THREE ARE HURT WHEN TRAIN HITS CAR AT NAPLES

Mrs. J. D. Gunn in Serious Condition at Hospital; Two Other Women Slightly Hurt in Accident

Mrs. J. D. Gunn, of Augusta, Ga., is in a serious condition at the Patton Memorial hospital; Mrs. Harry S. Johnson and Mrs. J. H. Johnson, also of Augusta, are slightly injured as the result of train No. 21, coming from Asheville, crashing into the Ford in which the party was driving, at the Naples crossing, between here and Asheville. H. S. Johnson, who was driving, and two children, escaped injuries.

The accident occurred at about 8 o'clock this morning, the train hitting the rear end of the car. The party was coming from Asheville, and, it is stated, did not see the train, which was approaching at a good rate of speed. Numerous box cars, standing on the sidetrack just at that point, are said to have prevented the sighting of the train in time to stop the car, which had almost crossed the tracks when it was caught by the train. The car was wrecked and its occupants thrown out.

The engineer in charge stopped the train and took the party on to Hendersonville, except Mrs. Gunn, who appeared to be seriously hurt and was taken on to this city in a car, where she was taken at once to the hospital and taken in charge by physicians. The extent of her injuries could not be learned this morning.

The two children were thrown clear of the wreck and remained uninjured, one of them clinging to a doll she had been holding.

OFFICERS SEIZE MAN AND STILL

Successful Raid Conducted at Brevard Wednesday by Local and Brevard Officers

George Hall, aged farmer of near Brevard, is under $500 bond, his son is under a similar bond, liquor, beer and mash belonging to both has been spilled and a large copper still, having the same owners, is destroyed as the result of a raid staged extemporaneously by Brevard and local prohibition officers Wednesday.

J. L. Osteen, Brevard prohibition officer, Chief of Police Barnett, of that town, assisted by W. B. Michael, local prohibition agent, and Deputy W. W. Owen made the raid. The local officers were in Brevard on business when Hall happened to drive up with a truckload of wood. His actions were suspicious and the suspicion was found to be justified when a quantity of liquor was about to be transferred to a customer. He was placed under $500 bond and the truck seized.

The officers then started for Hall's home, stopping on the road to change into their "raiding clothes," when Hall passed by in a public service car, and then a two-mile chase began, both parties going into the home stretch at about the same time and breaking the tape together.

Search of the premises revealed a quantity of beer and malt, while some distance from the house an 80-gallon copper still was found and destroyed.

Miss Pearl Weaver, health nurse for Henderson county, was elected president of the North Carolina Nurses Association, in convention at Greensboro this week. A number of addresses, as well as round table conferences were the features of the convention, which ended with the election of officers.

The new officers are: president, Miss Pearl Weaver, of Hendersonville; first vice-president, Miss Tooner, of Wilmington; second vice-president, Miss Rose Batterham, of Asheville; secretary, Miss Harriett Lasowski, of Raleigh; treasurer, Miss Besie McLeon, of Greensboro. Mrs. Dorothy Hayden, of Greensboro, and Miss A. Kelly of Fayetteville, were selected to serve on the state board of examiners.

Addresses included one on orthopedic surgery, by Dr. Watt Cole, of Greensboro, and an illustrated one on cancer, by Dr. J. W. Long, of Greensboro. A report on the national convention, held at Seattle, was presented later.

Valuable discussions featured the afternoon meeting with Miss Jane Van De Vrede, Atlanta, director of Nursing Bureau of the Red Cross, leading on "Growing Pains." The definition of a Class A Training school was discussed by Miss Fannie Andrews, Asheville, while Miss Mary Lowe of Appalachian Hall, Asheville, spoke on psychiatric as a part of training school curriculum. Discussion of the question of practical nurses standing the state examination was led by Miss Athalia Lord, Asheville.

The nurses' part in the United States Veterans' Bureau was the topic of Miss Katherine De Vine, chief nurse of the Veterans' Bureau at Atlanta. A reception to the Westly Long hospital followed. Sessions of the convention continued through Thursday morning.

NEWSPAPERMAN SECRETARY OF HICKORY CHAMBER

Hickory, Sept. 8.—Harry W. Link, for many years connected with The Spartanburg Herald, and between times, secretary of the Greer chamber of commerce, met the board of directors of the Hickory chamber of commerce Tuesday night and announced his readiness for action. He comes here with training of the right sort, directors feel—experience in publicity work and in commercial work. Mr. Link is a native of Hickory, where his mother and other relatives live, and will bring his family here as soon as he can find a home.

WAYNE COUNTY HAS RECORD TOBACCO SALE

Goldboro, Sept. 8.—Two hundred thousand pounds of tobacco were sold last week on the local auction warehouse floor for an average price of $21 the hundred, warehouse managers say. The largest sales day was last Thursday, when 50,000 pounds sold for an average of $24. Friday 41,000 pounds sold for $19.

STEALS AUTOMOBILE

Hickory, Sept. 8.—Claude Lingle, young white man, will stand trial in Catawba superior court this week on the charge of stealing an automobile from Russell M. Yount, employe of a local bank. The machine, a roadster, was left in front of the bank a few minutes and Lingle entered and drove off.

A young man who sat with a girl in another automobile on Horseford bridge, that spans the Catawba, had his thoughts turned from moonlight by the odor of scorching gears, observed the machine, and came to town in time to hear of the theft. Pursuit was made and the stolen car overhauled just this side of Lenoir. The damage was about $25, and Lingle was bound over to face a jury this week.

TICKET TO TIBET

In Tibet the women are under no legal disabilities whatever. If there is no son, the eldest daughter inherits the paternal estate, and she then has the privilege of marrying one man at a time and of retaining him as husband as long as she pleases. To get rid of him no formality is necessary. Though he cannot leave her except for gross misconduct, she can put him out of doors on small provocation, or none at all.

All Ready But The Horses

Lunch to Kiwanians Will Help Deserving Boy in School Here

The weekly luncheon Thursday by the Kiwanians served to illustrate two important facts: That Henderson county soil is great for vegetable production and that by united help a helping hand can be given a deserving boy.

The dinner at the Blue Ridge School for Boys was a bountiful one and the vegetable, poultry and dairy products were all produced on the property of the school.

Prof. J. R. Sandifer insisted that he was host to the Kiwanians and that he would not accept the regular luncheon price the Kiwanians have been paying on their visits to various places. Insistence that payment be accepted moved Prof. Sandifer to say that if they must pay and if it was a custom then he would accept the luncheon fees and help a deserving Hendersonville boy who wanted to enter school. This was a happy solution heartily accepted.

Aged Resident Dies At Horse Shoe, Monday

HORSE SHOE, N. C.—This entire community was made sad by the departure of one of the oldest as well as the most highly respected residents, Maris Datts Barnet. He was born near the present site of Hendersonville in December 1840 and was nearly 83 years old at the time of his death.

He spent his boyhood days on his father's farm and when, at the age of twenty-one, the call came for troops to fight for the cause of the Confederacy he was the first one from Henderson county to respond. He joined with Company I, 16th regiment and remained with the Army of Virginia throughout the entire war. Though fighting in many of the fiercest battles he was only wounded once. As a soldier he was brave, courageous, and faithful. Although he loved the Confederacy yet when the war was over he returned home and did all in his power to bring peace to his beloved land and to teach loyalty to the Union.

In the fall of '65 he was married to Miss Emily Morgan. To this union were born thirteen children, nine of whom survive him: David B., Edward L., Thomas, Sidney L., Mrs. Rachael Neil, of Pisgah, Misses Mollie E. and Sallie B., who are at home, Mrs. Maggie Swindell of Georgia, and Mrs. Agnes Stepp of Greer, S. C. He leaves one sister, Mrs. Josephine Morgan of Asheville, who was not able to attend the funeral.

FIRST OF SERIES GOES TO BOOSTERS BY SCORE 5 TO 4

The first of the seven-game series for the Western North Carolina championship went to the Hendersonville Boosters, who defeated the Asheville team here Thursday, 5 to 4, in a hard-fought game.

Homer Moyer did the pitching for the locals and, while he weakened towards the last, was given brilliant support. Bennie Smith, on short, and McCuiston, on second, played excellent ball. Patterson and Austin did exceptional work behind the bat.

Ellis Smith, in the box for the Skylanders, would have given a better account of himself had he had the support.

Asheville threatened to score in the first inning. Landreth, lead-off man, drew a pass. Redfern fanned and Bull doubled, but Landreth was held on third, as Grant fanned and Justice popped up to Bennie Smith.

Hendersonville scored twice in their half of the first. Albright walked, McCuiston sacrificed and Patterson singled and stole second. Corn doubled, scoring Albright, but Patterson was held on third by the throw home. Patterson scored on Austin's infield out. Pegram popped up to Landreth.

The Boosters scored again in the second. Wilson singled, stole second, and after two were down scored when Bull erred Albright's roller.

Asheville again threatened in the third. With one down, Bull singled and took second on a wild pitch. Grant walked, but Justice hit into a double play, McCuiston to Bennie Smith to Pegram.

Hendersonville's fourth run came in the third. Patterson walked and Austin doubled after Corn had flied to Justice.

In Asheville's fourth, O. Cashion, first up, hit a home run.

Things rocked along until the seventh. Asheville went to bat with blood in their eyes. Landreth walked. Redfern popped out. Bull walked. Bennie Smith erred Grant's hard chance, filling the bases. Then O. Cashion arose and swatted the pill to deep right field for a double, cleaning the sacks and tying the score.

Hendersonville got the lead back in their half of the seventh. Patterson doubled, Corn popped out and Austin doubled.

Catcher and General Utility Bob Zachary was laid on the bench in batting practice yesterday afternoon when a ball struck him on the left arm. One of the bones is broken, which is hard luck for both the player and the team. Bob has played a fine game with the Skylanders this past season and deserves credit for the work he has done, including handling the managerial reins for a time.

The eligibility of Pitcher Harry Allison, star southpaw with Georgia Tech, who has been hurling under the Skylanders' banner, is still a bone of contention, it would appear, and the matter is to receive further consideration this afternoon.

Batteries for today's game: Jerry Jackson and E. Cashion; Luther and Lance.

Judge Pace Observes 77th Birthday Today; 54 Years in Office

Seventy-seven years old, 54 years clerk of the Superior court of Henderson county, office holder and candidate to succeed himself is the unusual record of Judge C. M. Pace, who today observes another birthday feeling strong and in high spirits.

Judge Pace enjoys the distinction of having held elective office longer than any man in the United States. The people of his home county before whom he has gone for over a half century at regular election periods, seeking their support, fear, admire or respect him to the extent that he has little to trouble him when election time rolls around. Republicans nominate him, democrats endorse him and almost anybody votes for him.

ORGANIZATION PLANS GOOD HEALTH WEEK

That the human machine is just at the peak of its efficiency at this time of the year, and that as winter comes on the habits of indoor life lead to the undoing of much physical strength and well-being, is the contention of an organization founded for the perpetuation of a Good Health Week extending from October 23 to 30.

Backing the movement is a large merchandising group maintaining offices at 209 Grand Avenue, Milwaukee, Mich. C. Breidert, of the Electric Ventilating Company, Chicago, is chairman of the executive committee. William F. Hatch, of the Palmolive Company, Milwaukee, Wis., is secretary-treasurer.

Basing this idea upon lines similar to those utilized in Fire Prevention Week, an organized appeal is proposed with emphasis based upon the chief conditions of daily life that pertain to health, namely, ventilation, sanitation and personal hygiene.

The organization announces that further data relative to the proposed Health Week which is to be made an annual event, will be sent broadcast in the hope of enlisting various civic clubs, board of health, churches, schools and industrial plants in a general educational campaign in which self-interest in health is the end aimed at.

BAPTISTS MEET TO ORGANIZE AT FRUITLAND SUNDAY

At the recent session of the Carolina Baptist Association announcement was made that on the second Sunday in September a general B. Y. P. U. meeting would be held at Fruitland for the purpose of organizing an Associational B. Y. P. U.—also creating a greater interest in this phase of church work among the young people of our county. Each church in the county is invited and urged to send representatives to this meeting. And the boarding students at Fruitland Institute are glad to have the pleasure of furnishing dinner to as many as five young people from each church.

This plan offers a splendid opportunity for our young people both to learn more about the B. Y. P. U. work and to visit their friends in our own associational school.

The following is the morning program and will begin about 11 o'clock:

"The Place of the B. Y. P. U. in the Rural Church," Hugh Morrison.

"Our Experience with B. Y. P. U. Work," Miss Annie Presley.

"Out of Sight," Miss Ruth Goodman.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon a B. Y. P. U. program will be given by the young people of the local unions, followed by an address by Rev. W. M. Wilson of East Flat Rock.

W. B. SINCLAIR,
for the Committee.

C., he will look over the field at Charlotte, where a pastoral call was recently extended him. He has made no decision with reference to acceptance.

Bids Are Rejected On Bat Cave Road

At a meeting of the State Highway Commission in Raleigh Wednesday Commissioner Stikeleather announced that all bids had been rejected on the hard surfaced project number 901 from Asheville towards Bat Cave including the awards of August 30. The bids are too high, Mr. Stikeleather said. Awards on bridges and culverts will stand, these having gone to R. L. Stevens. Other bids on the highway will be opened in October.

NEGRO KILLS SISTER WOUNDS WIFE AND CHILD

Alken, S. C., Sept. 8.—Luther T. Robertson, a negro farmer living near here, yesterday afternoon killed his sister-in-law and then shot and wounded his wife and small child. Robertson was rounded up by a sheriff's posse last night and lodged in the county jail. He claims self-defense.

LAURENS COUNTY MAN MAY BE MURDERED

Greenwood, S. C., Sept. 8.—R. M. Oxner, well known farmer of Laurens county, was found dead this morning in the barn of Collier Barksdale, negro tenant, with gunshot wounds in his body and head beaten in, evidently by some blunt instrument. Barksdale had disappeared and posses of officers and citizens are making a search for him.

RAISE STRAWBERRIES IN ROBESON COUNTY

Lumberton, Sept. 8.—A number of Robeson farmers are turning their attention to the growing of strawberries for the market. L. H. Nelson, of the horticultural department of the State Department of Agriculture, delivered an address here Wednesday on "Growing, Fertilizing and Shipping Strawberries."

A number of farmers have already put out the plants, and others will put them out this fall and next spring.

This is one of the measures adopted by Robeson farmers to meet the boll weevil invasion.
