How to Deal With the Butcher.

It is quite as true that wisdom is money as that time is money, and never so true as when dealing with the butcher. To know how to buy a piece of beef that will cost only twenty cents but when cooked aright will be as delicious and as nourishing as one which cost forty cents means money to the housewife. Many housewives, however, do not even know one cut of beef from the other except as the butcher labels it. Along these lines a series of articles in the New Idea Woman's Magazine is giving information. Miss Elizabeth W. Morrison, the well known writer on food topics, talks of "The Hind Quarter of Beef" in the February number, showing by diagrams where each cut lies and following the general treatment of the subject by a number of good recipes, such as pot roast and beefsteak rolls. The future numbers will take up veal and lamb in the same way.

Long Live The King.

is the popular cry throughout European countries; while in America the cry of the present day is "Long live Dr King's New Discovery, King of Throat and Lung Remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Ryder Pain, Truro, Mass., says, "It never fails to give immediate relief and to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Paine's opinion is shared by a majority of the inhabitants of this country. New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throats after all other remedies have failed, and for coughs and colds it's the only sure cure. Guaranteed by The Justus Pharmacy. 50c and $1.00 Trial bottle free.

The Head Gear "Peril."

Representative Harshaw, of Caldwell recently introduced a bill to protect citizens at public gatherings against head gear. No doubt there are hundreds of men in all parts of the state who can give the right hand of fellowship to Mr Harshaw on this measure.

Full many a time has it been the cruel fate of mortals, of the masculine gender, to twist and crane their necks until their systems ached in the futile effort to catch a stragling vision of the speaker through the bulky labyrinth of plumes and ribbons. But, while the great portion of sterner sex are rejoicing in the pluck of the gentleman from Caldwell, what, oh, what will the ladies say? No doubt ere this he has been canceled from their list of acquaintances. Possibly, in their eruptions of indignation some have even gone farther and designated him as a "horrid creature," or terms to that effect. We pity him, consequently for what he must suffer, even while we thank him for the service rendered.—Charlotte News.

One Of The Results of liberally using our fertilizers, is to pay off a mortgage on the old farm. Read the following from Messrs. Wherry & Son, owners of the Magnolia Fruit Farm, Durant, Miss.: "We made $600 from one acre strawberries, on which your fertilizer was used. Eight years ago we bought this place at $20 per acre. It was then considered to have been worn out twenty years before, but by liberally using Virginia-Carolina Fertilizers under peas and velvet beans, we can now grow almost anything, and have been offered $200 per acre for the place. We experimented with a great many brands of fertilizers, but find the highest per-cent, cheapest." Now don't you think Virginia-Carolina Fertilizers would enable you to pay off a mortgage if you had one? Well, don't use any other. Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co. Richmond, Va. Norfolk, Va. Objects to the Poles.

To the Editor: As a well wisher of your otherwise beautiful resort, will you allow me space in your columns to speak of what I consider a piece of folly on the part of your city authorities. I refer to the unsightly and hideous electric light poles, stuck in the middle of your otherwise most beautiful Main street. They are not even painted if my recollection serves me correctly, but stand there, ugly and repulsive, a most serious menace to those driving, and spoiling the effect of the entire street. Would not the city be liable for damages in case a runaway horse should strike one of these obstructions? Are they not properly "obstructions in a public highway?" Trusting you will take this matter up and agitate it to the end that Hendersonville may no longer allow such an offense to civic beauty to remain constantly before them, and trusting also that I may have the pleasure of seeing your fine Main street as beautiful as it was meant to be without those unsightly, unpainted great sticks, I remain. Yours sincerely, T. R. WILMONT.

The New York World.

The Thrice-a-week World, now that a great Presidential campaign is foreshadowed, hopes to be a better paper than it has ever been before, and it has made its arrangements accordingly. Its news service covers the entire globe, and it reports everything fully, promptly and accurately. It is the only newspaper, not a daily, which is as good as a daily, and which will keep you as completely informed of what is happening throughout the world.

The Thrice-a-Week World is fair in its political reports. You can get the truth from its columns, whether you are Republican or Democrat, and that is what you want.

A special feature of the Thrice-a-Week World has been its serial fiction. It publishes novels by the best authors in the U. S., in book form sell for $1.50 apiece, and its high standard in this respect will be maintained in the future as in the past.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and The French Broad Hustler together for one year for $1.50. The regular subscription of the two papers is $2.00.

Notice of Dissolution of Partnership.

January 1st, 1907. Notice is hereby given to the public that G. W. Brooks and J. O. Williams, heretofore doing a general merchandise business at Hendersonville, N. C., under the firm name of Brooks & Williams, have this day dissolved partnership, G. W. Brooks, having sold his interest to J. O. Williams, who will continue the business at the old stand in the Bank of Hendersonville block. All accounts due the firm are payable to J. O. Williams, as he assumes all the indebtedness of the firm.

The retiring member of the firm thanks his customers for their patronage, and takes this opportunity of bespeaking for Mr. Williams a continuation of the patronage which the people of Henderson County have given the old firm in the past.

Which are You Paying For?

The Big Load or the Little Load.

If you have an ordinary heater you are buying the big load of wood where the small load would be sufficient fuel to produce the same amount of heat in the

WILSON HEATER

The celebrated Hot Blast Down-Draft in the Wilson produces perfect combustion and the burnable fumes which escape in other heaters are consumed in the Wilson, so that every piece of wood in the Wilson Heater will produce one-half more heat than the same amount of wood in other heaters.

No one likes to waste money—why throw away 50 cents on every dollar you spend for fuel?
