"For those who watch today by earth or sea or air,

O Father, let them know that Thou art with them even there.

For those who weep today, the hearts that cannot rest,

Reveal to them Thy love, the wondrous love that gave to us Thy best.

For those who watch tonight, love's tender watch to keep,

Father Divine, draw Thou nigh, Thou who dost never sleep.

For those who fear today, what'er the dread may be,

For them we ask the peace of hearts that rest in Thee.

Our own beloved, O Father weep and where

Our love and succor cannot reach, now bless them through our prayer."

AN ODE.

(By Benford Deacon.)

Some people were made to be soldiers,

The Irish were made to be cops, Sauer kraut was made for the Germans,

Spaghetti was made for the wops. Fish were made to drink water,

Bums were made to drink booze, Banks were made for the money, Money was made for the Jews.

Everything was made for something— Everything barring a miser— God made Wilson for President, But who in hell made the kaiser?

FINE WORK DONE BY LADIES OF FLETCHER

In the spring of 1917 a community canning club was organized and a cannery was erected on the main street of Fletcher. This was open every day in the week except Monday and Saturday, with competent women in charge each day. The women of the community brought their fruit and vegetables here to can them. We have no record of the number of cans filled during the summer. The two thousand tin cans bought by the club were filled long before the close of the season. Quite a little was done toward the conservation of food.

In the early summer of 1917 an auxiliary of the Hendersonville chapter of the Red Cross was organized. In part we organized before Hendersonville had a chapter and intended to be an auxiliary of the Asheville chapter, but waited for Hendersonville to organize so that we could belong to a home county. During the summer we raised $57.46 in funds and quite a little sewing. In the Christmas drive we raised our membership to seventy-one. For several months we have been sewing one afternoon each week and averaged two dozen bed shirts a week. We have also done quite a good deal of knitting.

In our township we have a committee in charge of the sale of thrift stamps. On this committee we have a woman representative from the Red Cross and one from the Woman's Betterment, besides the lady school teacher of the township. The Woman's Betterment has bought two War Saving certificates and each member has pledged herself to buy all that she can during the year. They are to earn this money themselves in some way. At a late meeting they reported that they had earned money for this purpose by selling tating embroidery, by doing dress making, by selling honey, eggs, butter, milk, vegetables. One woman had earned money by doing some work in book-keeping for one of the local stores. Besides their work in buying Thrift Stamps and promoting the sale of them the Woman's Betterment has made several layettes for the Belgium refugee babies.

We hope to do more during the canning season.
