Charlotte may get the army camp intended for Fayetteville.

Hendersonville is fast filling up with tourists, tourettes and tourines.

With breakfast foods going up five cents the package we about as well begin practicing eating the grass on the front lawn.

Those famiers who sold corn last fall to speculators at 75 to $1 a bushel are now buying it back from the same fellows at $2.25.

Now that Russia is a republic we hope it will change the names of itstowns so they will not sound like a tin can tied to a dog's tail.

We will have to give credit to the French girls for admiring the American soldiers in France.

The price of bread was raised when flour advanced and has not been lowered since flour dropped. What is the raisin'?

Last Friday the Hustler made an error in the advertisement of the Southern Supply Co., in the prices of flour and lard. The Southern Supply Co., true to its policy, sold the commodities at the advertised price and charged the Hustler $10.10 for the error. This is told to prove that Hustler advertising sells goods as the firm gave us an itemized statement of the sales made and to whom.

Burbank announces a super-wheat which will produce five times as much grain as the common wheat. Hope it will pan out better than his spineless cactus.

It is not likely that our own Josephus will give out any more interviews about expeditionary forces being attacked by submarines.

Why not come to Hendersonville where you sleep under blankets ever night and save the expense of running an electric fan to cool you off.

If those editors and publishers, now meeting over at Asheville, wish to increase the circulation of their ideas on scenic beauty, and State information, they should run over to Hendersonville, and see what a wealth of loveliness there is in North Carolina. We can give them some agreeable surprises.

There was quite a severe hail storm over at Flat Rock Tuesday afternoon. The atmosphere in Hendersonville last evening and this morning demonstrated the fact to a marked degree—in fact, quite a number of degrees. It was delightful.

Every time you write a letter to friend, or business firm, put in a good word for Hendersonville. Mention climate, scenic beauty, and such things. These little mentions do a powerful sight of good. And you will be doing your "bit" for your town.

Moral Courage.

"Moral courage is more worth having than physical courage, not only because it is a higher virtue, but because the demand for it is more constant. Physical courage is most of the time in the lumber room. Moral courage is needed day by day."—George Buxton.

A NOTABLE NEWS SERVICE.

Tuesday the Evening Hustler, through the International News Service and its latest connection, the Agence Radio, gave its readers the story of von Behmann-Hollweg's message to main committee of the Reichstag in a secret meeting.

No other paper in all this section carried this important story. For days the world has been waiting the pronouncement of the Chancellor and it was expected and touted as favorable to peace. But the tenor of his address was "Continue the war to the last gasp."

The importance of this news was so great that two papers not buying the International News Service lifted the story bodily. The New York Sun used it with a streamer crediting the I. N. S. and the New York World played it up crediting it to "News Service." Other papers throughout the country also used it in the morning editions without credit.
