STILL AT THE BAT

Owing to the failure of C. H. Loop to fulfill his part of the agreement to publish The Hustler, I will temporarily have charge of same.

Mr. Hesterly is conducting the job department in keeping with the announcement last week.

HENDERSONVILLE FIRST IN WAR; FIRST IN PEACE

It should be a matter of local pride first, that Hendersonville was the first city in Western North Carolina to hold a patriotic meeting following the declaration of the war; second, that Hendersonville was the first city in Western North Carolina to anticipate, with a great celebration, the surrender of German arms, and to announce the emancipation of autocratic slavery; third, that Henderson county was the first county in Western North Carolina and in the State of North Carolina to go "Over the Top" in fulfilling her quota to the United War Work contribution.

Pride and the expression of pride in these great achievements is highly meritorious. The men that are proud of great achievements are the only men that achieve, and the men that are not proud are the men that do not achieve. The men that achieve things are the brave, courageous, home loving, enterprising men of a community. They are men that do things. These are the men whose sons, brothers, and kinsmen were on the front and went Over the Top in the smoke of battle and in the mouths of cannons and machine guns. They are the conquerors, but not more conquerors than the men whose patriotism reached into their pockets and furnished the money to sustain the patriotic soldiers.

Hendersonville and Henderson county was in the forefront in preparing and sustaining the war. Now that fighting on the battle ground has ceased, another great work is before us. The organization, enterprise, pluck and patriotism by our citizens is indicative of all good things, including a love of home, which is the greatest of all patriotism.

It was the unexampled organization of Germany that made her the formidable foe that she was. It was the organization of Hendersonville and Henderson county that enabled us to achieve those things of which we boast. Preparation for war gained the victory.

Now our great duty is to prepare for peace. We must rely upon the great men of the nation to avoid the dangers which peace involves. As an important unit within the nation we must organize and concentrate our forces so as to make Hendersonville a leader and an example in the upbuilding of our part of the State and Nation.

Our situation, local advantages, reputation and good name as a resort city is a great advantage and our opportunity is propitious. If we desire to succeed eminently, we can, if we will all come together as one solidified unit and pull together as one man in aid and promotion of each individual enterprise that promises good to the body, utilizing the best thought from our most sanguine and earnest expectations. There is probably not another city of its size within the state or within the south that has the opportunity that Hendersonville has to grow.

Plant the seed, cultivate the crop, and great will be the harvest. If we believe these things, come together and act together, great results will be inevitable.

TURNED DOWN WILSON'S APPEAL

North Carolina and the Tenth district headed the President's "call to arms," but the country as a whole rejected it, despite the appeal for unity in the prosecution of the war plans of the administration. The message Mr. Wilson sent to the people may have been resented in other sections of the country, as the New York World and other newspapers suggested, but here in the Tenth

Congressional district and throughout the State of North Carolina the request of the President for the return of a Democratic congress met with a hearty response from democrats and numbers of independent voters. That, more than any other one thing, lined up the democrats for Congressman Weaver. This was especially noticeable after the Taft-Roosevelt statement was made public. From that very moment the election of Mr. Weaver was assured, for it meant close party alignment on election day and the democrats always win in the Tenth district when the lines are closely drawn. Four years ago they were not united and lost. Two years later they were partially united and Mr. Weaver pulled thru with less than a dozen votes to spare. This year the democracy of the Tenth has won by the old time majority and will hold the district until dissensions again creep into the ranks.

The country has gone republican and this paper is not very greatly surprised. The republicans win in this congressional district, when they stand together. The main reason they have won this time is because they were united, and there are more republicans than democrats in the United States at this time. In 1912, thanks to Col. Roosevelt and his progressive party, many senators and congressmen won on pluralities. The President himself failed to poll a majority of the votes cast, but received a greater number than either Taft or Roosevelt and became the winner on a plurality. The Roosevelt defection gave not only the presidency, but a large majority in both the House and Senate to the democrats in 1913. A similar condition prevailed two years later and another democratic congress was returned. In 1916, the Roosevelt influence was noticeably on the wane and few progressive candidates for congress were in the field. The republicans lacked only one vote of capturing the House at that time and democrats realized there was danger ahead. This year, with a re-united party, the Republicans have succeeded in capturing both the House and Senate by close majorities and a battle royal for the presidency two years hence is in prospect. The result of last week's elections is considered a repudiation of the President in some quarters.

There is cause for encouragement in the addition of New York and Ohio to the democratic column this year and the electoral votes of these two states in 1920, with those of the solid south, would practically assure the presidency to the democrats. Furthermore, the state of Massachusetts has given Senator Lodge a democratic colleague, the first democrat to be thus honored since that commonwealth was organized more than a century ago. Considering the opposition of Senators Lodge and Weeks to President Wilson, the result in the Bay State is highly gratifying to the Democracy and especially to our great commander-in-chief. The defeat of Governor Whitman and the gain of a number of democratic congressmen in New York State is also heartening, as well as significant, and Colonel Roosevelt is privileged to rejoice over the losses in his own state, along with the small republican gains in other sections of the country, if he finds consolation in the fact. It is not so bad after all and if the Democracy continues to grow in popular favor during the next two years, at the same ratio it has increased numerically since Mr. Wilson became president, the republican lease of power now in prospect will be short-lived.

"While there's life, there's hope," and Democracy is yet very much alive in this country of ours.

TO BILL HOHENZOLLERN

Bill Hohenzollern, years you planned. And armed and trained your valiant band

To dominate both sea and land From zone to zone;

But when you saw your cruel huns Mowed down like grass by allied guns You ape the snob who quits and runs To parts unknown.

You said, 'twas noble, sweet and brave To die the Fatherland to save, And fill an honorable grave, All glory lit;

But when you heard the cannon roar And saw the allies at your door You turned and faced a foreign shore And hit the grit!

Ah, Bill, you kept out of the fray, Pretending you must read and pray; But when you saw he— was to pay, You lost your nerve;

You did not say: "Let come what will, I'll stand beside my people still." So, swallow now the bitter pill That you deserve.

FASSIFERN RECEIVES PEACE NEWS WITH JOY.

(By Evelyn Byrd Graham)

News of peace was received at Fassifern early Monday morning. As the glow in the east began to dawn there seemed to be written in the heavens: "Peace on earth good will toward men." The mountains appeared bluer and all the world seemed a mass of unspeakable joy. The sun never seemed so bright nor the sky so perfect in color. Such screams of delight and joy as never before went up in thanksgiving from the lips of our girls. It was refreshing to see such supreme delight at the thought of the home-coming of their fathers and brothers. Dr. E. E. Bomar was invited to hold services at the school at 11 o'clock. Dr. Bomar, who always delights both faculty and students, made an eloquent address, which was impressive and appropriate.

A delightful program was immediately prepared and songs of a patriotic nature were sung with much feeling. Cheers to our peerless president, Hon. Woodrow Wilson, whose infallible judgment has made him so great during the war which has just ended, echoed throughout the auditorium. He, like George Washington, was guided by his conscience to live by the principles which he has set down for the people.

At 6 p. m. the school attended the parade in Hendersonville. At 7:30 p. m. the girls had a big bon-fire out on the lawn in front of Fassifern and roasted marshmallows. Songs and cheers were heard until a late hour. November 11th, 1918, will go down in the history of the school as the greatest celebration ever held under the portals of our dear old alma mater.

The members of the domestic science class, with nimble fingers, served dainty refreshments out on the lawn around the bonfire. Misses Carrie Burnett and Dell Bernhardt were chief cheer leaders and deserve special mention for their untiring efforts during the day and evening.

At 4 p. m. the first match game between the two basketball teams, the "Reds" and "Blacks" was played. Both sides were evenly matched and the game proved an exciting one. The score was 14 to 12 in favor of the "Reds."

Saturday Mrs. McBee and Miss Shipp gave a most delightful picnic at Columbia Park for both faculty and students.

Rev. A. W. Farnum held services at the school Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Fassifern has received materials and is busily engaged in working for the Red Cross.

Prof. William Decoligney, instructor in French at Fassifern, on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, gave the first lecture of a series, which he is giving on French literature. Prof. Decoligney is well informed on this subject and his lectures are looked forward to by the students and are very educational.

"RAT KILLING WEEK."

Next week, November 18 to 23 inclusive, is designated as "Rat Killing Week." Much interest has been aroused in this campaign throughout the State. The unqualified support of the Food Administration and the Federal Department of Agriculture is given.

The food and feed destroyed by rats and mice in the State of North Carolina amounts to many thousands of dollars annually. It is not uncommon for one farmer to have $50 worth of food and feed destroyed in a year by rats and mice. Both food and feed are too scarce and valuable to allow it to be destroyed in this way.

Kill rats and mice, cut off the whole tail and bring or send them to the county agent's office by two o'clock Saturday afternoon, November 23. November 18 to 23 is "Rat Killing Week," but you do not have to wait until then to commence killing, but begin now. Besides the prizes you win, you are doing a patriotic service.

Through the kindness of the merchants and business men we offer the following prizes to the boys and girls of the county:

- 1st prize (for the most tails) $3.50
2nd prize (next largest no.) $3.50 express wagon
3rd prize $3.00
Fourth prize $1.00
Fifth, to the girl bringing in the largest number of tails a $2.00 rocking chair.

Be sure and get tails to County Agent's office by 2 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, November 23. FRANK FLEMING, County Agent.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING Save your Hair! Get a small bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

ACT QUICKLY Do the right thing at the right time. Act quickly in time of danger. In time of kidney danger, Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective. Plenty of Hendersonville evidence of their worth. Mrs. E. S. Prescott, Crab St., Hendersonville, says: "Some time ago I had a bad time with my kidneys. My back was in bad shape; being weak and lame and seemed to ache most of the time. When I tried to bend over it was hard for me to straighten. My head ached a good deal and I was nervous. Dizzy spells came over me and I would nearly get blind. Mornings I was tired and all run down and felt miserable. My kidneys didn't act right, either. I finally began using Doan's Kidney Pills and they relieved me right away. My back felt a great deal better, the dizzy spells left me and soon I was entirely cured."

EVER SALIVATED BY GALOMEL? HORRIBLE!

Calomel is quicksilver and acts like dynamite on your liver.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury, quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.
