

Kin Folks And Friends!

I have ten fingers and ten toes. I can count that much, but I just can't count all my good friends down South here—they are far too many.

And I'm mighty proud of them. The men who make me, say you can tell real quality by the company one keeps.

Blood will tell. A good name and good breeding count most of all.

And that same, I reckon, applies to cigarettes, too. More and more gentlemen of the South are smoking me, SOVEREIGN, every day, because they know I come from good old Virginia and Carolina stock—the finest, grandest stock in all the world.

Quality is the thing, friend—you can't deny it. And I stand for Quality.

You Folks of the South KNOW good blood!
You Folks of the South KNOW good tobacco!

That's why I am so loved among you all down here. So I am proud to say—

I am guaranteed by The American Tobacco Co. —Buy me. If you don't like me return me to your dealer and get your money back. I have said it. A Southern gentleman is known the world over for keeping his word, and I have given you mine.

BETTER CHURCH VENTILATION.

Churches Need "Blowing Out After Services."—Cracks in Windows Don't Ventilate.

Can't we do something to have better ventilation in our churches? a man asked yesterday. Said he: "I went to four different churches last Sunday not to investigate the ventilating system of the churches, however, but to attend services, and the atmosphere in all was uncomfortably stuffy. In two or more of the churches I visited, the air was positively foul. During the night services at one church, so perceptible and so offensive was the foulness of the air, that it was painful to endure. The minister's unusual short sermon helped some and I've wondered ever since if he didn't make it short for that reason.

"I know there are yet just lots of people who are more afraid of fresh air than they are of pneumonia or grippe and who would stay from church to avoid a draft, but I'd just like to know how many of the churches had all their doors and windows thrown wide open after the morning services preparatory to the afternoon or night services. I believe in "blowing out" a church after every service and it seems to be if this were done both before and after services that the ventilation of churches would be a great deal better than it is.

"The Habit of Taking Cold. With many people taking cold is a habit, but fortunately one that is easily broken. Take a cold sponge bath every morning when you first get out of bed—not ice cold, but a temperature of about 90 degrees F. Also sleep with your window up. Do this and you will seldom take cold. When you do take cold take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and get rid of it as quickly as possible. Obtainable everywhere.

"It is a mistaken idea," said he, "that a small crack at the top of one or two windows will ventilate a whole church or will let in sufficient fresh air to last three or four hundred people for an hour or more. Cracks may help some, but they only let in small currents of air where whole floods are needed.

On about 2,000,000 acres of national forest lands grazing by domestic stock is either entirely prohibited or is restricted to provide range for elk.
