MARLBORO VILLA DANCE.

Miss Julia Crosland entertained at a reception and dance at Marlboro Villa on Wednesday evening, November 25, in honor of her guest, Miss Marion Fay of New Orleans. The Villa which had been closed for the winter, was appropriately decorated in keeping with the peace and Thanksgiving season. The reception room was adorned with the national colors and the ball room represented an outdoor fall scene. The walls were entirely covered with greens supplemented with corn stalks, pumpkins and Indian equipment. Japanese lanterns dimly lighted the room and the soft glow from covered overhead lights blended beautifully. Pine needles covered the floor and the room was literally turned into a nook of the woods. As the first social event of the season following the long quarantine it was especially enjoyed by everyone present.
