The following resolution of respect has been adopted by the Young Men's Fellowship Class of the Methodist Sunday school:

Whereas, our Heavenly Father in His Infinite wisdom has seen fit to cause the scythe to cut the thread of life and launch into eternity Edward Faulkner, a valued member of our class.

Therefore be it resolved: First, that the members of the Young Men's Fellowship Class, humbly bow in submission to His Supreme Will. We feel deeply grieved and sympathize greatly with his family in their loss, and remind them that He who tempers all winds to the Shorn Lamb looks upon the bereaved in their hour of desolation, and will put his arm of comfort and consolation around them in their deep sorrow and distress, if they will only put their trust in Him. Second, That a copy of these resolutions be given Mrs. Faulkner, and a copy be kept by the class. Third, That the Young Men's Fellowship Class extend deep sympathy to his mother, two brothers and a little sister in their bereavement, and implore them to look to Him who doeth all things well.

CENTRAL ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER STATIONS; NORTH AND SOUTH CAROLINA

Washington, March 19.—Preliminary figures from the forthcoming quinquennial report on the central electric light and power stations of the states of North Carolina and South Carolina have been given out by Director Sam. L. Rogers, of the bureau of the census, department of commerce. They were prepared under the supervision of Eugene F. Hartley, chief statistician for manufactures.

The statistics relate to the year ending December 31, 1917, 1912, and 1907, and cover both commercial and municipal plants. They do not, however, cover electric plants operated by factories, hotels, etc., which generate current for their own consumption; those operated by the federal government and state institutions; and those that were idle or in course of construction.

Large increases are shown in substantially all items for both five-year periods covered by the report. The number of establishments increased from 155 in 1912 to 241 in 1917. The actual number of new stations added since 1912, however, was 110, of which 65 were commercial and 45 municipal; but, as the result of a number of combinations in the commercial systems, and various other changes, a net increase of only 86 establishments, of which 51 are municipal and 35 commercial, is shown by the figures. In 1917, the total income, 95.7 per cent of which was for electric service, amounted to $9,911,925, an increase of 66.3 per cent, as compared with 1912, and from 1907 to 1912 the rate of increase was 312.4 per cent. The total expenses were $7,626,168, the percentage of increase for the later and earlier five-year periods being 95.7 and 263.6, respectively. The total horsepower was 495,023, an increase of 74.8 per cent as compared with 1912; during the preceding five years the rate of increase was 170.5 per cent. Water supplied four-fifths of the total horsepower at each of the three censuses for which figures are given. The total dynamic capacity, 341,915 kilowatts in 1917, shows an increase of 77.7 per cent as compared with 1912, the rate of increase during the preceding five-year period being 169.8 per cent. The output of current generated, 872,142,636 kilowatt hours, represents an increase of 104.1 per cent over 1912, as against an increase of 422 per cent for the period 1907-12. The number of arc street lamps decreased from 4,083 in 1912 to 2,898 in 1917, or 29.3 per cent, while the incandescents increased in number from 8,407 to 21,441, or 156 per cent.

HOOVER PLANS TO QUIT

Herbert Hoover, American food administrator, and recently appointed director general of the inter-allied relief organization, plans to quit relief work this summer. In a statement issued during the week, Mr. Hoover intimated that he and majority of his assistants would retire to private life on July 1.

"We must earn our living," was the only explanation vouchsafed by America's food boss.

No Wheat Surplus This Year

Speaking of the supply and demand for grain to be expected this year, Mr. Hoover said that no one needs anticipate a wheat surplus this year. The Indian famine will take all of Australia's surplus, declared Mr. Hoover, while the needs of Europe are so great that North and South America can come nowhere near filling the shortage, even with record breaking crops.

"I would not be surprised to see wheat selling for $3.50 a bushel this summer," stated Mr. Hoover, "that is, if there is a free market and uncontrolled prices."

"I do not believe the American government will lose a dollar on its guaranteed price of $2.26 a bushel to the farmers. No matter how much wheat is harvested in America this year Europe will take every bushel of the surplus, and be glad to get it at any price."
