MR. EAVES SELLS THE VISITOR TO N. M. HOLLOWELL

C. B. Eaves, who established The Hendersonville Visitor two years ago and has been publishing it and doing a job printing business under the same name, has sold his plant and business to Noah M. Hollowell, of Hendersonville, publisher of the French Broad Hustler.

Mr. Eaves leaves this week to engage in the wholesale grocery business at Chattanooga, Tenn. Mr. Eaves came to Hendersonville four years ago. After remaining for a while his mind turned to matters of romance and he married Miss Leila P. Davis, daughter of J. D. Davis. Mr. Eaves and Mr. Davis established a printing business and during his two years of hard work Mr. Eaves, who was actively in charge of the plant, built up a very flattering business, which he would not leave except for the fact that his father and brothers have repeatedly handed out strong inducements to enlist his services with them in their wholesale and retail grocery business in Chattanooga.

The Visitor, although young, has been independent in thought, and firm and outspoken in its convictions without the slightest political leanings. Mr. Eaves' straight-forward business methods have not only built for himself a good name, and for The Visitor a good business, but have made him friends socially and fraternally as well as in a business way since he is a member of both the local Woodmen lodges and of the Masonic order, and a member of the Methodist church.

C. Winfred Davis, who recently returned to his old home in Hendersonville after being engaged in the newspaper business in Waynesville for a number of years, and who has been associated with The Visitor, will remain with it and be in active charge of the business until the purchaser of the plant makes arrangements to assume active management.

FARMERS ARE URGED TO SAVE ALL WHEAT POSSIBLE

Raleigh.—State Food Administrator Henry A. Page is urging the farmers of North Carolina to exercise care during the present harvesting season to the end that no wheat shall be left in the fields, around stumps, near ditches and on the edges of the fields where a binder sometimes leaves a small quantity uncut. It may often happen that such wheat will not financially pay the labor required to harvest it but this wheat is needed to feed hungry men and women and every farmer is urged to use the utmost precaution in saving every stalk of wheat possible.

ROCKINGHAM CAFE FINED FOR FOOD VIOLATION

Rockingham.—Because it had repeatedly violated rules and regulations of the United States Food Administration, the Busy Bee Cafe of this city, in order to escape more drastic punishment, has voluntarily closed its door for four days with a sign announcing to its patrons that it is closed for violations of the food regulations and in addition has made a contribution of $100 to the local chapter of the Red Cross.

The owners of the cafe were given a hearing some days ago before County Food Administrator W. N. Everett, who communicated with the office of the Food Administration at Raleigh and was authorized to let the establishment off in so far as past offenses are concerned upon the basis mentioned.

PLAY TO BE GIVEN FOR RED CROSS

The young people of the Yale district will on Saturday night, July 27, give a patriotic play, Somewhere in France, and an ice cream supper, for the benefit of the Red Cross and Woman's League. The public is cordially invited to attend.

WOOD WORKERS AFFECTED IN DRAFT STANDING

The Pace Wood & Timber company has just received word from Washington that industries manufacturing extracts for the tanning of leather for government need are most essential and must be kept in operation. An extract from the letter says: "Labor is necessary and the loss of a skilled employe means delayed production, and due to the essentialness of these industries the War Department has ruled that skilled employes in these necessary industries within draft age should be granted deferred classification. Further that men subject to the selective draft employed in the production of raw materials for or the manufacture of extracts for tanning government leather, should be granted deferred classification."

The Pace Wood & Timber company finding its business affected to a considerable degree and especially at Del Rio, Tenn., communicated with Washington authorities to ascertain the latest ruling, which will affect the draft liability of quite a large number of men.

INTERURBAN COMPANY HAS NEW MANAGER

Glover T. Orr, who has for several years been conducting a livery and auto business in this city, has bought one-fourth interest in the Hendersonville-Asheville Interurban company and is now manager of the company. Since Mr. Orr has taken charge, the company has ordered two more 12 passenger trucks which will be put into service as soon as they arrive.

The company is also contemplating establishing a bus line from Asheville to Greenville. Two busses have been ordered for this line, one of 18 passenger capacity and the other of 12 passenger capacity.

The present officers of the company are J. O. Bell, J. Mack Rhodes, B. Jackson and Glover T. Orr.

TWO MORE JOIN NAVY

Homer Ashworth Freeman and Lorraine Lonzo Hamilton, both of this place have enlisted at the naval recruiting station at Asheville as apprentice seamen. It is understood that this month has been a record breaker for the recruiting station.

Camp Craggy Is Filled With Boys

Chimney Rock, N. C., July.—Camp Craggy for Boys is enjoying a visit of Troop 3 of Gastonia, the scouts arriving Thursday in a large truck in charge of Scout Master Kenneth Babington. Thursday night the campers were lively entertained by a session of the camp court at which several boys were tried for not Hooverizing and other serious offenses of a like nature.

Friday morning about fifty of the campers hiked up to Chimney Rock and enjoyed a trip around the Appian way. At three o'clock in the afternoon a first aid demonstration and scout drill was given before an enthusiastic audience. In the evening the visiting scouts had charge of the camp fire pow wow and a great time was enjoyed until it was interrupted by the bugler sounding call to quarters.

The boys of Camp Craggy are making a specialty in scout work which includes first aid, signalling, knot tying, nature study, etc. Frequent over-night hikes are taken and a big camping trip to Mt. Mitchell will be held soon. New campers are coming every few days and the boys seem to be enjoying themselves immensely.
