter and their youngest child, preceding her mother to the grave by only a few months. Mrs. Cromartie, who was before marriage Miss Julia Cromartie, was born August 9th, 1833, and was reared in Bladen county. She was the youngest of 14 children and is survived by her husband and 11 children, five of whom reside at Garland. She also leaves 24 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

JURY GIVES ESTATE OF W. A. STEWART $32,320.

In Case of Executor Vs Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

From Saturday's Daily. At nine o'clock this morning the jury in the case of H. C. McNeill, executor of the late W. A. Stewart, which has been on trial in Harnett Superior Court at Lillington for the past few days, returned a verdict against the A. C. L. for $32,320. After occupying two full days in its hearing, the jury was given the case at 9 o'clock last night and just twelve hours later returned the above verdict. The plaintiff asked for $75,000.

On the night of February 20th, 1909, Mr. W. A. Stewart was standing near the tracks of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad at the Broad Street crossing, Dunn, talking to Professor Ezzell, Superintendent of Schools, when, what was said to have been a "flying shirt" of cars struck both men, with the result that Mr. Stewart was killed, while Prof. Ezzell escaped unharmed. Mr. Stewart's death caused great sorrow throughout the State, as he was one of the most brilliant young lawyers in Eastern Carolina, and was exceedingly popular.

It is said that the Atlantic Coast Line will appeal from the verdict rendered this morning. The plaintiff was represented by Hon. H. L. Godwin, N. A. Townsend, and R. L. Godwin; and the defendant by Hon. Geo. M. Rose, and Messrs. D. H. McLean and J. C. Clifford.

DEATH OF MR. DAVID G. ROBESON

A Prominent Citizen of Red Springs.

From Monday's Daily. Mr. David G. Robeson, a prominent citizen of Red Springs died yesterday after a lingering illness. Mr. Robeson was in his 78th year and until his removal to Red Springs to educate his children about fifteen years ago he was one of the most extensive land owners and farmers in Bladen county. He was a ruling elder in Mt. Herib Presbyterian church in Bladen, and was also a county commissioner for a number of years. He was a gallant officer in the Confederate service. He is survived by a widow, formerly Miss Isabelle McDougald, of Harnett county, and five children: Dr. J. A. Robeson, of Savannah; Mrs. Morgan, of Burlington; Mrs. Martin McKinnon, and Mr. Bartram Robeson, of Red Springs, and Mr. David G. Robeson, Jr., of Bladen. His only surviving sister, Mrs. Janie W. MacKethan, and a number of other relatives here left today for Red Springs to attend the funeral.

Mr. Robeson was the oldest living member of the Robeson family, which was so closely identified with the early history of the Cape Fear. He was a great-grandson of Col. Thomas Robeson, for whom Robeson county was named, and also of Col. James Gillespie, from whom one of our most beautiful streets takes its name.

DEATH OF MRS. JAMES PEARCE.

From Monday's Daily. Mrs. Pearce, widow of the late James Pearce, Esq., died yesterday morning at 5 o'clock at the residence of her son, Mr. J. H. Pearce, corner of Mason and Arch streets. The funeral took place this afternoon from St. John's Episcopal church at 3:30 o'clock in the presence of a large congregation. Rev. B. F. Husko of Greenville, conducted the services. The music was especially sweet. The interment was in Cross Creek cemetery and the grave was covered with many beautiful flowers.

Mrs. Pearce, who was 57 years of age was the third child, and only daughter of the late Rev. Joseph C. Husko and Margaret Strange. She is survived by four sons: Joseph Husko Pearce of this city, and James deFornor, Robert Husko, and Bert Martin Pearce, now residents of Florida, and who are now all here; and the following brothers: Mr. A. Kirkland Husko of Great Neck Long Island, and Mr. Leighton Husko of this city. Mrs. Pearce was a good woman in every sense of the word. Her devotion to her father, so long the beloved rector of St. John's church in this city, in the declining years of his life was beautiful, and equally was this true of her love and devotion for her husband, and children. She was also the idol of her brothers, as she was their good angel. Her death brings great sorrow to a large number of relatives and to all of the community.

Death of Mr. J. A. D. Boone.

From Tuesday's Daily. Mr. J. A. D. Boone, who was stricken with paralysis Saturday morning, died this morning at 4 o'clock, without having regained consciousness. Mr. Boone was 70 years of age; is survived by a widow, his second wife; who was Miss Bullard; and by twelve children, by his first wife, who was Miss Aquilla Lockamy. Bell of Valdosta, Ga. The deceased was a son of the late Sampson Boone, and is the last of a number of brothers to survive. He was a gunsmith by trade, but in the latter years of his life has been engaged in photography. Mr. Boone was an excellent christian man and his death will be mourned by a large number of friends. DO NOT FORGET THE FARMERS' MEETINGS.

Five Farmers' and Drainage Meetings to be Held in Cumberland, and Five in Robeson; Beginning November 29, and Closing December 3.

Do not fail to attend the Farmers' and Drainage meetings which we spoke of last week. Mr. Godwin says that we cannot say too much in praise of the advantage which these meetings will be to our people.

These meetings will be held in this county and Robeson, as follows: Cedar Creek, Monday, Nov. 29, 11 A. M.

Stedman, Monday, Nov. 29, 7 P. M. Eastover, Tuesday, Nov. 30, 11 A. M.

Hope Mills, Tuesday, Nov. 30, 7 P. M. Raeford, Wednesday, Dec. 1, 11 A. M.

Lumber Bridge, Wednesday, Dec. 1, 7 P. M. St. Pauls, Thursday, Dec. 2, 11 A. M. Howellsville, Thursday, Dec. 2, 7 P. M.

Black Swamp School House, Friday, Dec. 3, 11 A. M. Fairmont, Friday, Dec. 3, 7 P. M.

"These meetings," writes Congressman Godwin, "will be addressed by Mr. J. O. Wright, of the U. S. Drainage office, Mr. J. P. Campbell, Field Agent of the Farmers' Co-operative Demonstration Work of the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., and myself. It is our intention to make these meetings very interesting to our people, and I hope you will arrange to attend and invite your friends and neighbors to attend also."

[Eastover is especially situated for one of the meetings mentioned above, as in the neighborhood, it is estimated, there is one body of 20,000 acres of land, which when reclaimed by drainage will be magnificent farming land. This land it is said will be enhanced in value at least one million dollars.]

Our readers will recall the Observer's report of the highly interesting speech made by Mr. Wright at the Court House in Fayetteville two years ago. He will deeply interest his hearers again, and every one should turn out to hear him. Mr. Campbell, Mr. Godwin says, is the best farmers' speaker he ever heard.

Let every one who can attend these most interesting meetings.

Hope Mills, N. C., Nov. 23.—Mr. W. M. Barber, of Goldsboro, N. C., has been visiting here this week.

To the one raising the largest amount of money up to last Sunday night, a free course in shorthand, typewriting and bookkeeping in the Carolina Business School was to be given, and to the one raising the next largest amount of money for this object was to receive a $5 gold coin.

Among the many young people who entered this contest in these various churches, were Misses Flora A. Carver and Roela Ralins, of this place, who came out victorious, Miss Carver receiving the free scholarship and Miss Ralins receiving the $5 in gold.

A Child Burned to Death.

Cumberland, N. C., Nov. 23.—The Methodist Sunday school had an oyster supper and other refreshments at the academy Saturday night to help raise funds for a Christmas tree, and the receipts were $25. L. M. Culbreth was the excellent manager, Albert Wade made a fine secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. Albert Wade, Misses Alma Biggs, Grace Robinson, Willa Autry, Mary Frances Gulton, Mrs. E. H. Woodall and others deserve many thanks and high praise for acting so efficiently as waiters. Several boys washed dishes. It was a fine, jolly crowd, and the order was excellent. Miss Grace Robinson won the ring, Miss Bertha Smith got the finest cake. We hope people will liberally help them raise the desired $50 for this good cause.

Rev. T. H. Sutton preached Sunday evening, and stated that he would go to conference with all claims from this church, including the pastor's salary paid in full. This is good news, and very creditable to pastor and church, as dull times, many gone away, etc., made the burdens seem heavy on the M. E. Church here.

Mr. Ben Autry and others deserve credit for faithful service in raising the amounts. The pastor has numerous friends who desire his return, but as he has been located at Hope Mills three years the Bishop may send him elsewhere. He used a horse-shoe magnet in his sermon as an object lesson, showing how it will attract small new nails more readily than large old rusty nails, etc., as Jesus attracts young children and youths more readily than old hard sinners. May the latter class heed the warning. Present at the Methodist Sunday School Sunday, 112; collection $2.00.

Ben Autry left Monday to visit his brother, Rev. John Autry at Bethel, N. C., for probably a week or more.

J. Frederick Houston, chief owner, and W. D. Allen manager of the cotton mill here, arrived last week from their home in New York, and will remain for some time. They visited Miss Hesper Ann Pattisall Sunday evening. They formerly boarded with her and are great friends. Mr. Houston advocates a regular tourist hotel of 60 rooms, kept strictly up-to-date, to attract northerners to the excellent growing city of Fayetteville. He says it ought to be a quiet attractive place.

Miss Eloise McGill passed through here, going toward Hope Mills Sunday in an automobile with several others. Those that ranked first in one or more studies in the Cumberland Graded School during the past month were: Alma Briggs, Paul Wade, Alice Woodall, Labella Smith, Byron Tillman, Marius Nordon, Bertha Smith, John Gulton, Lottie Gulton, Myrtle Phillips, Clarence Culbreth, and others. Marvin Webster led the boys and Bessie Gaise the girls in perfect deportment. In the primary department Haywood Autry and Lizzie McLeod behaved best the past month and Kate Creel the first month. Ramon Wade, Oscar Balton and Bert Jones did well for so young.

Mr. Robert West recently moved near the postoffice. While Mrs. West and son were gone after water they left Nellie, about five years of age, to keep the baby out of the fire, and Nellie was heard screaming, and her mother urged the boy to hasten to her. He found her clothing in flames. He asked her to dip her head into the tub of water and then threw it upon her, putting out the fire. About all the clothes from her waist to her knees were burned off, her hair was burned some, and from her waist to her knees was badly burned. John A. Smith soon put linseed oil on her burns and Dr. Gilbert of Hope Mills was sent for. She died Monday at 11:30 p. m. People greeted sympathetically with the entire family.
