A First-Class Hotel Surrounded by..... Delightful Scenes.

OSCEOLA HOTEL, attractive in design, up-to-date in construction, and equipped with baths, electric lights and all other modern conveniences, combines picturesque location and ease of access.

While only a few hundred yards from the city limits, the hotel is located on an elevation surrounded by a grove of native oaks and pines, overlooking beautiful Lake Osceola and commanding extensive views of the mountains beyond.

Hendersonville is known far and wide as "the Lake City of the Mountains." Of the numerous lakes from which this name is derived, the most beautiful and the nearest to the city is Lake Osceola. It is surrounded by a magnificent three-mile automobile road. Among the attractions afforded are fishing and boating. The lake is well stocked with trout, bream and bass. The boat house is equipped with naphtha launches and row boats.

Though so close to the city, and connected with it by a hack line which makes five trips daily, Osceola Hotel has also all the charm and attraction of the country. Nestling among the trees, on a commanding elevation, it is free from the heat and dust of the city. On the warmest nights in the summer the thermometer goes down to 65 degrees; and usually several degrees lower. On the warmest and stillest summer days, there is always a cooling and refreshing breeze. All the surroundings insure rest, recreation and comfort to the fullest extent.

Osceola Hotel is a well built and substantial structure. The interior arrangement is comfortable and convenient and modern in all respects. The cuisine is excellent. Our own dairy and truck farm supplies the tables bountifully with milk, butter, chickens, eggs, vegetables and other country produce.

DANGEROUS FISH TO MEET

Habitat of South American Waters That Seems Particularly Fond of the Human Body.

Probably one of the most dangerous and least known of man's watery enemies, says the Wide World Magazine, is the candern, or canern, a fish three to eight inches long, and guilty of the extraordinary habit of diving suddenly into the human anatomy by the most convenient channels.

There are two distinct species, one eel-like in appearance, blunt-headed and smooth-bodied, the other armed with a sharp, bony snout, two to three inches in length, swallow-tailed, and covered from snout to tail by small barbs. It is particularly attracted by the human body, into which it dives suddenly and with great force, producing a shock somewhat akin to a powerful electric discharge.

In the case of both types a serious surgical operation is involved; but in the case of the Beni variety the more the fish penetrates—and it cannot get back. It frequently causes death, for a surgeon is a rare avis in these wilds.

R. KIRKWOOD THE NEW JEWELER In Front at Orr's Store Hendersonville, N. C.

I saw two cut out of a woman's Riveralta, South America, where victims are common. The fish is a bloodsucker, and can be easily caught with a lump of raw meat, into which it dives in a much similar way—the proboscis being probably its usual means of securing blood.

WAS DABBLING IN THE PAST

Pilgrim Somewhat Resentful Because He Was Mised Into Perusing an Old Magazine.

"Among the things I'd like to know about," remarked the weary looking pilgrim with the drab mustache, in the car, "is this: How does a doctor or dentist come by his magazines? Does he go around among his friends and buy up old ones after his friends have read 'em, so's to get 'em cheap? Or does he buy new magazines and then lay them away somewhere and let them age by natural process before placing them on the table in his reception room?"

"A day or so ago I had occasion to sit in the reception room of a prosperous dentist—that is, I suppose, he prospered if he charges everybody on the same scale that he does me—and while I waited I began to rummage through his magazines that I found lying on the table. I got interested in an article in the Literary Digest about a threatened war between Russia and Japan. What! Another Russian mix-up? I became all worked up about it and turned over a page for further details. Then I happened to glance at the date, and found that I had been reading a magazine issued in January, 1904."
