

The French Broad Hustler.

ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR

HENDERSONVILLE, N. C. THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1909

VOL. XVIII, No. 38

ADVERTISEMENTS NOW SECURED BY CONTESTANTS

It is the general impression throughout the city of Hendersonville that there will be far heavier ballots cast in the last ten days of the Hustler Popularity Contest than during any forty days of the contest, previously.

Since the announcements that there will be a Sunday issue of the Daily Hustler and that entirely new advertisements will be required for same, the candidates are going to work in dead earnest in getting new advertisements. For the past week advertisements aggregating from fifty to one hundred thousand votes have been made. There still room for one page or more of advertisements in this special issue. Candidates who feel interested can call at this office and get prices on our advertisements.

Hundreds of people have left names at the office for this issue to be mailed to. The largest bonus offer now being made and the largest that will be made during the entire ten days longer, is the 10,000 votes for $5.00 worth of new advertising. A person canvassing can easily get one page of advertising for this Sunday issue thereby securing something over 30,000 votes in the contest.

Schaeffer-Ewbank.

A beautiful but exquisitely simple wedding was that of Miss Florence Schaeffer, of this city, to Mr. Ernest W. Ewbank, of Hendersonville, N. C., which was solemnized this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents on South Main street.

The house was appropriately decorated with palms, ferns and cut flowers. The bride entered on the arm of her brother, Rev. W. C. Schaeffer, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Frank A. Ewbank.

The impressive ring ceremony was performed by the bride's father, Dr. W. C. Schaeffer. The bride wore a beautiful hand embroidered gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Her going-away suit was of gray cloth with hat and gloves to match.

The bride is a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Schaeffer and although she has lived in Greenville only two years, she has here a wide circle of friends who, while regretting to lose from Greenville's social set such a popular member, they wish for her the fullest measure of happiness in the new relation.

The groom is one of Hendersonville's most prominent young lawyers. He has already won for himself an enviable reputation in business circles, and has been made vice-president of the Citizens' Bank of that town.

The newly-married couple left on the vestibule train for the North. After a four weeks' trip, Mr. and Mrs. Ewbank will return to Hendersonville, where they will make their home.

Out-of-town guests in attendance at the wedding are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lucas Ewbank, Miss Ewbank and Mr. Frank A. Ewbank, of Hendersonville, N. C. — Greenville (Tenn.) Democrat.

Registration.

Polls open for registration, for the sidewalk election, Sept. 17 and close Sept. 25. Mr. S. T. Hodges, Sr., is registrar, and the place to register is the town hall.

THE CEMENT WALKS AND WINTER TOURISTS

Said a well known business man this morning, referring to the coming sidewalk election, to be held September 28:

"I doubt if the people fully realize the great importance of this question they will be called upon to decide soon.

"To put cement walks down on every street inside the corporation limits of Hendersonville would place this town in an unassailable position for winter tourist traffic. The past summer has demonstrated that the summer season alone is altogether too short, and must be supplemented by a Winter business.

"With good walks all over town and paved country roads it would be possible to build up a Winter tourist business here almost equal in volume to that of the Summer, and when that is accomplished Hendersonville will be in fact, as your energetic and loyal paper now asserts to be so, THE resort of the South.

"Hendersonville is peculiarly well adapted for a Winter resort, and with paved sidewalks, paved county roads and proper advertising it would soon be a rival of any in the South.

"The sidewalk proposition should carry, and I understand there are but few men in town opposed to it."

Miss Jennie Davis, trimmer of the Misses Davis firm, has just returned from the northern markets where she has been for the past several weeks acquainting herself with the various styles as well as making large purchases for their business. Announcements for their millinery opening will be made later.

Mr. H. W. Cobb, formerly of New York City, but now president of the Herushein Tobacco Company of New Orleans, is stopping at Hotel Wheeler with his family. Mr. Cobb is very favorably impressed with the growing city of Hendersonville. His son and daughter, Miss Mary Ann Cobb and H. W. Cobb, Jr., have been visitors in the city for the past two weeks enjoying the many social functions and pleasures well afforded at this popular tourist hotel. They will remain in the city during the month of September.

58th Anniversary.

All Rebekahs and Odd Fellows are requested to attend the 58th anniversary of the Rebekah Lodge, to be celebrated Sept. 20 at 8:30 p. m., in the Odd Fellows Hall. The entertainment is given by the Rebekahs, but all Odd Fellows and their wives are especially invited to be present.

MEANS MUCH TO THIS WHOLE SECTION

Hon. H. S. Anderson leaves this week for New York and Montreal, on a mission of the utmost importance to not only the business world of Hendersonville but to the entire Western part of the State, including Asheville.

Mr. Anderson goes to close up certain financial arrangements made in New York City and in Montreal, the details of which have already been worked out and which will become operative and in effect immediately.

Mr. Anderson states this new financial proposition about to be closed has no connection with anything now before the people, but is of far greater importance than anything now talked of here.

Mr. Anderson says:

"It is of greater importance to Hendersonville and to the entire Western section of North Carolina, including Asheville, than any of the propositions lately developed here, and its influence upon the town will be far reaching. Upon my return from New York I shall be in a position to give you all details, the publication of which now would not be advisable."

It is known that Mr. Anderson has been at work on this proposition for many months, and when the public is taken into his confidence and realizes the bearing this matter will have upon the future development of this section, it will, figuratively speaking, sit up and take notice.

This matter, taken in connection with the fact that Hendersonville will soon witness the opening of the $150,000 Peoples National Bank, that the First National has doubled its capital stock, that the street railway situation is most promising, that free city delivery and cement walks will soon be a realities, is but one more indication of how Hendersonville is attracting the attention of capitalists as one of the most promising fields for investment in the South.

Miss Beulah Williams left this morning for Atlanta, where she will enter the Bagwell Business College.

The Climax Barber Shop is running five chairs now, and will have four in operation during the winter.

Misses Jennie Johnson and Jennie Belle McRay, of Bennettsville, S. C., who have been running "The Arlington" boarding house, spent yesterday in Asheville. They will leave in a few days for their home.

Clever J. A. Woodward, of the Hendersonville Realty Co., leaves for Columbia tonight. Mr. Woodward has completely recovered his health during his stay here this season, and looks forward with pleasure to a return visit next Summer.

Mrs. A. E. Posey is enjoying excellent health, has not been sick, and is glad she has so many friends, but is sorry they have her initials, which are A. E., confused with those of the late Mrs. M. E. Posey, who died last Saturday. Mrs. A. E. Posey has simply been deluged with letters and inquiries since the notice of Mrs. M. E. Posey's illness appeared in the Daily Hustler.
