METHODISTS TO BUILD CHURCH AT THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Commission Appointed For The Purpose Instructed to Begin at Once the Work of Construction—Structure to Occupy Site of Mount Vernon Place Church—Appropriations For Religious Extension Work. Richmond, Va., April 23.—Resolutions appropriating $35,000 for special religious extension work were adopted today by the board of Church extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in session here, of which $10,000 is provided for a fund of $60,000 to be raised at Seattle, Wash.; $10,000 for carrying on the work in Oklahoma City, Okla.; $10,000 for the mining section of Kentucky and $5,000 for Key West.

The report of the commission for the building of a representative church at the national capital was read and adopted. It appears that of the $275,000 desired for this enterprise $197,357.50 is in sight. The commission was later instructed to begin at once the actual work of erecting the church. The structure is to occupy the site of the present Bount Vernon Place church.

FOR AGED PEOPLE

Old Folks Should be Careful in Their Selection of Regulative Medicine.
We have a safe, dependable and altogether ideal remedy that is particularly adapted to the requirements of aged people and persons of weak constitutions who suffer from constipation or other bowel disorders. We are so certain that it will relieve these complaints and give absolute satisfaction in every particular that we offer it with our personal guarantee that it shall cost the user nothing if it fails to substantiate our claims. This remedy is called Rexall Orderlies.

Rexall Orderlies have a soothing, healing, strengthening, tonic and regulative action upon the bowels. They remove all irritation, dryness, soreness and weakness. They restore the bowels and associate organs to more vigorous and healthy activity. They are eaten like candy, may be taken at any time without inconvenience, do not cause any griping, nausea, diarrhoea, excessive looseness, flatulence or other disagreeable effect. Price 25c. and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. The Justus Pharmacy.

Has Smoked, Chewed and Drank, But is Hale and hearty at 105.
Savannah, Ga., April 23.—Declaring that he has smoked, chewed tobacco and drank intoxicants as long as he can remember, Patrick Kinney, who lives on a farm near Douglas, in Coffee county, has returned home, after a visit to his son in Savannah. He is 105 years old.

Mr. Kinney loves his pipe and chews whatever he feels like it, but he says he only takes three toddies a day now. He is a vegetarian, declaring that meat kills more people than it keeps alive. While his hearing is impaired and his eyesight is bad, Mr. Kinney is physically in good condition and says he is good for a great many more years. He thinks nothing of walking several miles in a day.

The record in the county of his birth, "The King's County of Orange, Ireland," shows he was born Easter day, 1806. Mr. Kinney came to Georgia from Marion county, South Carolina, immediately after the earthquake of 1886. He has been a resident of Georgia since that date.

Mr. Kinney served during the civil war in the federal navy and was wounded several times. It was through no choice of his that he became engaged in the conflict. He was a sailor at the time and while in a saloon in New York he took many drinks with a stranger. When he awoke he found he had enlisted and was serving with the federal government. Mr. Kinney says the fight between the states wasn't any of his business, but after he got into it he couldn't get out without deserting and he wouldn't do that.

The old man still tries his hand at the plough on his farm and says he is just as good a worker as the youngsters on the place.

Flat Rock News.
Miss Pauline Patterson spent last week visiting friends at Asheville and Fletcher.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Seigbe sympathize with them in the loss of an infant last Saturday.

The Improved Order of Red Men had with them, on their last meeting night, Bro. Elbert from Winston-Salem, N. C., who gave them many valuable points and, but them in shape to do business. This is the first time they have had a visit from any of the higher officials since the Tribe moved from Hendersonville to E. Flat Rock, one year ago.

Bro. Albert expressed himself as being highly pleased with the Tribe here and encouraged each member by saying that the great whole, of which they are a part, was rapidly getting in the very front ranks of Orders.

Fruitland Commencement
The Fruitland Institute commencement began Friday night, April 21st with the music recital. Miss Vance of the music department was assisted by Miss Ida Missildine, of Tryon. Miss Missildine is an artist in her profession and added much to the program.

The entertainment by the primary and intermediate departments was given Saturday afternoon.

The time Saturday night was given to the Philopocian Literary Society. The Nan Miller Expression Medal was awarded to Miss Joanna Williams of Surry county.

Dr. George N. Cowan of Greenwood, S. C., preached the commencement sermon Sunday morning. It was a masterful plea for the higher life of service.

The service Sunday night was unique, but interesting and instructive. It was a praise service. The history of a number of the most stirring hymns was told, after which the hymns were sung.

The weather man was kind all through commencement. Monday dawned clear and cool. At eleven o'clock Dr. Charles E. Brower of Wake Forest College delivered the literary address. His address was a call to true citizenship.

Monday afternoon was the important occasion for the Senior class. At this time the class day exercises were held. Six diplomas were awarded.

The closing exercises were held Monday night. It was the orators' contest of the Phi Chi Literary Society. Mr. T. P. Williams of Sampson county was the winner of the orators medal. Other medals were presented at this time also. The writers' medal was presented to Mr. H. W. Grady Owens of Rutherford county. The Phi Chi Improvement medal was awarded to Mr. W. B. Sincia. Miss Ida Williams was the winner of the Philopocian Improvement medal. The housekeepers medal was presented to Miss Jennie Blythe of Hendersonville.

After an informal reception in the Girls' Home, the commencement of 1911 came to a close.

SAYS POSTOFFICE IS VAST MACHINE.

Indiana Congressman Denounces Political Tricks—Hitchcock Head of it all—Cullop Thinks Appointive Power of President is Too Great—Why Deficit Occurs.

Washington, April 23.—"The post-office department is the greatest political machine ever constructed in this or any other country and it is openly administered as a political organization."

This was the charge made on the floor of the house of representatives today by Mr. Cullop of Indiana, who referred to Postmaster General Hitchcock as being the creator and presiding genius of this organization.

Too much time devoted by the head of the postoffice department to political affairs and too little to business.

Mr. Cullop declared, was the cause for the annual deficit in the operations of the department. He said the people should know whether any of the 272,000 postmasters or employees had been discharged or reduced in rank for failure to perform political duties or contribute to campaign funds and whether employees are regularly assessed for campaign purposes and are punished if they do not comply.

"The power vested in the president is almost unlimited," he said.

"No man is wise enough, or good enough or great enough to be entrusted with such power. It is the experience of the world that clothed with such power becomes patient of restraint."

Mr. Cullop advocated the election of many of the federal employees, such as United States marshals and postmasters.
