300 MEMBERSHIPS IS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE GOAL

The Chamber of Commerce membership campaign is progressing most especially his holdings in the Wayne satisfactorily, according to P. L. pledged workers.

"We will not close the campaign," Mr. Wright said today, "until our goal has been reached. We have set GOVT. OPERATION our hearts on procuring 300 memberships. As a matter of fact we should get many more, and we may do it. The 300 mark, however, will be safely reached this week. The Kiwanis club | Coal Outlook is Better, Says Hoover, has added its personnel to ours and we are working hand in hand, and with this added support the Hendersonville Chamber of Commerce will be properly financed for a term of three years."

The three-year program appeals to so many of Hendersonville's busy busniess men, it was pointed out, because it discourages the practice of passing the hat every year. Then, too, in order to carry forth a constructive program it is almost absolutely necessary to have pledges in sight for a period longer than a year which has been the rule heretofore.

The workers hope to end the Chamber of Commerce campaign this week. It has been prolonged in order to give every one a chance to get in on the chamber's publicity booklet: "Who's Who in Business Hendersonville," which booklet will receive wide local and out of town distribution.

OLD-TIME FOX HUNT IS SPORT NEAR DANA

Jim Hyder, of near Dana, this county, together with some of his neighbors, enjoys the old-time fox hunt, following the hounds hard on the trail of wily Renard.

On Monday and Tuesday of this week a hunt was staged in that neighborhood, which netted one fox, about two-thirds grown, and which was captured alive. Three others were jumped by the dogs, and a lusty chase ensued every time, but the foxes got away. There are, however, many more in the hills around, and Jim Hyder plans to have some fun.

Kiwanians Helping Chamber of Commerce

The Kiwanis Club yesterday again took up the Chamber of Commerce membership campaign in an effort to wind it up. Cards on some 50 prospects who had not been seen by the regular workers were placed in the hands of the Kiwanians who enthusiastically declared their intention of reporting 100 per cent.

It was announced at the Kiwanis meeting that by a bit of leverage on the part of the Kiwanians the 300 mark would be reached. This, it was pointed out, would give Hendersonville an enviable record in commercial organization circles. Four per cent of the population of the average city, according to practice, is eligible for Chamber of Commerce membership. By carrying 300 memberships he Hendersenville chamber will double what is considered the rule.

The club was addressed by several out of town guests, including a minster who has just returned from Japan, bringing, he said, a message of friendship from the Orient. The president of the Louisville Optimistic Club made a stirring appeal for Chamber of Commerce support.

In addition the champion boxer of Camp Bragg wishes to meet Graham Curry, Henderson county champion. Both men are good boxers and if the bouts, as planned, are arranged, the public is assured of as fine an exhibition of boxing and wrestling as may be seen anywhere, according to those who have seen these boys in action. Both are good fighters and in excellent condition. A number of preliminary bouts are also being arranged, the event to come off soon after the first of next month.

Play Indoor Ball

In the meantime interest continues to grow in activities at the city gymnasium, and one of the largest crowds since the opening of the hall attended last night. Several fast games of Dodge Ball and Indoor Baseball were played, both games being of a variety that affords the greatest measure of sport and exercise. These games will be played all winter and anybody interested is invited to come to the gymnasium on Monday or Thursday of each week. The Gym is being fitted out with dressing rooms and new equipment and should prove a source of attracion to many this coming season.

D. P. MOSS SAYS FARMERS NEED BETTER MARKET FACILITIES

W. E. Moss and son, D. P. Moss, who were in the city from the upper Clear Creek section today, expressed themselves heartily in favor of some kind of marketing facilities in Hendersonville as an improvement over the present system.

D. P. Moss, who reads government ulletins enthusiastically in an effort o gain practical information about farming, is a strong advocate of the lison before her marriage, and two use of sprays. He has four kinds of bearing grape vines and they are sprayed with good results, according to some fine bunches of fruit he erought to the city.

There are quite a number of farmis who spray their apples but negect their grapes and there are others who have no faith in spraying any aind of fruit.

NEGOTIATIONS OF RAIL PROBLEMS STILL GOING ON

New York, Aug. 25 .- At the end of the eighth week of the railroad strike conferences between the union chiefs and executives of over a score of roads, representing approximately 30 per cent of the mileage in the country, were still in progress today, after executives had previously declined to yield on the seniority question, but manifested interest at the suggestion that separate agreements might be

At the same time shop craft leaders in informal comment, indicated that they were not in any mood to accept individual settlements. The tone of these comments was that the brotherhood men had not been authorized to suggest abandonment of the 'all for one and one for all" policy enunciated by the unions at the beginning of the strike, that "it's now up to the shopmen" that the mediators would fine difficulty in winning them over to approval of any individual agreements.

When the mediators returned to labor headquarters for the noon-day conference with shop craft leaders, the report was current that some definite proposal was under consideration. However, it was said that only tentative suggestions had been advanced and that negotiations were still in the discussion stage, with a poll by either side some way off.

ON THE ROAD

Field extension work will be a new feature of the business of Paul L. Dermid as soon as he receives a truck from the International Harvester Company, the arrival of which in Knoxville, from where it will be driven, is expected daily.

Mr. Dermid has disposed of a great deal of farm machinery and fertilizer during the past few months, a fact that has led him to the conclusion that it will be a good investment to put a salesman and demonstrator on the road to sell and make deliveries of hardware in any part of the county.

The International Harvester Company is co-operating with Mr. Dermid in this enterprise.
