NUMBER SS

BEN SOUTHER TO MANAGE GANG IN SPARTANBURG CO.

Tendered Resignation Here to Accept More Pay; Built County Roads For 16 Years.

Ben Souther, who has had charge of the chain gang of Henderson county for sixteen years and who recently resigned as county road supervisor, leaves within a few days for Spartanburg, where he will take charge of the Spartanburg county chain gang.

In going to South Carolina Mr. Souther will get an increase over the salary of $125 he has been receiving from Henderson county.

Mr. Souther has been intimately identified with the history of road many as eighty-five. At times he had charge of the work when the force was so small that the county could not employ guards, so he worked the men by day and guarded them at camp by night. Whether the force was large or small he looked after the men in camp, provided food and clothing and was manager of all its operations, working part of the time for $45 a month.

When Mr. Souther took hold of the work under Road Supervisor P. F Patton there was a great deal of work to be done, and despite a small force and limited capital he and Mr. Patton carried the work forward, employing or borrowing teams, begging sand and gravel, and soliciting contributions in the form of labor. His services continued through the administration of Mr. Patton and the two year period in which George W. Justice served as road supervisor and then again under Mr. Patton until

"BILLY" SUNDAY PROBABLY COMING

Famous Evangelist May Preach to Hendersonville Audience

Rev. J. F. Ligon announces that in all probability Hendersonville will have the opportunity soon of hearing "Billie" Sunday, who is now holding a six weeks' meeting at Spartanburg. Mr. Ligon has information from Dr. A. D. P. Gilmore, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Spartanhurg, that the famous evangelist might be secured for one service in Hendersonville. Mr. Ligon, accompanied by a committee, will go to Spartanburg the first of next week, to confer with the manager of the Sunday organization, with the purpose of bringing Mr. Sunday here at an early date.

B. SHOCK DIED IN SANITARIUM HERE THURSDAY

Death Follows Battle of About Tem Years For Health; Interesting Career.

Bert Shock died at the Edgemont Sanitarium at an early hour Thursday morning.

Interment was at Oakdale cemetery Friday afternoon following services at the late residence on Church street conducted by Dr. E. E. Bomar and Dr. Frank Siler, music being rendered by the Methodist choir.

The deceased is survived by the widow and two children of Hendersonville, a grown son by his former wife, his parents in West Virginia and a number of brothers and sisters in distant states.

Mr. Shock came to Hendersonville for his health a few two years ago, since when he served in the dual capacity of road supervisor and superintendent of the chain gang.

Mr. Souther had no friction with the authorities but feeling that his services were worth more to the county than he was receiving he sought more profitable fields of labor and his work in South Carolina will again associate him with Mr. Patton, road engineer of Spartanburg county.

The Woman's Club had an unusually interesting and enthusiastic business meeting Wednesday afternoon at the high school building. Mrs. Frank Ewbank, chairman of the Oteen committee, reported that she, Mrs. W. R Kirk, Mrs. Erle Stillwell, Miss Samp .son motored to Oteen and carried two cars full of Christmas things. For this purpose Mrs. W. R. Kirk had given a bridge party recently netting about $40. The guests at The Cedars contributed a number of gifts and the school children furnished quite a number of stockings, eighteen pairs ed home but soon came to the mounof warm, serviceable bed-room slippers, all the fruit, joke books, etc. The boys of Oteen were very appreciative of their beautiful Christmas tree to which the club had contributed. No one was left out and all shared equally in the gifts distributed. Each boy received a large stocking containing candy, nuts, gum, fruit, cigarettes. Substantial gifts as foot-warmers, bath-robes, razors and bed-room slippers were also receivtember to the eighth Monday after ed. The boys had asked that they might have as their Christmas present the pleasure of meeting Dr. W. R. Kirk. Dr. Kirk went over and his visit was thoroughly enjoyed by Several excellent plans to be perfected later were proposed by the members and endorsed by the club. Among them was a rummage sale; a silver tea, the proceeds to go to Patton Memorial Hospital to buy china, linen, and other needed articles; and a get-together banquet for the club members and their friends in the near future.

By reason of the unusual ordeal through which Mrs. Shock is passing the situation enlists deep sympathy. The condition of her mother, who has been at the Biltmore hospital critical and news of her death at any hour would not be surprising.

The family had just completed a handsome cottage on Church street and Mrs. Wilson and Mr. Shock had the privilege of occupying it for only a few days.

Mr. Shock has had an interesting career and quite a long battle for health. Just a few days before he entered the sanitarium h e talked freely of life's battle to a representative of The News and the interesting story of his career runs something along this line:

The deceased was the son of a Methodist minister and being one of a large family struck out early in life to earn a livelihood. For a long while he traveled as a member of a quartet that proved very popular. While on the stage and engaged in a performance taking the part of first tenor, he felt an unusual sensation in his throat. It was there that his trouble began, some of the vocal chords failing on him. He carried through his part by changing to a falsetto voice. After consulting a physician he struck out for the mountains, going to Asheville. Upon his arrival and in a weakened condition he was informed of the death of his wife in Pennsylvania. He returntains again, coming to Hendersonville, where he has made his home for the past few years.

Mr. Shock made quite a sum of money while on the stage and applied a good part of this in helping to educate his brothers and sisters and a son, who is now grown. He made friends easily, having a very genial disposition.

Shortly after coming to Hendersonville he was employed as entertainer at the St. John hotel. In addition to these duties he gave of his talent to the city in helping arrange entertainments for the benefit of the hospital and other public causes. For while he owned and conducted a garage in the city. After selling this he organized about two years ago the Young Men's Club. This he sold together with the fixtures a few months ago because his declining health would not permit him to give it the attention required.
