METHODIST CHURCH HEATER.

The new heating plant of the Hendersonville Methodist church sufficient large to adequately heat the building during the coldest weather has been installed. The old plant was too small to furnish sufficient heat, thus necessitating a larger one which was completed recently.

CITY CLUB MEETING.

There will be a meeting of the Greater Hendersonville Club in the city hall, Thursday night at eight o'clock. All members are asked to be there.

The city council meets on the same night but they have kindly permitted the club to use their room and on this occasion will meet in the business manager's office in the city hall.

LOCKS WIFE UP WITH COW.

Swain County Man Forgetful of Wife On Cold Morning.

One cold morning last week G. A. Brooks told Mrs. Brooks he would go with her to milk. When they got to the barn Mr. Brooks went in and fed the cattle, walked out and locked Mrs. Brooks up inside. He journeyed back to the fire (so we are told), and Mrs. Brooks called, screamed and did every thing she could to get some one to come and give her freedom, as it was very cold, but all in vain. Being quite strong for an old lady, she went to work and bursted an entrance through the door. I bet George never locks her up again.—Medlin correspondence —Bryson City Times.

AT METHODIST CHURCH.

All the members of the Hendersonville Methodist church are urged to attend the services Sunday as they will mark the close of the present year's work. The accomplishments of the church will be reviewed at the evening service, when considerable progress for the year will be reported.

The services are as follows: Sunday school at 9:45. Preaching at 11 A. M. by the pastor, Rev. A. L. Stanford. Subject: "The Second Coming of Christ." Preaching at 7:30 P. M.

PINCKNEY AND JORDAN.

W. C. Jordan of Hendersonville and C. C. Pinckney, recently of Charleston, have united in business under the name of Jordan & Pinckney. They will follow the surveying business, which Mr. Jordan has practiced for a number of years in this city.

AGRICULTURAL DAY.

Schools of Country Urged to Have Rural Life Day.

So fundamental is the upbuilding of rural life, in the opinion of Dr. F. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, that the observance in the schools of one day each year as "Agricultural and Rural Life Day" should become a national custom, instead of being confined to a few states, as at present. "We can do without some of our anniversaries, if need be," says Dr. Claxton, "to have time for this, the most fundamental of all. The children in our schools should be given an opportunity to pause in their regular work and consider the significance of agriculture and rural life; the worth and worthiness of tillage of the soil; and the beauty and glory of simple and sane life in the open country."

Dr. Claxton points out that in several states "Agriculture and Rural Life Day" has already been introduced into the schools, at the suggestion of the bureau of education, in other states exercises appropriate to the purpose are held in connection with Arbor Day, Thanksgiving Day, or the Harvest Home celebration. In order to aid in the proper observance of the day, under whatever name it may be celebrated, the bureau of education has just issued a bulletin containing material that can be used by teachers and others in arranging an interesting program.

Fittingly prefaced with the "Country Boy's Creed," the bulletin includes sections on man's struggle for food; the application of science to agriculture; men influential in improving agriculture—from George Washington down through Luther Burbank, Liberty H. Bailey and other present day men; our domestic animals; and a study of forests.

How vegetables have been used as medicines among different peoples; breadmaking through the ages; the mysteries of mother earth; the origin of good plants; co-operation among farmers; wonders of a single acre—these and other topics treated with special reference to glorifying country life. Following each discussion there is a list of suitable poems and songs on farming and farm life.

"What we've tried to do," said Dr. Claxton yesterday, "is to get together in convenient form material that will help in the movement for appreciation of the true value and beauty of farm life among all classes of our population. The wider observance of Agriculture and Rural Life Day, both in city and country schools, will give the coming generation a clearer insight than the past has had into the fact that there is no more honorable work in life than that on the farm."

FIRST BANK & TRUST CO. IN BUSINESS CAMPAIGN

Recognizes Value Of Newspaper Space And Establishes Precedent For Front Page Advertising.

A campaign for additional business has been inaugurated by The First Bank and Trust company of this city. In this issue of the Hustler-Democrat an announcement is being made on the front page of the plans proposed by the bank. Five good reasons are mentioned why a person should do banking business with The First Bank and Trust company.

This bank has always placed a high value upon advertising space in the Hustler-Democrat. The officers of this bank have nearly all been identified with the institution since its early beginning. They have been instrumental in the growth of Hendersonville and Henderson county, and are today offering every inducement consistent with sound banking principles to place the banking business in their hands.

This bank is really an arcade of business departments usually connected with most of the large banks of the country, namely, a real estate department, a trust department and insurance department. Efficient, congenial managers are at the head of each department assuring as good treatment as can be found anywhere.

"Every transaction in this bank is confidential, no officer or clerk in this bank will talk about a customer's affairs," reads the announcement on the front page of this paper.

"We invite you to call in and talk with any of our officers between now and Jan. 1, 1914, and if you desire, we will take pleasure in having check prepared with your name or business card printed therein free of charge," states the First Bank and Trust company to prospective customers.

MOVES TO SOUTH CAROLINA.

Mr. E. P. Justus and family of Fletcher were in the city last week enroute to Wellford, S. C., where they will make their home. Mr. Justus states that he will erect a blacksmith shop and later a home with the view to settling there permanently.

HILLGIRT DOTS.

Considerable building is going on here just now. Mr. Robert Odum is erecting a 12 room hotel, to which he expects to add 4 more rooms later in the season.

The large season last summer and the many guests turned away from Hillgirt has caused residents of this section to turn their attention to the running of boarding houses.
