

Henderson Increases Its Republican Majorities

But Other Places Turn Topsy-Turvy

Henderson stands unshaken amid the tumult. While all the country seemed to be turning democratic, while the storms of change, the land sliding, and the furniture being smashed in other places, Henderson county retained its sanity and piled up republican majorities of five or six thousand and in some cases fifteen thousand.

Elsewhere the tide flowed against the republicans. In the election returns came in last night, it grew rapidly evident that a democratic landslide, or wave, or earthquake, or some other results of the regrettable disturbance, that the democrats will have a majority of 30 or more in the house (in which North Carolina will have the misfortune to be controlled (?) by ten democrats), democratic governors have been elected in New York, New Connecticut and Massachusetts, in addition to the reelection of a senator in Ohio; and that several republican senators, including Beveridge, will fail of reelection. The worst feature of all is the defeat of John Grant.

Republican majorities claimed by Gudgeon follows: Buncombe 700, Haywood 773, Jackson 50, Polk 75, Swain 30, Macon 50, McCormick 25, Rutherford 435, Clay 50, Henderson 610, Graham 225, Cherokee 225; total republican majority would be 1,104. According to these figures the returns may revise the figures but not very materially change the result.

Hendersonville township went republican, electing B. F. Drake, M. F. Arledge and M. Corn as justices of the ### peace and J. P. Case as constable. That is even better than in the republican landslide of 1904.

The Vote in Henderson

For Congress: Grant 1526; Gudgeon 925; Grant's majority, 589.
State ticket: republican 1496; democratic 945; republican majority 551.
State senator: Connor 1510; Fisher 925; republican majority 585.
Judges: republican 1493; democrat 948; republican majority 511.
Solicitor: McRorie 1489; Johnston 978; republican majority 511.

County Ticket

	Rep.	Dem.
Legislature	1489	694
Clerk	1229	0
Register	1536	0
Coroner	1507	0
Surveyor	1497	0
Commissioners	1474	942

County Vote by Precincts

	Grant	Gudgeon
Bowmans Bluff	51 13	53 12
Bat Cave	77 39	79 45
Broad River	230 5	231 47
Edneyville	104 85	105 89
Etowah	47 29	48 35
Flat Rock	68 59	79 51
Green River	108 38	106 40
Hoopers Creek	130 19	123 78
Mills River	88 84	87 97
Raven Rock	77 11	80 16
Clear Creek	49 11	47 60
Crab Creek	73 24	78 19
E. H'ville	168 93	172 118
W. H'ville	201 122	215 165
Horse Shoe	23 62	23 66
Total	1489 694	1526 937

What will the warring leaders of the discredited democratic ring in this county say about the scorching and scathing rebuke which was administered to them Tuesday by the voters of Henderson?

COUNTRY SWEEP BY DEMOCRATIC WAVE

Political Convulsion Similar to That of 1882.

GREAT CHANGE IS EFFECTED

Many Big States Take a Position in the Democratic Column—Roosevelt and His Party Are Given Quite a Heavy Jolt—Complexion of Next Congress

Elections held throughout the country Tuesday resulted in a political convulsion of far-reaching extent, similar at many points to the famous tidal wave of 1882 and apparently more widespread in its effect.

The indications are that the national house of representatives has been carried by the democrats, reversing the present republican majority of 43. The United States senate will probably have a reduced republican majority as a result of legislative elections held in many states.

Democrats Get Many Governors.

In New York state John A. Dix, democratic candidate for governor, is elected over Henry L. Stimson, republican, by a plurality of about 55,000, reversing the republican plurality of 75,000 in 1906 for Governor Hughes.

In New Jersey Woodrow Wilson, democratic candidate for governor, is elected over Vivian M. Lewis, republican, by about 15,000 plurality, reversing the previous republican plurality of 8,000 for Governor Fort.

In Massachusetts Eugene N. Foss, democratic candidate, has defeated Governor Eben S. Draper, republican candidate for re-election, by about 30,000 plurality, reversing Governor Draper's former plurality of 8,000.

In Connecticut Judge Simon E.

Baldwin, democratic candidate, is elected governor over Charles A. Goodwin, republican, by about 4,000 plurality, reversing the previous republican plurality of 16,000.

Harmon Holds Place.

In Ohio Governor Judson Harmon, democratic candidate for re-election, appears to have carried the state by about 50,000 over Warren G. Harding, republican candidate.

In New Hampshire Robert H. Bass, republican candidate for governor, is leading Charles E. Carr, democratic candidate, by about 6,000 plurality.

In Pennsylvania the election of John H. Tener, republican candidate, for governor is claimed by a large plurality.

In Rhode Island, Governor Pothier, republican candidate, is slightly in the lead over Lewis A. Waterman, democratic candidate, with a plurality much reduced from that of 1909.

In Tennessee the Fusion candidate, Ben W. Hooper, is apparently elected by 15,000 plurality.

Democratic governors have been elected in Alabama and South Carolina.

Democrat in Iowa.

In Iowa the democrats claim the election of Claude R. Porter for governor, but this is not conceded.

In Wisconsin the election of the republican candidate for governor, Francis E. McGovern, is claimed by a reduced majority and the return of Senator La Follette to the United States senate is assured.

In Michigan Chase E. Osborne, the republican candidate for governor, appears to have a safe lead over L. T. Hemans, democrat.

Pennsylvania Republican.

Estimates from all but five of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania indicate that John K. Tener, republican, carried the state by about 25,000 plurality over William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Gram, the regular democratic candidate, ran far behind. Tener needed Philadelphia to win, the city giving him a plurality of 45,254. Allegheny county, which includes Pittsburgh, gave Tener an estimated plurality of 15,000. The democrats gained two congressmen with three close districts to hear from. The democrats and independents made slight gains in the legislature. One of the notable victories of the democrats was the capturing of the fifth congressional district in Philadelphia, which two years ago gave W. W. Foulker a majority of 13,268.

Wilson, N. Y. U. S. A.

Mean, by about 15,000 plurality, reversing the previous republican plurality of 8,000 for Governor Fort.

In Massachusetts Eugene N. Foss, democratic candidate, has defeated Governor Eben S. Draper, republican candidate for re-election, by about 30,000 plurality, reversing Governor Draper's former plurality of 8,000.

In Connecticut Judge Simon E.

Weather Report

for week ending 6 p. m. November 8

Date	Maximum	Minimum	Mean	Set Max.	Precip'n	Wind	Character of Day
Nov 2	67	38	52	46	var	ody
3	50	33	42	38	0.02	n	clr
4	49	27	38	38	T	n	clr
5	52	34	43	41	0.00	n	pc
6	47	33	40	38	nw	clr
7	59	28	41	43	nw	clr
8	66	24	45	51	nw	clr
Max	67
Min	23
Mean max.	56
		Mean Min	30
		Mean	43
		Precip'n	0.11

Baldwin, democratic candidate, is elected governor over Charles A. Goodwin, republican, by about 4,000 plurality, reversing the previous republican plurality of 16,000.

Harmon Holds Place.

In Ohio Governor Judson Harmon, democratic candidate for re-election, appears to have carried the state by about 50,000 over Warren G. Harding, republican candidate.

In New Hampshire Robert H. Bass, republican candidate for governor, is leading Charles E. Carr, democratic candidate, by about 6,000 plurality.

In Pennsylvania the election of John H. Tener, republican candidate, for governor is claimed by a large plurality.

In Rhode Island, Governor Pothier, republican candidate, is slightly in the lead over Lewis A. Waterman, democratic candidate, with a plurality much reduced from that of 1909.

In Tennessee the Fusion candidate, Ben W. Hooper, is apparently elected by 15,000 plurality.

Democratic governors have been elected in Alabama and South Carolina.

Democrat in Iowa.

In Iowa the democrats claim the election of Claude R. Porter for governor, but this is not conceded.

In Wisconsin the election of the republican candidate for governor, Francis E. McGovern, is claimed by a reduced majority and the return of Senator La Follette to the United States senate is assured.

In Michigan Chase E. Osborne, the republican candidate for governor, appears to have a safe lead over L. T. Hemans, democrat.

Pennsylvania Republican.

Estimates from all but five of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania indicate that John K. Tener, republican, carried the state by about 25,000 plurality over William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Gram, the regular democratic candidate, ran far behind. Tener needed Philadelphia to win, the city giving him a plurality of 45,254. Allegheny county, which includes Pittsburgh, gave Tener an estimated plurality of 15,000. The democrats gained two congressmen with three close districts to hear from. The democrats and independents made slight gains in the legislature. One of the notable victories of the democrats was the capturing of the fifth congressional district in Philadelphia, which two years ago gave W. W. Foulker a majority of 13,268.

Estimates from all but five of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania indicate that John K. Tener, republican, carried the state by about 25,000 plurality over William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Gram, the regular democratic candidate, ran far behind. Tener needed Philadelphia to win, the city giving him a plurality of 45,254. Allegheny county, which includes Pittsburgh, gave Tener an estimated plurality of 15,000. The democrats gained two congressmen with three close districts to hear from. The democrats and independents made slight gains in the legislature. One of the notable victories of the democrats was the capturing of the fifth congressional district in Philadelphia, which two years ago gave W. W. Foulker a majority of 13,268.

Estimates from all but five of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania indicate that John K. Tener, republican, carried the state by about 25,000 plurality over William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Gram, the regular democratic candidate, ran far behind. Tener needed Philadelphia to win, the city giving him a plurality of 45,254. Allegheny county, which includes Pittsburgh, gave Tener an estimated plurality of 15,000. The democrats gained two congressmen with three close districts to hear from. The democrats and independents made slight gains in the legislature. One of the notable victories of the democrats was the capturing of the fifth congressional district in Philadelphia, which two years ago gave W. W. Foulker a majority of 13,268.

Estimates from all but five of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania indicate that John K. Tener, republican, carried the state by about 25,000 plurality over William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Gram, the regular democratic candidate, ran far behind. Tener needed Philadelphia to win, the city giving him a plurality of 45,254. Allegheny county, which includes Pittsburgh, gave Tener an estimated plurality of 15,000. The democrats gained two congressmen with three close districts to hear from. The democrats and independents made slight gains in the legislature. One of the notable victories of the democrats was the capturing of the fifth congressional district in Philadelphia, which two years ago gave W. W. Foulker a majority of 13,268.

Estimates from all but five of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania indicate that John K. Tener, republican, carried the state by about 25,000 plurality over William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Gram, the regular democratic candidate, ran far behind. Tener needed Philadelphia to win, the city giving him a plurality of 45,254. Allegheny county, which includes Pittsburgh, gave Tener an estimated plurality of 15,000. The democrats gained two congressmen with three close districts to hear from. The democrats and independents made slight gains in the legislature. One of the notable victories of the democrats was the capturing of the fifth congressional district in Philadelphia, which two years ago gave W. W. Foulker a majority of 13,268.

Estimates from all but five of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania indicate that John K. Tener, republican, carried the state by about 25,000 plurality over William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Gram, the regular democratic candidate, ran far behind. Tener needed Philadelphia to win, the city giving him a plurality of 45,254. Allegheny county, which includes Pittsburgh, gave Tener an estimated plurality of 15,000. The democrats gained two congressmen with three close districts to hear from. The democrats and independents made slight gains in the legislature. One of the notable victories of the democrats was the capturing of the fifth congressional district in Philadelphia, which two years ago gave W. W. Foulker a majority of 13,268.

Estimates from all but five of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania indicate that John K. Tener, republican, carried the state by about 25,000 plurality over William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Gram, the regular democratic candidate, ran far behind. Tener needed Philadelphia to win, the city giving him a plurality of 45,254. Allegheny county, which includes Pittsburgh, gave Tener an estimated plurality of 15,000. The democrats gained two congressmen with three close districts to hear from. The democrats and independents made slight gains in the legislature. One of the notable victories of the democrats was the capturing of the fifth congressional district in Philadelphia, which two years ago gave W. W. Foulker a majority of 13,268.

Estimates from all but five of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania indicate that John K. Tener, republican, carried the state by about 25,000 plurality over William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Gram, the regular democratic candidate, ran far behind. Tener needed Philadelphia to win, the city giving him a plurality of 45,254. Allegheny county, which includes Pittsburgh, gave Tener an estimated plurality of 15,000. The democrats gained two congressmen with three close districts to hear from. The democrats and independents made slight gains in the legislature. One of the notable victories of the democrats was the capturing of the fifth congressional district in Philadelphia, which two years ago gave W. W. Foulker a majority of 13,268.

Estimates from all but five of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania indicate that John K. Tener, republican, carried the state by about 25,000 plurality over William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Gram, the regular democratic candidate, ran far behind. Tener needed Philadelphia to win, the city giving him a plurality of 45,254. Allegheny county, which includes Pittsburgh, gave Tener an estimated plurality of 15,000. The democrats gained two congressmen with three close districts to hear from. The democrats and independents made slight gains in the legislature. One of the notable victories of the democrats was the capturing of the fifth congressional district in Philadelphia, which two years ago gave W. W. Foulker a majority of 13,268.

Estimates from all but five of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania indicate that John K. Tener, republican, carried the state by about 25,000 plurality over William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Gram, the regular democratic candidate, ran far behind. Tener needed Philadelphia to win, the city giving him a plurality of 45,254. Allegheny county, which includes Pittsburgh, gave Tener an estimated plurality of 15,000. The democrats gained two congressmen with three close districts to hear from. The democrats and independents made slight gains in the legislature. One of the notable victories of the democrats was the capturing of the fifth congressional district in Philadelphia, which two years ago gave W. W. Foulker a majority of 13,268.

Estimates from all but five of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania indicate that John K. Tener, republican, carried the state by about 25,000 plurality over William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Gram, the regular democratic candidate, ran far behind. Tener needed Philadelphia to win, the city giving him a plurality of 45,254. Allegheny county, which includes Pittsburgh, gave Tener an estimated plurality of 15,000. The democrats gained two congressmen with three close districts to hear from. The democrats and independents made slight gains in the legislature. One of the notable victories of the democrats was the capturing of the fifth congressional district in Philadelphia, which two years ago gave W. W. Foulker a majority of 13,268.

Estimates from all but five of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania indicate that John K. Tener, republican, carried the state by about 25,000 plurality over William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Gram, the regular democratic candidate, ran far behind. Tener needed Philadelphia to win, the city giving him a plurality of 45,254. Allegheny county, which includes Pittsburgh, gave Tener an estimated plurality of 15,000. The democrats gained two congressmen with three close districts to hear from. The democrats and independents made slight gains in the legislature. One of the notable victories of the democrats was the capturing of the fifth congressional district in Philadelphia, which two years ago gave W. W. Foulker a majority of 13,268.

Estimates from all but five of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania indicate that John K. Tener, republican, carried the state by about 25,000 plurality over William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Gram, the regular democratic candidate, ran far behind. Tener needed Philadelphia to win, the city giving him a plurality of 45,254. Allegheny county, which includes Pittsburgh, gave Tener an estimated plurality of 15,000. The democrats gained two congressmen with three close districts to hear from. The democrats and independents made slight gains in the legislature. One of the notable victories of the democrats was the capturing of the fifth congressional district in Philadelphia, which two years ago gave W. W. Foulker a majority of 13,268.

Estimates from all but five of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania indicate that John K. Tener, republican, carried the state by about 25,000 plurality over William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Gram, the regular democratic candidate, ran far behind. Tener needed Philadelphia to win, the city giving him a plurality of 45,254. Allegheny county, which includes Pittsburgh, gave Tener an estimated plurality of 15,000. The democrats gained two congressmen with three close districts to hear from. The democrats and independents made slight gains in the legislature. One of the notable victories of the democrats was the capturing of the fifth congressional district in Philadelphia, which two years ago gave W. W. Foulker a majority of 13,268.

Estimates from all but five of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania indicate that John K. Tener, republican, carried the state by about 25,000 plurality over William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Gram, the regular democratic candidate, ran far behind. Tener needed Philadelphia to win, the city giving him a plurality of 45,254. Allegheny county, which includes Pittsburgh, gave Tener an estimated plurality of 15,000. The democrats gained two congressmen with three close districts to hear from. The democrats and independents made slight gains in the legislature. One of the notable victories of the democrats was the capturing of the fifth congressional district in Philadelphia, which two years ago gave W. W. Foulker a majority of 13,268.

Estimates from all but five of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania indicate that John K. Tener, republican, carried the state by about 25,000 plurality over William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Gram, the regular democratic candidate, ran far behind. Tener needed Philadelphia to win, the city giving him a plurality of 45,254. Allegheny county, which includes Pittsburgh, gave Tener an estimated plurality of 15,000. The democrats gained two congressmen with three close districts to hear from. The democrats and independents made slight gains in the legislature. One of the notable victories of the democrats was the capturing of the fifth congressional district in Philadelphia, which two years ago gave W. W. Foulker a majority of 13,268.

Estimates from all but five of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania indicate that John K. Tener, republican, carried the state by about 25,000 plurality over William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Gram, the regular democratic candidate, ran far behind. Tener needed Philadelphia to win, the city giving him a plurality of 45,254. Allegheny county, which includes Pittsburgh, gave Tener an estimated plurality of 15,000. The democrats gained two congressmen with three close districts to hear from. The democrats and independents made slight gains in the legislature. One of the notable victories of the democrats was the capturing of the fifth congressional district in Philadelphia, which two years ago gave W. W. Foulker a majority of 13,268.

Estimates from all but five of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania indicate that John K. Tener, republican, carried the state by about 25,000 plurality over William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Gram, the regular democratic candidate, ran far behind. Tener needed Philadelphia to win, the city giving him a plurality of 45,254. Allegheny county, which includes Pittsburgh, gave Tener an estimated plurality of 15,000. The democrats gained two congressmen with three close districts to hear from. The democrats and independents made slight gains in the legislature. One of the notable victories of the democrats was the capturing of the fifth congressional district in Philadelphia, which two years ago gave W. W. Foulker a majority of 13,268.

Estimates from all but five of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania indicate that John K. Tener, republican, carried the state by about 25,000 plurality over William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Gram, the regular democratic candidate, ran far behind. Tener needed Philadelphia to win, the city giving him a plurality of 45,254. Allegheny county, which includes Pittsburgh, gave Tener an estimated plurality of 15,000. The democrats gained two congressmen with three close districts to hear from. The democrats and independents made slight gains in the legislature. One of the notable victories of the democrats was the capturing of the fifth congressional district in Philadelphia, which two years ago gave W. W. Foulker a majority of 13,268.

Estimates from all but five of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania indicate that John K. Tener, republican, carried the state by about 25,000 plurality over William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Gram, the regular democratic candidate, ran far behind. Tener needed Philadelphia to win, the city giving him a plurality of 45,254. Allegheny county, which includes Pittsburgh, gave Tener an estimated plurality of 15,000. The democrats gained two congressmen with three close districts to hear from. The democrats and independents made slight gains in the legislature. One of the notable victories of the democrats was the capturing of the fifth congressional district in Philadelphia, which two years ago gave W. W. Foulker a majority of 13,268.

Local Notes

M. D. Barnett of Horse Shoe was among our callers Wednesday.

The County Commissioners held their regular monthly meeting Monday.

Attention is invited to the advertisement of Staton & Jones which will be found on our last page. The bargains there offered will repay careful reading.

C. W. Davis and J. E. Banning returned Sunday from the National Trade School at Indianapolis, where they have been learning the linotype business.

Staton & Jones announce a ten days sale beginning Wednesday, November 16. During that sale goods will be offered at prices whose lowness is enough to take your breath away.

The regular monthly meeting of the town council, postponed from Thursday, November 3, was held Thursday, November 10. A large amount of routine business was transacted.

Mrs. S. W. Hamilton requests us to express her heartfelt appreciation of the many kindnesses and helpful sympathy shown by her neighbors and friends at the time of the illness and death of her husband.

The funeral of S. W. Hamilton took place last Friday, the services being held at the house, Revs. A. I. Justice, K. W. Cawthon and Williams officiating. The interment took place at Oakdale cemetery the same day.

J. H. Hines has moved back to his old stand at the corner of Main street and 2nd ave. E (otherwise known as Aspen street.) He is very glad to be back again, as his present location is right in the center of town and is therefore convenient to him and to his customers.

At the recital was given last Thursday evening by the pupils of the Asheville School of Musical Art and Languages, Miss Evah Blythe of Hendersonville received many justly deserved compliments for her artistic rendition of two songs (Daniels' "Lady of Dreams" and Whelpley's "Gather Rosebuds") and a piano solo (Chaminade's Air de Ballet). The Asheville Citizen, in its notice of the recital, said: "The program was of special merit. Miss Evah Blythe sang a group of songs charmingly, and was liberally applauded, also for her piano number."

Read Maxwell & Brown's advertisement on page 2.

Woodward-Hart

Thursday afternoon, at half past three one of the prettiest of home weddings was solemnized at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Hart, the contracting parties being Miss Edna Allen Hart to John Andre Woodward. The entire lower floor was thrown open to the guests, one room being decorated in pink, one in yellow, the parlor and dining room in white and green. The bride's attendants were her sisters, Mrs. Freeman in a charming gown of gray with pink trimmings, and Miss Theo Hart in a lovely costume of pink. Mr. Woodward was accompanied by his best man, Clyde Thaxton of Columbia, S. C. The beautiful bride, attired in exquisite messaline, and carrying a bouquet of bride's roses, came in upon the arm of her father. The wedding march was played by Mrs. M. C. Toms, who also rendered appropriate music during the impressive ceremony, performed by the Rev. J. W. Moore. Immediately after delightful refreshments were served in the dining room.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodward left on the 5:10 train for Charlotte and other points of interest. The bride's going-away gown was of handsome brown cloth with hat and gloves to match. Very many elegant and useful gifts testified to the popularity of both the bride and groom. Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Woodward of Durham, parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Woodward Jr. from the same place, Mrs. Miller of Brevard, Mrs. Ballinger of Tryon, and Miss Snyder of Fort Meyer, Fla.

Having qualified as executrix of the last will and testament of S. W. Hamilton, deceased, all persons, having claims against his estate will present to me at Hendersonville, N. C., by the 12th day of November, 1911, or this notice will be pled in bar of their recovery, and any persons indebted to the estate will please make prompt payment. This the 8th day of November 1910

M. C. Hamilton
Executrix.

NEW GOODS
Arriving Daily
No trouble to Show Goods
Come and Look
E. LEWIS & SON
"The Underselling Store"
Agents for Standard Fashions

The
Augustus Pharmacy
Everything in Drugs
"The Drug Store on the Corner"

You May Feel Safe

Your Doctor knows that he needs Drugs having certain and positive properties to gain the results he seeks. He also knows that we have whatever he demands, and that the quality always meets the requirement. Bring all your Prescriptions to us, and you will be safe and the doctor satisfied

HUNTER'S PHARMACY
Near POSTOFFICE