Found a Mare's Nest.

The few opponents to the development of Hendersonville and Henderson county who are endeavoring to get signatures to a petition asking the county commissioners to rescind their action about the bridges, are making much ado over nothing concerning another matter, namely a letter from the Norton's in which the latter say they will apply for an injunction as soon as the dam is started.

This phase of the matter had already been considered by the Hendersonville Lake, Land and Power Co., and it is claimed the Supreme Court, in almost similar instances, has held that the complainants can recover damages only. It is proposed to guarantee the outside capitalists freedom from any expense which may arise in this connection, and it is claimed there is not the slightest probability of a permanent injunction being granted.

The Lake?

It looks to a man up a tree as though the lake would be built this year. Negotiations are now at the closing up point. The Southern Railway has agreed to elevate its tracks and do all within its power to help along the project. They are willing to send engineers here to make the surveys at any time requested. The railroad company has expressed itself as being heartily in favor of the lake.

It is said the land will be cleared and the dam constructed at the same time. The outside capitalists will begin work immediately the proper legal forms are gone through. It is expected this will be done as soon as certain negotiations now pending are out of the way.

Concert.

On Monday evening, April 1st, at 8 o'clock, at the Opera House, a concert will be given under the auspices of the ladies of St. James Church.

Dr. St. John, the well known violinist of New York and Miss Eloise Trwin will be the special attractions. They will be ably assisted by some of our best local talent. General admission 25 cents; reserved seats 50 cents. Lovers of good music will not fail to take advantage of this opportunity. Reserved seats may be obtained at Hunters Pharmacy.

At the Millinery Openings.

"Oh, girls, why didn't you go to the millinery openings, last week. I went to both, to Mrs. Hart's and Mrs. Posey's, and I declare to goodness I never saw such a crowd in all my life. Both stores had the prettiest displays I have almost ever seen, and you know I've been out side of Hendersonville, a little.

"And, gracious sakes alive, but how those women did gobble up the hats. You could tell Easter was not far off. Miss Moore said they sold I don't know how many and Miss Woodall is just worn to a frazzle, and the busiest time for both stores just coming on.

"At Mrs. Hart's store, which was just beautifully decorated, I saw a hat which I wanted real bad. It was made of lace, trimmed with a yellow rose in front, and a white plume, white taffeta ribbon, with a bow in the back and loops of ribbon falling over the brim. Girls, it was just fine!

"You know the proper thing this year is the mushroom effect, and you'll see it carried out in almost every style. My, don't you know what the mushroom effect is? Well, it's just like a mushroom, it droops down all over. They have large crowns, droop brim, and may be trimmed front or side. You see, last year every hat turned up somewhere, on the back, on the side, or somewhere. Well, this year, it's just the opposite, and most every hat you see droops down somewhere about it. That's the very latest effect, and I must say it's becoming to most.

"And Mrs. Hart has just the sweetest, cutest little toque you ever saw. It was grey, made of neapolitan, with a beautiful wing and silver buckle and looked too cute for anything.

"Yes, the hats this Spring are just loaded with flowers, and of the brightest colors, too. The newest thing is striped ribbons for trimming, altho' figured ribbons are very popular.

"At Mrs. Posey's I saw some awfully pretty hats. I looked at one, which I'm going to buy, I think. It was made of milan braid, trimmed with blue velvet, ribbons and wings and had a straw buckle, with brown malines on the band. The streamer was tied in a bow, and it was just sweet, and exactly suited to a blonde.

"And, Mame, I wish you could have tried on that large light blue Neapolitan hat. It was the correct mushroom shape, trimmed with two large pink roses, with natural foliage, and was caught up with two light blue pins to one side.

"There's nothing sweeter for a brunette like you, my dear, and maybe Mrs. Posey still has it, altho' such a pretty thing as that ought not to stay long in the store, I'm sure.

"Then I saw another in the new apricot color, which was just a dream. It was made of chip braid, with three roses from apricot to burnt orange, trimmed with brown velvet ribbon, with brown malines on band. It had two pins with ornaments of the same shade, and was caught up to one side by them.

"Then there's a street hat at Mrs. Posey's which I wanted, too. It was a champagne color, trimmed with champagne and brown ribbon, and the two quills were caught on top with two rosettes of ribbon, while on the band were brown shaded chrysanthemums with natural foliage and ribbon.

"Do you know, girls, there are more black hats being trimmed with colors, this year, than ever before? Well, it's true, and pink and blue seem to be the favorite, and I must say the effect is pretty.

"You must be going, you say? Well, I know you are busy with the dress-maker, but I just wish you could have attended the openings, altho, goodness knows there was such a crowd of women at both stores that you could hardly get in. Yes, I know there's only a few days to Easter and don't you pity the poor milliners? Well, goodbye, and I do hope you'll like my new hat when you see it next Sunday."

Excursion Rates to Jamestown Exposition.

T. M. SMITH,
Town Tax Collector.

A. B. Calvert's New Mill.

The cotton mill which Mr. Calvert wishes to build in Hendersonville would be devoted to the manufacture of the highest grade of cotton fabrics made to sell at 60 cents a yard and up. His desire to build here is an interesting development of the labor situation of the country. As a matter of fact he is bringing the mill to the labor, and the question of labor is one of his main reasons for wishing to build here. He believes the labor of this section to be unsurpassed.

It would undoubtedly be the means of keeping the people of Henderson county at home and probably would attract many new settlers. The pay roll of a mill this size would amount to thousands of dollars each week. The money would be put into circulation regularly and would be of great benefit to the whole community.

The location of the mill would be on the outskirts of the town, and would, it is claimed, in no way interfere with the reputation or desirability of Hendersonville as a resort.

While nothing definite has as yet been done towards securing this enterprise for Hendersonville, the authorities undoubtedly will take it up and see what can be done towards that end. High Point is straining every effort to have it built there but Mr. Calvert is predisposed towards Hendersonville. If the town meets his requirements he will start building in less than two months.

It is said that money invested in cotton mills in the south is scores of instances pay as high as 15 per cent. A. B. Calvert has the reputation of being able to turn most everything he touches into gold. He is a man of most remarkable executive ability and has been eminently successful in his business life.

Buildings.

The amount of building now going on in Hendersonville is remarkable. It is claimed there are more residences now being erected than ever before at this time of year. There are no idle mechanics, and the only drawback is the scarcity of building material, which is hard to get. It seems that lake or n lake, Hendersonville is bound to get there anyway.

In the Mayor's Court.

There were fourteen drunk and disorderly cases tried in mayor's court on Monday and Tuesday. His honor assessed heavy fines on all. Most were from out of town. Some were put off the Southern's trains here.

It is said that thirty to forty gallons of liquor were put off at the local express office last Saturday night.

Thats Us.

One of the Hustler's extremely thoughtful subscribers clipped the following little bit of double distilled extract of truthfulness, and handed it to us with a nice piece of money paying her subscription in advance. May it appeal to the heart and conscience of many more of our readers:

"We have been informed that one of our newly-married young ladies kneads bread with her gloves on, says the "Cambridge, Ohio, Sun." The editor of this paper needs bread with his shoes on; he also needs it with his trousers on; and unless the delinquent readers of this old rag of freedom pay up soon, he will need bread without a darn thing on."

Hendersonville Poultry Association.

A close corporation with the above title has been formed in this city, by Messrs. Rickman, Brooks, Williams, Morris, King and Waldrop. It is said several rank outsiders are endeavoring to break into the company, but so far the original members have stood firm and refused to sell stock (either kind, chickens or paper), to anyone who did not come in on the ground floor.

It is said some public spirited citizens are going to apply for an injunction against the company, prohibiting them letting their hens lay eggs.

Revival Services.

Rev. D. M. Litaker has had the following printed at the Hustler office for public distribution. Evangelist Glenn is a powerful speaker and much good is anticipated as a result of these services.

"You are invited to come and bring your friends to the revival services at the Methodist Church in Hendersonville beginning on Easter Sunday and continuing through the Sunday following. Evangelist E. C. Glenn will conduct the meeting. Day services at 10 a. m. Night services at 8 p. m. The other denominations and all visiting Methodists are cordially invited to make themselves at home in the meeting.

D. M. LITAKER."

Resolutions.

Whereas on March 7, 1907, it has pleased our Heavenly father to remove from our midst our beloved brother Joseph Youngblood, and whereas we appreciate his faithfulness to his Church and his loyalty to Christ. Therefore be it resolved.

1. That we submissively bow to the will of Him whose right it is to give life and take it away.
2. That we commend his virtues, and remember his kindness shown us by one we esteem as a brother and neighbor and friend.
3. That a page in our Church book be properly dedicated to his memory.
4. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his bereaved family and to the papers for publication.

T. H. POSY,
Pastor.
