REPUBLICANS ARE SHELLING WOODS

OPPOSING CANDIDATES SEEKING SUPPORT OF VOTERS

Eleventh Hour Brings Surprising Developments on Both Party Tickets.

The eleventh hour preparations for the forthcoming primary on June 3 developed some interesting phases in both democratic and republican ranks in the bringing forth of new candidates.

Last Saturday was the last day for the registration of voters and also the last day for filing notices of candidacy for county offices. The list of notices filed with Secretary V. C. V. Shepherd of the county election board revealed the fact that a few candidates took advantage of the last hour in which to act.

An unexpected development was the announcement of J. H. Drake that he would oppose Register of Deeds H. Grady Edney for the nomination.

J. O. Williams, democrat, filed notice of candidacy for this office in accordance with his election by the recent convention.

Gaither Rhodes failed to qualify for county commissioner and V. C. V. Shepherd was prevailed upon to make the race. Dr. J. S. Brown declined to run on the democratic ticket for coroner and Dr. Guy S. Dixon was persuaded to make the race. George Lyda failed to qualify for surveyor on the democratic ticket.

The tickets to be voted on in the primary follow:

Old-Time Barbecue Is Enjoyed by Sunday School Classes

About seventy-five young people of the Methodist Sunday school adult classes enjoyed an old-time barbecue Saturday afternoon at the W. C. Jordan Auto Camp site. C. P. Bland was the host, and the recipients were members of his Young Men's Fellowship class, the Philaethea class and the Daughters of Wesley. Invited guests from other classes were also present.

The barbecue cook was G. C. Hammond, traveling salesman for the Cottrell Saddle Company of Richmond, who is a resident of this city. Mr. Hammond is said to be a past master in the art of barbecuing, a fact which gained evidence in the number of "laid-ups" Sunday from over-eating. Over-exercising on the part of certain stout persons of the party is said to have contributed to this after-noon. A feature of the afternoon's sport was the playing of the game, "Drop the handkerchief" by the heavyweights.

Class spent Friday night at the camp preparing the early stages of the barbecue. The fires were lit about 2 o'clock Saturday morning.

Sixty-four young men are numbered on the roll of the Fellowship class, which has an unusually constant large attendance.

The Skylanders defeated the Boosters 10 to 4 here yesterday.

Mrs. M. A. Brown Is Added to State Body

ANTI-SALOON MAN TO SPEAK HERE SUNDAY EVENING

Rev. M. E. Cotton, Field Secretary, Will Speak on Law Enforcement at First Baptist Church.

Rev. M. E. Cotton of Red Springs, field secretary of the State Anti-Saloon League, will deliver an address in the interest of prohibition at the First Baptist church next Sunday evening, 28th. Mr. Cotton will speak Sunday morning at Black Mountain, on Friday, 26th, at Bevard, and on Thursday, 25th, at Tryon.

Mr. Cotton is one of eight speakers of national reputation who were drafted by the Anti-Saloon League of America to make two hundred addresses throughout the state during April and May. He is said to be a speaker of great force and will doubtless speak to a crowded house Sunday night.

Rev. R. L. Davis, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, in a recent letter to The News, states that a crowded house shows interest for law-enforcement and such interest manifested by the people will quicken the conscience of those who are inclined to violate the law, will strengthen the arm of the faithful officer, will encourage the judge to give adequate punishment, and will generate fear in the hearts of the blind tigers.

"The brewers and liquor dealers have not given up the fight," he states also. "Thirty-four liquor organizations, under misleading names, have been initiated since the ratification of the 18th Amendment; one has headquarters for the Carolinas at Wilmington, N. C. Their purpose is to nullify the law by non-enforcement, then to secure legislation to allow the sale of beer and wine, and ultimately to repeal the law."

TRENHOLM HOME ON FLAT ROCK ROAD IS BURNED

Fire Destroyed Large Residence of Mrs. A. M. and Miss May Trenholm Friday Night.

The 11-room residence of Mrs. A. M. Trenholm on the Flat Rock road was destroyed by fire Friday night, approximating a loss of $15,000, which was well covered by insurance.

Mrs. Trenholm and her daughter, Miss May Trenholm, the only occupants of the house, had retired at about 9:30. The latter, disturbed by the smoke which came into her room, awoke her mother in an adjoining room just in time for the two to escape from the house, which was then in flames. By the time assistance arrived the house was beyond saving.

The entire property, including all the furniture and all personal belongings, was destroyed. Audubon oil paintings and other family relics of priceless value, as well as jewelry which were heirlooms, were lost in the fire.

Leonard Trenholm of Chattanooga, Tenn., son of Mrs. Trenholm, came Sunday to be with his mother and sister, who will accompany him to his home for a visit. Later Mrs. Trenholm and her daughter will visit relatives in Asheville.

A new residence will probably be built next fall for Mrs. Trenholm and Miss Trenholm on the same site as that of the house which burned, Mr. Trenholm stated yesterday.

PRE-CONVENTION MEET OF STATE HERE ON SUNDAY

Mrs. Buckner and Mr. Saleeby Paving Way for Baraca-Philaethea Convention.

Preparatory to the coming of the Baraca-Philaethea union of North Carolina in June, A. B. Saleeby of Salisbury and Mrs. N. Buckner of Asheville addressed a Hendersonville audience at the Methodist church Sunday afternoon.

Lawrence J. Pace, former president of the organization in North Carolina, introduced Mr. Saleeby as a man who had given telling support to the cause of Sunday school work in North Carolina, being so thoroughly saturated with the Baraca work that he had named one of his boys Baraca and the other Hudson for the founder of the great class that has done wonderful work over the country.

Mr. Saleeby's talk emphasized the importance of preparation for the coming of the annual convention next month and the necessity for enlisting the people in the Sunday school work. The speaker displayed four banners, one showing the adult taking the important step into the Sunday school class; the second with all members of the family except the father engaged in Sunday school work; the third representing the Sunday school as a barrel with the top hoop off and leading of the voluminous stream of water flowing therein, the big leak at the top where the hoop was missing being representative of the drifting of the adults from the Sunday schools.

The fourth banner set forth the fact that there are 825 Sunday schools in the state; 1210 churches without Sunday schools; a Sunday school enrollment of 821,999 and an army of 885,540 under 25 years of age not in any Sunday school.

Mrs. N. Buckner, general Baraca-Philaethea secretary of North Carolina, briefly outlined some of the features of the coming convention, stating that exceptionally strong speakers had been secured for the occasion and emphasizing the importance of rallying to the occasion and making the most of it.

A. W. Honeycutt, general chairman of the convention committees, explained the purpose of the meeting and said that it was important that Hendersonville awake to the big task of entertaining the convention in a creditable manner.

All Confederate veterans of the county and any visiting veterans are cordially invited by the local chapter of the U. D. C. to the annual dinner given by Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Brown on June 3 at Greystone. For several years it has been the custom of Dr. and Mrs. Brown to entertain the Confederate veterans of the community and the local chapter of the U. D. C. with a delightful program followed by an elaborate dinner on June 3, the birthday of Jefferson Davis. This year's program promises to be one of the very best yet and the occasion is being looked forward to with much interest.

YOUNG MAN AND MOTHER ARE SHOCKED BY LIGHTNING

Medford Cooper was rendered unconscious for an hour Sunday just after noon as the result of a stroke of lightning in their vicinity. His mother, Mrs. Medford Cooper, was also shocked slightly, but soon recovered. The young man, about twenty years old, did not entirely recover until yesterday, but now seems all right.

Mrs. Cooper and her son had just returned from a church service at Valley Hill and were sitting on their front porch when the storm came up. The lightning did not seem to do any more harm.

BIG CONVENTION PLANS ABOUT ALL SOLVED BY CITY

Baraca-Philaethea Preparations Well Under Way for Caring for 1,000 Delegates

The committee having in charge the preparations for the entertainment of the Baraca-Philaethea convention to meet here in June met at the Hodgswell hotel last night and practically completed arrangements for the big event.

Mrs. N. Buckner of Asheville, general secretary of the Baraca-Philaethea work in North Carolina, was present. The various committees have had big problems with varying angles to them to solve but most of them are now accomplished tasks and things are shaping themselves well for the coming of at least one thousand delegates.

Mr. Buckner has had assurance that reduced fares will be in effect on all North Carolina railroads and from some points in Virginia. The round trip fare will be one and one-half the regular rate and this fact, it is believed, will contribute largely to the attendance in that it will provide cheap transportation for many who will take advantage of the occasion to enjoy a brief vacation and attend a big religious body.

Marshall A. Hudson To Attend Baraca and Philaethea Convention

Founder of Movement Will Be Speaker At State Meet; H. L. Legg of Detroit Also to Attend.

Marshall A. Hudson of Syracuse, N. Y., and H. L. Legg of Detroit, Mich., have been announced as speakers at the Baraca-Philaethea state convention to be held here June 15-18. Upshaw of Asheville, chairman of the executive committee of the state union, will be in charge of the pageant.

Mr. Legg is the general superintendent of the world-wide Baraca-Philaethea Union.

The Erlanger Baraca band of Lexington, which is composed of 22 members, will be in Baraca uniform, Mrs. N. Buckner, general secretary of the movement, stated recently. Members of the band will also have a quartet and orchestra for the convention.

W. M. Jolly, director of the band, is composing a special selection. Mrs. Buckner stated, which will be dedicated to the June convention.

Arrangements are being made for a special train from Salisbury to this city, Mrs. Buckner stated. It is possible, she said, that there will be enough delegates coming to warrant the special's running from Greensboro. A pullman car of Goldsboro delegates will be attached to this special.

The secretary is having published this week an attractive pamphlet containing the program in full for the June convention. It will also contain a list of the Baraca and Philaethea officials.

Noted Speaker Is Secured for Grammar School Promotion Day

The city superintendent of schools received this morning a telegram from Dr. Harry R. McKeen of Bentonville, Ark., accepting an invitation to speak at the promotion exercises of the grammar school on the evening of June 2. The program will be in the nature of a graduation exercise from the elementary school into the high school and will be in honor of the seventh grade. Approximately 75 students will be promoted to the high school from the three sections of this grade.

Some months ago Supt. Honeycutt tried to secure the services of Dr. McKeen but was unable to get a definite acceptance. He is greatly pleased to announce Dr. McKeen's acceptance and says Hendersonville is to be congratulated as Dr. McKeen is one of the country's leading Chautauqua speakers and community builders. In fact the three speakers for this commencement season are exceptional men and speakers of rare attractiveness and vigor.

Wife of the Noted Mr. Foster (Information Service) Is Here

"Ask Mr. Foster where Mrs. Foster spends her summers?" has been suggested as a slogan for the Board of Trade's publicity department since Mrs. Ward G. Foster of New York City arrived in Hendersonville to spend the summer season. Mrs. Foster is now at Park Hill but will soon move to the Howland cottage on Ninth avenue, west, which she has rented.

Mrs. Foster is the wife of W. G. Foster, the president of The Ask Mr. Foster Travel Information Service, which has gained a national and even an international reputation. This agency has forty offices located at various points throughout the United States. During last year this service asked information for approximately two and a half million people and requested reservations for 15,045 hotel rooms.
