LEOPARDS SPOTS FRIDAY NIGHT

At the Chautauqua-Auditorium Friday night the dramatization of Thomas Dixon's well-known book, "The Leop-ard's Spots," of which 500,000 have been sold, will be presented.

This is the popular author's latest stage work and it promises to be one of the best theatrical productions ever offered the people of Hendersonville and community.

The advance agents advertise that Thomas Dixon will be here and personally conduct the play, which it will take more than two hours to render.

"The Leopard's Spots" differs from Mr. Dixon's other stories in that it has a wider scope, dealing not only with incidents immediately following the war but with events occurring through the intervening years down to the present day. It is the negro situation in the South that the author presents as usual, but this time he exposes the modern problem regarding the relations of the white race and the black.
The play depicts in an interesting manner different periods in the history of the New South, and tells a daring story which is intensely dramatic at times but interspersed with delightful touches of comedy. It contains a prologue and three acts, there being a lapse of many years between the prologue and the play.

An elaborate and extensive production has been furnished for the staging of this new piece and a large company engaged to portray the many varied characters. Some novel electrical effects are employed to obtain startling realism for several scenes in the play. The burning to the ground of a house on the stage is one of the big moments and will doubtless prove a sensation.

Will Move to City.

Rev. Dr. J. C. Coggins, who has been living at Fletcher for a year or two, during which time he was principal of the graded school at that place, held a sale of some farm stock, implements and produce last Monday morning with the view to shaping up matters preparatory to moving his family to Hendersonville at an early date.

Dr. Coggins is planning to undertake a work in this city that will doubtless be of interest to its residents when announcement of his plans are made.

Saturday Evening Post Apologizes to Hendersonville.

penetrating in its intensity that it reached the ears of the Secretary of State and he felt obliged to explain."

The Chautauqua at Hendersonville was given under the auspices of the Greater Hendersonville Club, which is Hendersonville's Chamber of Commerce having a membership of the leading citizens of Hendersonville. I write in behalf of the club, which feels that you have done it an injustice—inadvertently of course—and possibly some injury in Henderson county and vicinity where The Saturday Evening Post has a deservedly large circulation. The statement in your article that "speculators bought tickets and were selling them at double the fixed price" is without foundation at all in fact. There was at all times plenty of room in the large auditorium; the official ticket sellers were at their posts all the time and never refused to sell tickets to any one at the regular price. Therefore, why should one pay double price or higher price when they could so easily obtain them at the lower? Also we have heard of no visitor, country or otherwise, being amazed or angry at an admission fee being charged. Angry they possibly might have been, but if they were they showed no signs of it that we could detect, and we were certainly in a position to see signs of it had there been any. Amazed they could not have been, as the price of admission was advertised everywhere along with the fact that the lecture itself.

We might add that these Chautauquas are conducted usually at a financial loss to us and wholly for the benefit of the people.

Yours very truly,
Greater Hendersonville Club,
Per R. N. Willcox, Pres.

Preparing Premiums For Poultry Show

The list of premiums for the Henderson County Poultry Show, to be held here December 2, 3, 4, promises to be a most attractive one. The committee having this matter in charge is meeting with much encouragement from the public spirited business men of Hendersonville.

The committee solicits subscriptions from the folks in the country—such as a bushel of potatoes or some other product of the farm. This is a COUN-TY as well as City Show, and all the people in the county are interested in co-operating to make it the best Show ever held here.

There's any amount of good poultry stock in Henderson county. The purpose of this annual show is to increase interest in poultry raising and in good stock—for it costs no more to feed a thoroughbred chicken than it does a scrub and the returns are almost double.

Judging from the interest already manifested, this year's exhibition will far surpass any held here. Both the entries and the premiums will be first class.

BIRTH REGISTRARS.

Officers for Henderson County Enter Upon Duty of Registering all Deaths and Births.

A recent act of the Legislature makes provision for the compilation and keeping of vital statistics throughout the state.

For the purpose of this act, registration districts are as follows: Each city, each incorporated town, and each township.

Each registrar is required to issue a certificate for every birth and every death occurring in his registration district.

Following is the list of registrars appointed for the various townships in this county:

- Hendersonville, B. F. Hood.
- Blue Ridge, G. W. Morrison.
- Hoppers Creek, E. J. Baldwin.
- Clear Creek, J. Preston Garren.
- Edneyville, W. E. Maxwell.
- Green River, P. J. Hart.
- Crab Creek, Richard Sentell.
- Mills River, Fred Whitaker.

The text of the law fills a 16-page pamphlet. The duties of the registrars, and of the general public, in this matter, are set forth in full; and penalties are provided in case of violation.

Copies of the law can be seen at the court house.

GOING AFTER VISITORS.

Col. Cohen Makes Southern Trip for Tourists and Settlers.

Colonel Sandford H. Cohen, the manager of the Greater Western North Carolina association, left Asheville Saturday night for southern points, where he will visit fairs in the hope of attracting investors and settlers to the western counties of North Carolina. He goes first to Columbia, where, where he will attend the South Carolina state fair, and from the capital of the Palmetto state, he will visit Charleston, at the last named point, Colonel Cohen will hold a conference with Captain H. C. Raines, relative to the selection of the location for the summer school which the well known instructor is to establish in Western North Carolina.

In the hope of inducing Ohio and Indiana farmers who have made arrangements to visit the Georgia state fair, at Macon, to return to their homes by way of Western North Carolina points, Colonel Cohen will spend several days at that city. While at the Georgia city, the manager of the Greater Western North Carolina association will meet with several Georgia instructors who are considering the establishment of a summer school colony. Colonel Cohen hopes to interest them in the advantages of the Land of the Sky.

Colonel Cohen expects to finish the work this week and later he will take a trip through western states, advertising from the far and middle west into the New England states. He will make a personal canvass in the various sections, conferring with railroad men and hotel proprietors relative to the best methods of bringing travelers to the cities and towns of this section of North Carolina.—Asheville Citizen.
