

A WONDERFUL HEALING INFLUENCE IN KIDNEY TROUBLES.

A year and a half ago I was taken with a severe attack of kidney trouble that pained me to such an extent that morphine had to be given me. Was attended by a doctor who pronounced it as Stone in the Bladder and prescribed Lithia Wafer. I took Lithia Wafer and Tablets for some time and received no relief from them. I stopped taking medicines for some time, later having some Swamp-Root in the house I decided to try it and felt much relieved. While taking the second bottle commenced to pass Gravel until I had passed in all at least a half dozen or more and have not suffered the slightest since—and in all have taken one bottle and a half and feel very grateful to Swamp-Root.

Yours very truly,
H. W. SPINKS,
Camp Hill, Ala.

Personally appeared before me this 16th day of August, 1909, H. W. Spinks, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

W. R. Davenport Better After First Dose of Remedy.

W. R. Davenport of Parker, N. C., long suffered from a peculiar malady of the stomach. He sought treatment with but little relief. At times it seemed that he would have to give up hope.

He took Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and found immediate benefit. He wrote: "For years I have suffered from a disease which puzzled doctors. They termed it catarrh of the stomach, saying the only hope would be a change of climate, and that in all probability I would never get well. Then I heard of your remedy. One bottle gave me instant relief. It made me feel like a new man. Your full course of treatments has about cured me. Several of my friends have also been cured."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. FINAL WARNING GIVEN MEXICANS Reformation of the Mexican Government is Demanded in President Wilson's Message.

Washington, June 2.—President Wilson, in the name of the United States government, today publicly called on all factions in Mexico "to accommodate their differences" and set up a government that can be accorded recognition.

Failure to unite in a movement to bring peace to Mexico, "within a very short time," it was announced in a statement telegraphed to Generals Carranza, Villa, Zapata and others, would constrain the United States "to decide what means should be employed," to save the people of the southern republic from further devastations of internal warfare.

Intervention Possible.
Everywhere—in official and diplomatic quarters and among Mexicans of varied leaning—the statement was interpreted as meaning that the United States would give its active support to those elements which did agree. Ultimata intervention was considered possible, but only if a hopeless condition of anarchy followed with no remedy from within the republic.

The statement marks a departure in the United States policy toward Mexico. It was decided only after several meetings of the president and his cabinet and a study of the reports of Duval West, who investigated conditions in Mexico.

The President's Statement.

The president's statement is as follows:

For more than two years revolutionary conditions have existed in Mexico. The purpose of the revolution was to rid Mexico of men who ignored the constitution of the republic and used their power in contempt of the right of its people; and with these purposes the people of the United States instinctively and generously sympathized. But the leaders of the revolution in the very hour of their success, have disagreed and turned their arms against one another.

"All professing the same objects, they are nevertheless unable or unwilling to co-operate. A central authority at Mexico City is no sooner set up than it is undermined and its authority denied by those who are expected to support it.

"Mexico is apparently no nearer a solution of her tragic troubles than she was when the revolution was first kindled. And she has been swept by civil war as if by fire. Her crops are devastated, her fields lie unseeded, her work cattle are confiscated for the use of the armed factions, her people flee to the mountains to escape being drawn into unavailing bloodshed, and no man seems to see or lead the way to peace and settled order. There is no proper protection either for her own citizens or for the citizens of other nations resident and at work within her territory. Mexico is starving and without a government.

Want Nothing in Mexico.

"In these circumstances the people and government of the United States cannot stand indifferently by and do nothing to serve their neighbor. They want nothing for themselves in Mexico. Least of all do they desire to settle her affairs for her, or claim any right to do so. But neither do they wish to see utter ruin come upon her and they deem it their duty as friends and neighbors to lend any aid they properly can to any instrumentality which promises to be effective in bringing about a settlement which will embody the real objects of the revolution—constitutional government and the rights of the people. Patriotic Mexicans are sick at heart and cry out for peace and for every self-sacrifice that may be necessary to procure it. Their people cry out for food and will presently hate as much as they fear—very man, in their country or out of it, who stands between them and their daily bread.

"It is time, therefore, that the government of the United States should frankly state the policy which in this extraordinary circumstances it becomes its duty to adopt. It must presently do what it has hitherto done or felt at liberty to do—lend its active support to some man or group of men, if such may be found, who can rally the suffering people of Mexico to their support in an effort to ignore, if they cannot unite, the warring factions of the country, return to the constitution of the people so long in abeyance, and set up a government at Mexico City which the great powers of the world can recognize and deal with, a government with whom the program of the revolution will be a business and not merely a platform.

"I, therefore, publicly and very solemnly call upon the leaders of factions in Mexico to act together, and to act promptly for the relief and redemption of their prostrate country. I feel it to be my duty to tell them that, if they cannot accommodate their differences and unite for this great purpose within a very short time, this government will be constrained to decide what means should be employed by the United States in order to help Mexico save herself and serve her people."

MAY GO TO SUPREME COURT.

Washington, June 9.—District surprise was evident at the department of justice and in government circles generally last Friday, when news came that the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals at Trenton had dismissed the government's suit for dissolution of the United States Steel corporation.

Attorney General Gregory declined to make a statement as to the next move of the government. It was generally believed, however, that an effort would be made to carry the suit, regarded as probably the most important ever brought under the Sherman law, to the supreme court.

CHIMNEY ROCK PEOPLE LOOK FOR LARGEST SEASON EVER.

Dr. Morse Brings News of Activities Among Well Known Boarding House People; Roads Fine.

Dr. L. B. Morse has just returned from a three days trip to Chimney Rock where he has considerable holdings including the Rock. Doctor says that this section of the mountains is looking forward to one of the largest seasons in its history and preparations are being made on a larger scale than ever before.

That all the boarding houses have been sending out literature of the country, says Dr. Morse, is an indication of alertness of the keepers to get their share of the tourists this summer.

Chimney Rock is fortunately situated in as much as there is more than one railroad company assisting in a mighty campaign for summer visitors. Being located so near the Seaboard Air Line railroad that company is sending broadcast in all of its summer advertisements the wonderful advantages of the Chimney Rock and the Hickory Nut gap communities. Also is the Southern Railway company doing its share of the summer advertising for this particular section.

With a net work of comparatively new roads the automobile travel through the gap will be more than doubled this year of any previous. The state convicts have completed, or nearly finished a state highway into Buncombe county. The road from Chimney Rock to Charlotte through Rutherfordton is said to be in fine condition by those who have traveled it within the past ten days.

An automobile hack line will be inaugurated from this city to Chimney Rock and back in one day during the entire summer.

Dr. Morse states that he will have something new to offer the tourists desiring to visit Chimney Rock this season.

SONG OF JUNE.

(Written for The State Journal, by James W. Heatherly, Saluda, N. C.)

Come join me in my song sweetheart,
Come join me in my song;
For this is June and the earth's attire
And all the earth's a song, sweetheart,
All the earth's a song.
The robins sing from laurel swing,
The days are bright and long;
Where bumble bees drift with the breeze,
And all the earth's a song sweetheart,
All the earth's a song.

Come join me in my song, sweetheart,
Come join me in my song;
Come join the lays of bright June days,
For all the earth's a song sweetheart,
All the earth's a song.
Cool breezes blow soft and low,
Where shadows float along,
And meadows wink with eyes of pink,
All the earth's a song.
All the earth's a song.

Come join me in my song, sweetheart,
Come join me in my song;
For June is here loaded down with cheer,
All the earth's a song, sweetheart,
All the earth's a song.
Honeysuckle bloom laughs thru the gloom,
Where jaybells sound a song,
With skies as blue as a rainbow's hue,
All the earth's a song, sweetheart,
All the earth's a song.

Come join me in my song, sweetheart,
Come join me in my song;
For heaven touches earth midst June time mirth,
And all the earth's a song, sweetheart,
All the earth's a song.
For the earth's all attune with the music of June,
Sweet melodies roll along,
And the heavenly choir strikes a note from afar,
And all the earth's a song, sweetheart,
All the earth's a song.

RALEIGH MAKING PROJECTILES FOR USE UNITED STATES NAVY.

Raleigh, June 9.—The manufacture of projectiles for the use of the United States navy is now in full swing here, the Raleigh Iron Works being the contractor for a $100,000 output of these munitions of warfare. The output is in five, six and seven-inch projectiles and they are to be used for target practice. The general expectation is that the successful filling of this contract with the government will result in permanent contract for this work.

The navy department has an inspector here to approve all the missiles turned out. This work is being done by Lieutenant Connor, who is inspector-instructor for the North Carolina Brigade of the National Guard.

The projectile plant is being operated night and day with three shifts of men and has only been gotten in operation within the past few days.

GOVERNMENT OPENS SCHOOLS.

Washington, June 1.—Two new schools of aviation, one under the army and the other under the navy, are being opened by the United States government this week. At the government reservation at San Antonio, the army school is being formed under the direction of Brigadier General Seriven, chief signal officer. When fully organized the first aeroplane squadron will consist of eight biplanes, twenty officers and about 100 enlisted men. The training school at San Diego will be continued as a school of preliminary instruction.

The naval flying school is located at the naval station at Pensacola, Fla. The naval officers are to spend some weeks in an aeroplane factory, and will then begin flying. Eight aeroplanes will be used. Eight student flyers are now completing their instructions at Pensacola.

RED CROSS TO AID MEXICO.

Washington May 3.—While the government awaited today the effect of President Wilson's warning to contending military factions of Mexico, the American Red Cross, aided by the State and War Departments, carried forward comparative plans for relieving hungry non-combatants.

Orders were sent to consul officers along the border to co-operate in assembling and moving food supplies, and similar instructions will be given the frontier military posts. Brigadier General Devol, general manager of the Red Cross, conferred with War Department officials preparatory to leaving for Texas to supervise the movement of supplies.

Meanwhile Miss Mabel T. Boardman, chairman of the relief committee, undertook arrangements to organize special committees in several cities to collect and forward supplies purchased or contributed.

BUTLER FAVORS WALSER FOR REPUBLICAN NOMINEE.

Washington, May 31.—Former Senator Marion Butler indicated today, that he will take a hand in nominating a candidate to oppose the Democratic operation in a New York hospital. He said that Zeb Vance Walser of Lexington is the man the Republicans should nominate. He argues that Mr. Walser would get standpat and Progressive votes.

Mr. Butler declared that he would support whoever the Republicans name but he prefers Walser to E. C. Duncan or any other follower of Taft.

In the 1912 campaign Mr. Butler and Mr. Walser trained with Colonel Roosevelt.

Mr. Duncan is recovering from an operation in a New York hospital. He has never announced that he will be a candidate for Governor but the Republican leaders have made up their minds to nominate him regardless of the attitude of Mr. Butler.

CHAS. ROZZELLE MOVES.

Charles Rozzelle, "The Furniture man" has moved his store into the old Jones stand opposite the court house. Mr. Rozzelle has greatly enlarged his stock of furniture and felt the need of larger quarters. The new store room has been thoroughly renovated and Mr. Rozzelle expects to make his new stand one of the most up to date stores in the county.

FAME OF COMMONWEALTH.

(The Wall Street Journal.)

Our States are losing their reputation for what made them famous in the original scheme of things. California is no longer famous for the gold it produces, but for its orchard crops and the oil.

In the days of '49 probably not a soul dreamed that within a lifetime that State would be shipping east 75,000 carloads of fruit a year.

So of Minnesota, once famous for forests for iron ores and for much making of flour. She still holds a pennant for ore and flour. But her forest pennant is passing to the hands of the dairyman and the grower of livestock.

Her butter bill last year was $30,000,000. And there are over 10,000,000 acres incorporated into farms that the not in cultivation. One of the big packing houses moved to the Minneapolis-St. Paul gateway into the big Northwest some years ago, because they saw that in the future the vast country between the Great Lakes and the Pacific Ocean was destined to rank as one of the world's great areas for the exploitation of the animal industry. Cattle and creameries—these are as good a basis of credit, if not better than, gold in the Bank of England.

GET THEM OUT OF MEXICO.

Washington, June 3.—The Brazilian minister in Mexico City telegraphed Bryan last Friday that he had arranged for a special train to remove 150 Americans and many other foreigners who are leaving the Capital because of the famine.
