DOLLAR DAY WILL BE OBSERVED IN HENDERSONVILLE NEXT TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY; MANY ATTRACTIVE PRICES

The merchants of Hendersonville will observe Dollar Days next Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Dollar Days will take the place of the Golden Rule Sales and will afford the merchants and the buying public greater latitude as the merchants are not limited to the sale of two articles with these different from those of competitors.

The spirit ruling the Dollar Days is the same as that governing the Golden Rule Sales—prices with profits practically eliminated in order to stimulate business, create new customers and thereby produce greater good will to the end that more buying at home and less mail order business be done.

The business men are offering some genuine bargains and their announcements deserve studying.

Dollar Days are very popular in many parts of the country, nearly all leading merchants participating in them. It has been a long time since a general Dollar Day was observed in Hendersonville but in recent cases where individual merchants put on Dollar Day sales they were very successful.

Crab Creek Church To Observe Home Coming

(By Everett Patterson)

CRAB CREEK.—Miss Irene Mitchell, teacher of the intermediate and high school grades of Crab Creek public school, and her pupils, assisted by the primary scholars of Crab Creek school, gave an interesting and impressive missionary program at Crab Creek church Sunday, September 24, preceding the preaching services. The primary scholars rendered their part of the program first, which consisted of the welcome address by Master Albert Gibbs. Then a few songs and short prayers. After this Miss Irene Mitchell made an excellent and interesting address, as to how we as a church and Christian citizens ought to consecrate our time, our means and our service to help spread the gospel. Then the intermediate and high school classes rendered in conclusion to the exercises an interesting pageant, also some recitations and songs.

This program was conceded by several people to be the best given yet by the teachers and scholars of Crab Creek public school. The teachers here are not only taking an active part in the school work alone, but they are doing some practical work in the church and Sunday school also.

Sunday, October 22, is the day set apart for the "Home Coming Day" for the members of Crab Creek Baptist church. There will be an interesting program arranged for this occasion in the near future. The purpose of this meeting is to get all the members of the church to be present on this day; to preach, pray, talk and sing our Master's praises in one blend of voices together.

There will probably be some very able speakers present on this occasion, including W. B. Sinclair of

LYCEUM PROGRAM TO OPEN HERE ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The first number of the fall and winter chautauqua program will consist of the Lewis concert party of four—two men and two women, who will make their appearance at the city hall on Wednesday night of next week at 8:30 o'clock.

Sam Lewis, a distinguished Welsh tenor, has been in concert and Oratoria work for eleven years, and has made four trans-continental tours with his own company of high class musical artists, under the direction of the Affiliated Bureaus, in the United States, Canada, New Zealand and Australia. Mr. Lewis is one of the most popular ballad singers in America, and is scarcely less a favorite in oratorio and operatic arias. His voice possesses a never-to-be-forgotten richness that goes home to the heart of every hearer. He has studied with Charles Edward Clarke, of Chicago, and David Bispham, of New York. He has appeared on the same courses with Louis Kriedler, of the Chicago Opera, and Frances Ingram, of the Metropolitan.

With Mr. Lewis appears Marie Colliton, pianist, Linn Schuler, violinist, and Nell Adams, reader.

Miss Colliton is a graduate of music department of South Dakota State college, and has taken post graduate work with Jeanne Boyd, of Chicago. She was with the Oceanic Quintette three seasons.

Linn Schuler, violinist, is a pupil of Frank Mach, of Omaha, a graduate of Bush Conservatory of Chicago, and artist-pupil of Richard Czerwonky.

Nell Adams, reader, is a graduate of Lyceum Arts Conservatory, of Chicago. She was formerly with Ellias Day Players, and has been very successful in the portrayal of comedy roles.

A rare musical treat is in store when the Lewis Concert Party appears here next Wednesday evening, October 4.

Messrs. Penny and Wetmur enthusiastic over road program

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Wetmur and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Penny were in and around Wilmington last week on a fishing trip. The party returned this week with the exception of Mrs. Penny, who remained to visit relatives for several days.

The party forded the trip and Messrs. Penny and Wetmur returned very enthusiastic over the road building program of North Carolina as evidences of great progress were seen in about every county they traversed.

TO MERCHANTS PARTICIPATING IN THE DOLLAR DAY SALES

An unusual opportunity presents itself for "good will" advertising in connection with Dollar Day sales. Don't depend on newspaper advertising alone to make a success of the event. Coach the clerical force. Decorate the windows to most artistic advantage. Make the most of the occasion in every way.

The Dollar Day properly worked will work wonders.

To facilitate window dressing and pricing of articles The News will compliment each merchant participating in the sales with window display cards and price tags in order to help make the window displays as forceful and result-producing as possible.

All together for big business.

L. J. PENNEY, SECRETARY CHAMBER COMMERCE ACCEPTS ADVERTISING MANAGERSHIP OF THIS NEWSPAPER

The Hendersonville News announces the addition of L. J. Penney, recently resigned secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, to its force.

The News upon learning that Mr. Penney had a restless feeling to get back to his first love—the newspaper work and that he purposed to tender his resignation as secretary of the local trade body, sought his services with the result that Mr. Penney will begin services with The News as its advertising manager next Monday.

The News feels unusually fortunate in being able to have on its force a man with such a wide and varied experience that has taken him through the newspaper gamut all the way from country journalism to positions of responsibility on the larger metropolitan journals of America.

Apparently young in years but ripe and matured in valuable experience, Mr. Penney will bring with him to The News a wholesome spirit and enthusiasm that will make his services valuable not only to the paper of which he is a part but to the entire community the paper serves. He is thoroughly saturated with deep convictions as to some of this community's vital needs and this conviction with the power of the press at his disposal will make his services fully if not more potent than could be expected of him as the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, which position he accepted last winter "on a gamble," as he stated, from month to month when the treasury had no funds and he accepted the work on the condition that he would not tie up the organization on an iron-clad agreement that might embarrass it. The Chamber of Commerce campaign was waged for increased funds and Mr. Penney leaves the organization with it in excellent shape to enter upon a more pretentious program than its funds has heretofore permitted.

Had Varied Experience

Mr. Penney entered the newspaper field in 1910 as state editor of the Memphis, Tenn., News Scimitar. A year later he was made managing editor of the Journal at Spartanburg, S. C. He went to Albany, N. Y., to write the story of Gov. Sulzer's impeachment trial for an eastern paper, after which he became connected with the editorial staff of the Baltimore Sun.

In the summer of 1914 he became political and special feature writer for the Memphis Commercial Appeal. Two years later he accepted a position as secretary of the Helena, Arkansas, Chamber of Commerce. He entered the army in September 1917 at Camp Pike, Arkansas, and was graduated from the Third Officers Training School of the 87th Division in April 1918, being commissioned in the infantry branch.

As assistant camp adjutant at Camp Lee, Virginia, Mr. Penney served on the staffs of Generals Hedekin, Johnson and Omar Bundy. He was commissioned a captain in the infantry reserve corps upon his discharge in April, 1919, and, after a few months as chief of a Red Cross bureau in Washington, Mr. Penney again took up newspaper work with the Chicago Evening American. He was connected with that paper in an editorial capacity until he accepted the secretaryship of the Hendersonville Board of Trade, now the Chamber of Commerce.

LOCAL CARTOONIST DOES GOOD WORK FOR CITIZEN

The skill of Walter Allison as a cartoonist, whose cartoons have often appeared in The News, was strikingly portrayed in The Asheville Citizen last Sunday in the reproduction of a drawing by the Hendersonville artist.

The cartoon portrayed the artist's impressions of the service the Asheville Citizen is rendering in the upbuilding of Western North Carolina.

The artist pictured the editorial pen of The Citizen paving the way and pointing out to the tourist, future citizen and prospective builder the "prosperity drive" to the land of promise—which was pictured as "A Greater Western North Carolina" nestling up among the charming Blue Ridge mountains.

WANTS WINE AND BEER

Springfield, Mass., Sept. 26.—The Democratic State Convention today adopted a platform declaring that "in the interest of law and good health, of civic decency, as well as of true temperance," the party, although opposed to the return of the saloon, believed in "the legal use of beer and light wines." The platform assailed the Republican tariff act of 1922, condemning "the betrayal of the American people" by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge in his leadership for the adopting of the bill, and favored the payment of adjusted compensation to world war veterans.

GOVERNMENTAL CRISIS OVERSHADOWS GREECE

London, Sept. 27.—King Constantine has abdicated in favor of the crown prince, according to an Athens dispatch to The Central News.

Athens, Sept. 26.—King Constantine tonight told the correspondent of the Associated Press that he would stick to the throne until his people told him they no longer wanted him.

Athens, Sept. 26.—A crisis is rapidly developing. The king has proclaimed martial law. Eight thousand troops at Saloniki have revolted, insisting on a change in the government.

Sections of the army in the Aegean Islands have also revolted. They demand that the king abdicate.

Part of the army in Thrace demands that the king join the army there. The Greek ministry has resigned. Very important changes are impending, but present indications are that a peaceful solution of the crisis will be found.

HENDERSONVILLE JEWS ORGANIZE; PLAN SYNAGOGUE

The Jewish race of Hendersonville has increased and prospered to the extent that the Jews have become a very important part of the commercial life of this community. The business side of the race is established and now a movement is on foot for the promotion of their spiritual life and the erection of a synagogue in which they might have a regular place of public worship.

A large number of Jews met with Mr. and Mrs. Kantrowitz Sunday night and as a result of the discussions relative to their spiritual welfare they decided to purchase a lot; secured subscriptions to the amount of $500 to be applied on the purchase price and perfected an organization looking to the erection of a house of worship as soon as conditions justify.

H. Patterson was named chairman of the building committee and A. Kantrowitz was named as chairman of the committee to secure a charter for the organization of which N. Brenner is president; Mrs. H. Patterson, vice-president; Mrs. Abe Kantrowitz, secretary, and Mrs. Louis Sherman is treasurer.

There have been enrolled 33 members in the organization, the formal name of which is Aguda's Israel.

There is no synagogue closer than Asheville but religious services are held on holidays by the Jews in Hendersonville. It is their purpose to proceed with their plans so that they may have regular services in a place of worship of their own.

Dentists Organize Society to Make Credit Ratings

The Henderson County Dental Society is the latest professional organization in Hendersonville.

The society has been organized for the purpose of promoting the interests of the dentists of the city with Dr. A. H. Morey, president; Dr. W. H. Vander Linden, secretary-treasurer.

The five dentists of Hendersonville were present at the organization meeting. The discussions drifted to the lines of impositions wherein the dentists along with other business and professional men are often imposed upon by persons who get indebted so far as credit will carry them with one dentist and then move on to the next with a repetition of the experience with the first dentist.

As a result of the situation the dentists decided to prepare something of a credit rating of their customers in order that one dentist might be protected by the painful and costly experience of the other. An effort will be made to use this rating effectively in conjunction with the dentists of Asheville.

NEW BRICK PLANT AT FLETCHER IS MAKING PROGRESS

FLETCHER.—The time of year draws near for the falling of the leaves and the exodus of our summer visitors. We enjoy having them with us and miss them when they are gone. Most of the boys and girls who go away to school have gone. The nights are getting long and they are so cold that we are beginning to get out the blankets and look for the appearance of Jack Frost. Chestnuts are falling and nutting parties are popular. The farmers are busy harvesting their crops, all of which reminds us that winter will soon be here and 1922 will have passed.

Some of our fellow townsmen have decided to cast their lot with some of our summer visitors in a summer climate. Among these are R. M. Garren, wife and children, who are leaving this week for Ft. Pierce, Fla. Mr. Garren has sold his household furniture and part of his property and expects to buy in Florida and make that his future home.

WOULD JOIN DEFENCE

Becoming aroused over the proceedings having to do with the expenditure of road funds, two hundred and fifty-four citizens of Henderson county have requested that they be made parties to the defence in order that they might participate in the fight made by the county officials to control the road funds of the county.

The applicants for the injunction to restraining the county commissioners from making certain expenditures from the special road bond funds in Henderson county were successful before Judge G. S. Ferguson in Waynesville Monday.

The commissioners are limited to expenditures from the bond funds. Several weeks ago K. G. Morris, S. Y. Bryson, S. Maxwell and J. T. Beason entered suit and received a temporary restraining order and the proceedings took them first to Brevard, then to Burnsville, then to Rutherford and last to Waynesville.

During the litigation the defendants offered to compromise by turning over certain funds for expenditure by the highway commission of the state. The state authorities were conferred with and as a result Judge Ferguson granted a decree Monday in Waynesville.

The county officers were charged with spending the county's funds judiciously in road building.

The county authorities appealed from the injunction and this may serve to longer hold up the main road building program in Henderson county.

The decree of Judge Ferguson follows:

"This cause coming on to be heard, this 25th day of September, 1922, before his Honor G. S. Ferguson, Judge, at Chambers at Waynesville, it is now—

"ORDERED AND ADJUDGED: That sixty thousand dollars of the five hundred and ninety thousand dollar special road and bridge fund be forthwith turned over by the defendants to the State Highway Commission, to be used by said Commission in the improvement of the road from Hendersonville towards Tuxedo, already begun, and to construct the road from the northern end of said road to the corporate limits of the city of Hendersonville, and from the southern end of said road to the old road near the Lynch place; that two hundred thousand dollars of said fund be held by the County authorities to be used only under the supervision of the State Highway Commission, and to be used only in the construction of a hard surface road from Bat Cave towards Hendersonville; and the defendants are enjoined from using or contracting for the use of any part of said sixty thousand dollars or two hundred thousand dollars for any other purpose or in any other manner.

"As to the balance of the said $590,000 fund, the restraining order in this cause is dissolved.

"It is further ordered that the defendants pay the costs of this action, to be paid out of the county funds of Henderson County."

This decree it is understood will leave the commissioners with about $105,000 to spend as they see fit.

Representing the petitioners in Waynesville were G. H. Valentine, A. Y. Arledge, Judge O. V. F. Blythe, McD. Ray and Will Pless of Marion.

Judge Frank Carter and J. E. Shipman, county attorneys, represented the county officials.

Unusual Drought Broken by Storm

The severe drought of a large portion of Western Carolina was broken Monday night when there was the heaviest rain of several weeks.

Springs were going dry; streams were running low; power plants were crippled; crops were suffering but a heavy rain, wind and electrical storm made a big change in conditions within a short while.

French Broad river had dropped to its lowest level since 1919.

The atmosphere was much cooler yesterday and as a result people hugged the fire closely last night and this morning.
