Head Camp Officers Dine Here To-Night

Committee to Meet Woodmen Left Yesterday Afternoon For Knoxville

All final plans for the entertainment of the Woodmen were whipped into shape at a meeting of the committee on program and executive affairs held Wednesday night at the city hall. This committee is composed of John T. Wilkins, chairman; K. G. Morris and Wiltshire Griffith.

There was not much for the committee to do but put in shape the loose ends of the program, but this, considering the magnitude of the plans, was an exceedingly important undertaking.

At the meeting of the committee, the finance committee reported that the $1,000 needed for the entertainment of the Woodmen had been raised, and that all was in readiness for the coming of the world wide order. The chairman of the committee which had in charge the financial matters of the entertainment was composed of J. Mack Rhodes and C. E. Brooks. The raising of this amount has in itself an arduous undertaking, but due to the hard work and zeal of the committee in charge it has been accomplished in good time.

The sovereign executive committee will meet the Hendersonville committee in Knoxville. The Hendersonville committee left here Thursday and will reach Knoxville in the early part of the afternoon and meet the distinguished guests of the "Land of the Sky," returning with them to Hendersonville. On this trip, the Woodmen will have an excellent chance to view the beautiful scenery along the way and see the advantages western North Carolina offers. It is for this reason that the trip by motor is being made.

Arriving in Hendersonville, the party, of which Sovereign Commander Frasier is the head, will be given a reception by the people of Hendersonville, after which they will go to Dunraggan hotel, where they will be during their stay here.

S. C. SHERIFFS TO BE HERE JULY 4TH

Officers Will Make Carolina Terrace Headquarters

The convention of sheriffs of South Carolina will meet in Hendersonville July Fourth.

Headquarters for the convention will be at the Carolina Terrace. There is no definite information available at present as to the exact number of officers of the law who will meet here on the Fourth, but there will be enough to enforce good order during their stay in the mountains. It has been suggested that as a method of entertainment the officers be introduced to mountain still hunting by the Henderson county officials, who have grown rather adept at the practice of late.

Besides the sheriffs, there will be a number of other interested people accompanying them, adding greatly to the crowd that Hendersonville will entertain on the Fourth.

The announcement that the sheriffs will be here makes the third convention that will meet here on the fourth of July, the Dokays, W. O. W.'s and Sheriffs.

Forkless, Spoonless, Luncheon Is Enjoyed

S. H. Wright addressed the members of the Kiwanis club at the weekly luncheon Thursday at the Carson. Mr. Wright is the representative of the Gilbert C. White company, of Durham, and will supervise the construction of the water line from the Pisgah water shed. Mr. Wright explained how the water line would be constructed and said that it would be complete in its entirety by this time next year. That Hendersonville is not now surpassed by any city in the way of water equipment was the opinion expressed by Mr. Wright.

Whether or not society in Hendersonville will follow the style set by the Kiwanians at their luncheon is a matter of conjecture. The tableware was an innovation. The only piece of silver at the plate of each guest was a knife. Nothing else. The first courses served was ice cream. Following came numberless varieties of vegetables, peas, beans, cabbage, lettuce. It was remarked by a Kiwanian that some of his fellows were peculiarly apt and seemed to have the technique of eating with a knife down pretty well, but most of them contributed to the general fad of humor.

A prize was offered to the man presenting the cleanest napkin at the end of the meal. This went to Chas. Rozzelle, but it is stated on good authority that the furniture man was possessed of more than one napkin.

A CORRECTION

In last week's issue of The Times, in the Golden Rule Sale ad, sandstone organandy, 85¢ value was quoted as 47 cents at Lewis' Department Store. The price should have read 47 1-2 cents.

KANUGA LAKE INN IMPROVED

Kanuga Lake Inn Showing Many Great Improvements Under Mr. Cresswell.

Those who have known Kanuga Lake Inn in the past will note with a great deal of interest the many improvements being made and the changes taking place at that popular summer hotel.

This year, the Inn is under the management of James P. Cresswell. In the category of Southern hotel men there is perhaps not one so well fitted to manage so popular a hotel. Sixteen years of experience have fitted him to know all the ins and outs of the game. His rise in the hotel business has been almost meteoric. Starting as a store room boy, he is now one of the best known hotel men in the South.

For some time the grounds at Kanuga have been allowed to depreciate so that a great deal of the natural beauty and freshness of the surroundings has been lost. This has been remedied by cutting out the underbrush and attending to the grass, so that all the landscape may be seen.

Kanuga offers two chief outdoor amusements — the aquatic sports and golf. In preparation for the summer, the boat houses have been gone over, all the boats painted and some added, making over a dozen boats for the use of the guests. A special feature is the number of bath houses provided. There are 50 private (Continued on Page 12)

SUES HUSBAND FOR $10,000

Wife of L. G. Thornton Attacks His Property Here.

Mrs. Ella Trice, alias Mrs. Ella Thornton, has entered suit in the superior court of Henderson against her husband, Leonidas G. Thornton, for the sum of $10,000. Mrs. Thornton is suing by her next friend, B. F. Hood.

Mrs. Thornton states that she married Thornton on the 13th day of September, at her home on Fordick avenue, Glendale, in the city of Brooklyn, state of New York, and that he represented himself to be Leon Trice, of Henderson County, North Carolina, and seemed to be a man of character and good breeding. She married him because she loved and trusted him and thought that he loved her. She states that she lived with Trice about seven months, and that from the time she met Trice until February 21, 1921 he was a member of the U. S. Navy, being a chief Yeoman, at a salary of $160 per month.

Board of Trade Now Chamber of Commerce

It is now the Chamber of Commerce of Hendersonville, and no longer the Board of Trade. This action, unanimously voted, was taken Wednesday evening at a call meeting of that organization.

President Bell, in advocating the change, stated that 95 per cent of the commercial organizations throughout the country are known as chambers of commerce, and that such a name had become sort of a trade mark universally. The change was recommended by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

In making his report to the chamber last evening, Chairman F. S. Weimer of the industrial committee stated that his body is making progress toward locating in Hendersonville several enterprises.

NO PARKING AT HIGH SCHOOL

No automobiles will be permitted to park on the high school ground on July Fourth.

Ample parking facilities are available on 8th and 9th avenue for the many cars which will doubtless be seeking space on that day.

This announcement was made today by A. W. Honeycutt, chairman of the grounds committee incident to the Fourth of July celebration.

BLUE LANTERN

The Blue Lantern Tea room is again open this season. This time the home of J. E. Shipman, on Seventh avenue, east, has been used by Mrs. Helen Howard for the purpose. The usual exhibit of basketry and other mountain handicraft will be on display and tea and sandwiches be sold. Mrs. Howard is from Savannah and this is her third season in Hendersonville.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Poe and children of Chapel Hill, are visiting Mrs. Poe's sister, Mrs. G. L. Steele.

STORES TO CLOSE ON JULY FOURTH

Hendersonville Merchants Will Give Employees Day Off.

The following stores have agreed to close on the morning of July 4, at 10:30 o'clock and to remain closed for the remainder of the day: Brenner-Penny Dept. Store, S. J. Harris, W. P. Potts, Bland-Davis Hardware, La Vogue Hat Shop, W. H. Hawkins, Burckmyer Bros., P. E. Rollins, McLellan Five and Ten Cent Store, The Hub, Goldman's, Hendersonville Plumbing Co., Beck & Moffitt, J. Z. Cagle & Son, Sewis Department Store, Walker Furniture, Hendersonville Hardware Co., Chas. Rozzelle, H. Patterson, Foster's Fancy Grocery, Mrs. E. L. Doyle, The Boston Store, the Racket Store, Daggett & Tatum, F. H. Kincaid, Razook's, David La Vogue Beauty Shop, Jap Art Store.

The list is yet incomplete.

J. Cullen Root, Founder W. O. W. Died Here

It is extremely appropriate that the first national convention of the Woodmen of the World outside of the city of Omaha, at which headquarters are located, should be in Hendersonville. It is appropriate for this reason; the great founder of the order breathed his last in this city.

Joseph Cullen Root was the founder of the fraternal order. About 30 years ago, being interested in fraternal work and insurance, he founded the Woodmen on a small order. In a few years it had grown to immense proportions and had spread over the continent of North America. Mr. Root was the first Sovereign Commander of the order, and remained so until his death.

In December, 1911, Mr. Root was on a tour, looking over the work of the Woodmen in several states. At Cincinnati he contracted a bad cold, and later, coming to Hendersonville to attend an initiation of about 100 men, his cold developed into pneumonia. He was rooming at the Gates hotel, which has since been destroyed by fire, and there, after an illness of only three or four days, he died.

It is felt by many that to locate the Woodmen sanatorium here would be the most fitting way to commemorate the death of the man whose life has been so much benefit to the world. A perpetual monument to the memory of Joseph Cullen Root, located in the Blue Ridge mountains among which he died, and dedicated to the saving of life, will, in all probability, be the outcome of the Woodmen's visit here.

BASEBALL FANS PLAN NIGHT FAIR

Fair Will Be Held Between Fifth and Sixth Avenues, Main St.

Beginning Monday, there will be a "Night Fair" here all next week. The fair will be held on Main street, from Baker's Art Gallery to the Bland hardware company, and will be entirely under the charge of local boys and girls.

The purpose of having this fair is to raise funds for the improvement of the local baseball diamond and to aid the Hendersonville Boosters.

The attractions of the fair will be many and varied. There will be the usual "nigger" to pitch baseballs at, and more than 20 booths presided over by local young ladies, at which there will be a variety of good things and amusements. The whole program for the fair will not be announced, it being the plan to have some things in the nature of a surprise but the promoters promise that there will be something that has never been seen even in a professional carnival. A great many of the young people who are talented entertainers have promised their support to the fair, and all indications are that it will score a really great success.

The time selected for the fair is the most propitious that could have been found. During the week that the fair is held the W. O. W. convention will meet here and the Dokays will be in town. Besides that, there is an increasing number of summer people coming in, a great many of them real baseball fans who will be glad to do anything to help the team along. All fans who are interested in the success of the Boosters can contribute towards that success by helping and patronizing the fair.

SIGN PAINTERS MAY LOCATE IN CITY

The Chandler sign painting company is considering locating in Hendersonville permanently.

The special feature that the Chandler company offers is pictorial sign painting. The company has artists capable of reproducing any scene anywhere.

Metal refuse cans will be manufactured by the concern and shipped to other cities. The company is trying to interest the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations in Hendersonville in placing a number of cans around the city with advertisements on them. A good many merchants have already signified their willingness to take advertising space on these cans.

DOKAYS PLAN BIG PARADE

Knights of Koran Making Plans For Big Day Here.

The Dramatic Order of the Knights of Koran will meet in this city July 4th, with headquarters at the Carolina Terrace hotel. The convention hall on the grounds of the Terrace will be used for the meetings of the order.

The spectacular feature of the Dokays convention here will be the parade at 10:30 Tuesday morning, July 4th. The parade will be led by Professor DeNardo and his 30 piece band. Another feature of the parade will be the appearance of the Brigand team under Capt. D. K. Lipe.

In number, the Dokays will probably be in excess of 300, coming, some of them, from great distances for this occasion. A number of rites and ceremonies will be held and a large class of new members initiated.

White Pine Camp, 213 Will Parade in Section

Every member of White Pine camp number 213 who is within riding distance of Hendersonville on the Fourth of July is ordered by Counsel Commander Garren to be here for the parade. All Woodmen are urgently requested to meet at the graded school building on Fourth avenue, west at nine-thirty, Tuesday morning, so that the White Pine section can be lined up promptly for the parade which is set for 10 o'clock.

ATHLETIC EXHIBITION AT PARK

One of the interesting features of the program on the Fourth of July is the athletic exhibition at Laurel Park to be given on that day, or that night. The time has not yet been announced.

The program will have several boxing bouts between some of Hendersonville shining lights in pugilistic circles, wrestling matches and other contests.

CHANGES NAME OF HOTEL

Under the management of Frank Wrenn, the name of the Blue Ridge Inn has been changed to the "La Plaza", and now operates under that name. The La Plaza has been recently leased by Mr. Wrenn from Dr. Frank Bright, who is now the proprietor of Brightwood.

"Smilin' Through" will keep you smilin' through many a month after you've seen it.

COUNTY FAIR CONSIDERED

Experienced Fair Man Would Promote County Fair; Seeks Indorsement

The endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday was sought by the J. C. Roberts Exposition Company, which company proposes to hold a county fair in Hendersonville in October. Mr. Roberts first appeared before the chamber's agricultural committee. This committee, under the chairmanship of John Ewbank, outlined to Mr. Roberts what it believed to be desired respecting premiums, the character of the attractions, etc., stressing the fact that unless such a fair gave the farmers every consideration it would not serve the community properly. Mr. Roberts met the committee's demands, agreeing to put up $1,000 in cash for premiums, and to encourage the farmers in every way practicable.

Mr. Roberts then went before the Chamber's board of governors, stating that he desired the moral support of that body. He was informed that proper references would be required as well as a surety bond, the governors feeling that the Chamber's moral support would operate to the Chamber's serious disadvantage were the fair to become involved, and in order to amply protect itself and the public generally Mr. Roberts would have to assure as to his financial responsibility as well as ability to manage such an enterprise. He stated that he would endeavor to do this.

The Chamber's governors are anxious to see a fair held in Henderson county of county-wide appeal, and have only hesitated in promoting it for the reason that a county farm demonstration agent is about the only medium through which the farmers might be reached. The appointment of a county agent will likely be made in a short time, too late however for a 1922 fair, but, according to Secretary Penney, a better 1923 fair would be preferred to a poor one in 1922.

Mr. Roberts claims to be an experienced fair man. His operation of a fair, however, said Mr. Penney, would make it a personal instead of community investment, the latter being a much better way, in his opinion.

In the meantime the board of governors are withholding their endorsement of Mr. Roberts' proposition until he arranges bond and satisfies them as to his references, etc.

HOLD UP MEN ROB E. C. LYDA

Fruitland Man Robbed Near Patton Memorial Hospital

What is perhaps the boldest robbery that has taken place here in some time occurred Wednesday afternoon about 3:30 p. m.

E. C. Lyda, of Fruitland, was driving in his Ford car in the direction of Hendersonville and was approaching the Patton Memorial hospital just outside the city limits when he saw a Dodge car at the side of the road and two men apparently working at it. The men hailed him as his car came abreast of the Dodge and he alighted to give whatever assistance he could. No sooner had he stepped out of his car than the two men thrust pistols in his face and demanded his money. Lyda had in his possession about $18 which the men took and left in the direction of Asheville.

Lyda turned his car around and gave pursuit, but he was soon outdistanced by the faster car.

As soon as he could, Lyda reported his loss to the police in Hendersonville and every effort is being made to recover the loss and apprehend the robbers.

Lyda was able to give a good description of the men and the car which will probably lead to their capture in the near future. The number of the car in which they were riding was 5810, he said, and it was a new Dodge roadster. In describing the men he said that one of them was "dressed up," and wore a black bow tie and that the other had on khaki riding breeches.

As soon as the loss was reported to the Hendersonville authorities a description of the car and men was telephoned to police headquarters in Asheville in the hope that they might be able to stop the hold up men there.

WOODMEN TO VISIT SPARTANBURG, JULY 7th

The Southern has a committee of the W. O. W. to visit Spartanburg on July 7th. The committee will be composed of the following: J. C. Root, W. O. W. member here, and J. C. Root, W. O. W. member here.

The people of Spartanburg have arranged a big program for the coming of the Woodmen. They will be met at the station by the Uniform Order of Woodmen of Spartanburg. A feature of the program will be the huge Woodman gathering at the Hall at Converse college.

WITH MRS. ROLLINS

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Browning and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Browning came to Hendersonville this week and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Rollins.
