All About a Mail Order Watch!

A man I know bought a watch from a catalogue house for $12.75. It was a good watch, made by a responsible concern, and was worth the money, for the watch usually sells for $14.00. But when the watch came

IT FAILED TO RUN
The man didn't know it but the balance wheel had been jarred in shipping, so the watch was useless. Still it was guaranteed, and the man sent it back, express charges being 35c. The mail-order man kept it two weeks and when it came back the man I know paid another 35c express charges. It ran all right for several months, when all of a sudden it

BEGAN TO RUN TOO FAST
The man didn't know a thing about fixing a watch and didn't care anything about sending it to the mail-order man again, so he brought it to me and I found the hair spring had hung up; which I fixed in a moment. The watch ran all right for six months, when

THE MAINSPRING BROKE
A watch can't run without a mainspring any more than an engine can run without steam in the boiler, so the man was up against it. My charge for putting in a mainspring is $1.50. Guaranteed for a year. The mainspring which broke was also guaranteed for a year by the mail-order house in Chicago, so my friend sent it back to them and received a nice letter in which regret was expressed with the watch and assuring him that the house was ready and willing and anxious anytime to live up to the terms of the guarantee on the watch. And they were, the watch came back in due time, express charges 35c each way, and is keeping good time.

Now it's all right for a man to buy out of town.

What I am trying to show is that he DIDN'T SAVE ANY MONEY.

He saved a little in initial cost, but the saving was more than consumed in getting the watch, when it went wrong, back and forth from the concern which guaranteed it.

MORAL: He Would Have Saved Money and Time Had He Bought it in his Home Town.
