

Slightly Damaged Goods

To be sold This Week Below Cost at
The Quality Shop

Owing to the tremendous heat and water from the St. John Hotel fire, next to our store, a quantity of our new stock of Millinery and Notions were slightly damaged. We will close these articles out at very low prices this week.

An Opportunity for the Close Buyers

To make this sale more interesting we are offering a straight 25 per cent reduction on remaining stock. A splendid opportunity to buy your Xmas gifts. All fancy work and material reduced. Splendid values in Neckwear--Bath Robes 1-3 off--1-3 off all millinery. Some Hats less than Half-Price. All Embroidered pieces at half-price.

Columbia wool, three hanks for a quarter
Silkateen, 3 spools for 10 c
D. M. C. 25c balls, 19c
50c Pillow Tops, 39c
50c Centre Pieces, 39c

Shirt Waists, many styles, 1-2 price
Sweaters $5.00-$3.50, $2.00
Muslin Underwear, Half Price
Childrens' Dresses, Half Price
Millinery Trimmings-fancy feathers, 1-2 Price

THE QUALITY SHOP

THE PRESIDENT TO SPEND NEXT SUMMER IN JERSEY.

Washington, Oct. 15—President Wilson today decided to spend next summer in New Jersey, in the former home of John A. McCall, at Elberton, near Long Branch. The estate, on which stands a magnificent house, is known as Shadow Lawn. The President was offered the free use of Shadow Lawn by a committee headed by Representative Scully, which brought a letter from Governor Fielder. He insisted, however, that he should pay rent.

Governor Fielder urged the President to spend next summer in New Jersey to receive "the glad tidings" of his renomination. The President only smiled when that was mentioned. His acceptance means he will not return to Harlakenden House, the residence of Winston Churchill, at Cornish, N. H., which he has occupied each summer since becoming President.

Alas, what chance has the milk of human kindness got anybody with everybody eating deviled crabs?

A LOVER BOLD.

President Just an Ordinary Mortal. (Greensboro Everything.)

Strictly speaking we do not see why it should be anybody's business—or why any one should be concerned if the President of the United States wants to get married. If he wants to marry a widow he should have the right; and if he wants to pose for photographers or if he wants to let snap shot people get him, we can't see where there is any harm. And we do not see that it is the business of any living Son of Ham whether his first wife has been dead fourteen months or fourteen years—if he wants to get married, let him get married. The President, as we view it, is not to blame.

We think the newspapers have been about as silly as the President in purporting the matter, but the President isn't to blame for what the newspapers do.

Here in Greensboro there is a sentiment of resentment against the President, men and women insisting that he is making a mistake. There was a whole lot of sympathy for Mr. Wilson because of his bereavement, genuine and sincere sympathy, but it seems that it wasn't needed.

We haven't talked far; haven't discussed the matter, but we have heard it discussed and it is the "consensus of opinion" so far as we can gather that most people are, as they express it, "disgusted."

It is claimed that occupying the position of President there should have been a longer period of mourning; that when it was finally announced it should have been done with some dignity; and that the stories that private telephone lines were run from one room to another and all that silly dope, such as might have been expected from a twain of yokels green as gourds and experiencing the first wild thrill of love, should have been cut out.

That is what a great many people in Greensboro are thinking and what a great many are saying. As we said above, we are not worrying.

We have learned that there is no honor in the office, because the dirty and unseemly fights made to secure the nomination rob it of all honor. The office comes by "blind and eyeless chance"—and not from the loom of one's own genius. Therefore the president, personally, is no greater man than hundreds of thousands of other men. His position is one of dignity—but the man filling it must not, necessarily be dignified.

We all know that of all the germs in all the world the love-germ is the most wonderful. It will cause the grimmest stoic to lose his head; it will make a laughing philosopher out of the weeping one, and a man, love-struck will open his purse strings and do stunts that even a gallon of corn likker would fail in doing. Old Man Tight Wad becomes the god of plenty if he falls in love—and, why would they call it "falling in love" if a man didn't take a tumble? It is like falling down an Alpine mountain or into a

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER MACHINES

We Take on the Low Corn King Spreader

JUST to prove that we are always on the lookout for the best interests of our customers, we have made a contract for the Low Corn King, the best manure spreader we ever saw. There are two great features about this spreader, the value of which every farmer around here will recognize at sight.

The first of these features is this—The Low Corn King spreads a strip ten feet wide, cutting squarely in two the time required to spread a load of manure and doing the best job of breaking up and spreading that we ever saw.

Think of it—a ten-foot wide spread from a 45-inch box. In our next ad we'll remind you of a few of the advantages of this. Drop in and see the sample we have set up and get a catalogue that tells all about it.

T. S. Morrison & Co.

ASHEVILLE, N. C.

well or into the sewer—you just tumble and keep on tumbling, and in the descent you become scandalous.

And the older a man gets the worse the germ hits him because he hasn't resisting power. Here is our President fifty-nine years old, just about sixty, and he finds himself head over heels in love. So full of it that he wears a Quaker Oats Smile and acts like a boy with his first pair of red top boots. Do you blame him? No! He is enjoying it. Ten years and no is seventy—all in as the saying goes—and if he feels that in those ten years he can extract a little enjoyment, a little happiness; why not let him take the widow, fondle her, love her, marry her, and be happy?

Of course the average North American citizen feels that he has a divine right to criticize the President. But only his official acts. If a president wants to get married that should be exclusively his business—but it doesn't seem to be.

TO COURT-MARTIAL EX-REAR ADMIRAL LITTLE. Washington, Oct. 15.—Secretary Daniels today ordered the trial by court-martial of Rear Admiral William N. Little, retired, no charges involving neglect and careless methods in the conduct of his duties while inspector of machinery at the Fore River Shipbuilding Company, Quincy, Mass., in connection with the construction of the submarine U. S. K-2. The court martial will meet at the Boston navy yard October 18.

JURY LIST FOR NOVEMBER TERM OF CIVIL COURT.

The following Jury list has been drawn for the term of civil court to convene here on November 15: W. T. Maybin, R. F. Hamilton, V. C. McCreary, Eli Souther, W. M. Nix, A. C. McKinnis, W. P. Bryson, J. J. Slatery, Will Henderson, A. M. Blackwell, W. M. Hyder, F. C. Justice, T. M. Stewart, N. M. Hollingsworth, Thomas Shepherd, R. B. Allison, R. S. Steadman, H. F. Cantrell, J. W. Lee, M. A. Barnwell, A. J. Carland, D. S. R. Willis, F. G. Blackwell, T. J. Blackwell.

A Touch of a Match Brings a Touch of Spring

Touch a match. In five minutes the Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater is spreading comfort and warmth.

The Perfection keeps any room

Sold in many styles and sizes at all hardware and general stores.

Highest Award at Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Look for the Triangle Trademark.

Use Aladdin Security Oil or Diamond White Oil to secure best results in Oil Stoves, Lamps and Heaters.

STANDARD OIL CO.

(New Jersey)

BALTIMORE

Washington, D. C.

Norfolk, Va.

Richmond, Va.

Charlotte, N. C.

Charleston, W. Va.

Charleston, S. C.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATERS