INDUSTRY AND BUSINESS STOP IN EASTERN U. S. IN ORDER TO SAVE FUEL

Washington, Jan. 16.—America's manufacturing enterprises with but few exceptions in all States east of the Mississippi river were ordered by the government to halt to suspend operations for five days beginning Friday morning as a drastic measure for relieving the fuel famine.

At the same time as a further measure of relief it was directed that industry and business generally, including activities that require heated buildings observe as a holiday every Monday for the next ten weeks. This will close down on Mondays not only factories, but saloons, stores except for the sale of drugs and food, places of amusement and nearly all office buildings.

Critical Transport Situation.

Dr. Garfield's efforts to get bunker coal to ships in Atlantic ports is prompted by the extremely critical transport situation. The line of communication between the United States and Europe has been seriously crippled not only by the lack of fuel but by the vast amount of freight congested on docks all along the coast. Next to filling household requirements Dr. Garfield considers that the bunkering of ships is the most important task just now of the fuel administration.

American Industries Idle.

America's industries hanging idle under the fuel administration's order issued to relieve the coal shortage and release fuel for ships loaded with supplies for the American army and the allies.

In the face of protests predicting disastrous results and a formal request from the senate to stay its execution temporarily, the order was signed last night by Administrator Garfield with the approval of the President.

By the provision manufacturing plants east of the Mississippi and Louisiana and Minnesota, with rare exceptions, will be closed for five days beginning today and virtually all business activity will be stopped on every Monday for a period of ten weeks beginning January 21.

Through its application the fuel administration expects coal to move to essential consumers including railroads, housekeepers, public utilities and buildings, shipping interests and producers of food, in whose behalf the order is issued.

Supplementary List of Exemptions.

A supplementary list of exemptions issued last night embraces various industries engaged in imperative war work, ship yards working on navy construction plants filling contracts for navy and navy woolen uniforms, toy manufacturers and manufacturers of other products deemed necessary for immediate use of the military forces were named in this list.

Woman Suffrage Won in Lower House of Congress.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Woman suffrage by federal constitutional amendment for national enfranchisement of women.

While members in their seats and throngs in the galleries waited with eager interest, the house adopted by a vote of 244 to 136 a resolution providing for submission to the states of the so-called Susan B. Anthony amendment for national enfranchisement of women.

Start Fight in Senate.

The house hardly had adjourned before the suffrage champions began their fight for favorable action on the senate side of the capitol. Recent polls there have indicated that the necessary two-thirds could not be mustered, but encouraged by the house victory and counting upon the influence of President Wilson, who came to their support last night, the suffragists hope to swing the senate into line so as to have the amendment before the state legislatures during the coming year. They feel sure, at least, of forcing a vote in the senate before the present session ends.

Advocates of the amendment had been supremely confident of the result in the house after President Wilson advised the members who called upon him last night to support it.
