NORTH CAROLINA AFFAIRS

The News of Old North State Gathered and Put in Condensed Form.

To Continue Curtailment.

Wilmington, Special,-Practically all the business before the Cotton Manufacturers' Association of North Carolina in its second annual meeting in the auditorium of the Seashore Hotel was completed at the one session and adjournment was to a date and place next year to be decided later by the executive committee. The most important action taken with reference to the textile industry in the State revolved upon recommendations contained in the annual report of President R. M. Miller, Jr., of Charlotte. The matter of most vital public concern was in regard to the curtailment of the product of the mills which was strongly urged in the committee says: 'In the work accomplished by President Stockard, with his willing and efficient co-workers, our expectations to the curtailment of the product of the mills which was strongly urged by Mr. Miller, who advocated letting the demand get hungry before feeding it and at the same time let some of the commission houses and buyers remain hungry for some time. It was decided to continue the programme of curtailment until September 1st, the following resolution by A. A. Thompson, of Raleigh, being unanimously adopted. "Resolved That we recommend that the curtailment suggested by the executive committee in Charlotte be continued until September."

WORK accompliance by President Stockard, with his willing and efficient co-workers, our expectations have been more than realized. With the capacity of the buildings taxed to its full extent, a corps of teachers faithful and painstaking in their work, and a stuckent body from the very best class of patrons of this and other States, we have had one of the best years in the history of the institution. Everything has worked amoothly, and the work accomplished by President Stockard, with his willing and efficient co-workers, our expectations have been more than realized. AN OLD OUT BUILDING STRUCK

A Party of Youths Out on a Sunda Plum Gathering Take Shelter When a Rainstorm Comes Up in an Old Building. Which Is Struck by Lightning, and Odell Young Is Killed and Four of His Companions Receive Severe Shocks.

Lexington, N. C., Special.-Odell Young, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Young, of this place, was killed Sunday morning about 10:30 o'elock by lightning, and four other boys who were with him were injured but it is thought that all will recover, although two of them were severely shocked. The boys were severely shocked. The boys were out gathering wild plums, when a heavy rainstorm came up and they took shelter in a building formerly used as an office of the Victor Brick Company. Formerly a telephone had been in the office and the wire remained, although the telephone had been removed. The lightning struck the wire and in this way was carried into the office where the boys were into the office where the boys were Odell Young was killed instantly. Of the seven boys in the party two were uninjured and they hurried to a nearby residence and told what had race. The last named young man is about grown. The condition of Hollis Carver is regarded as serious, in fact, up to late Sunday afternoon he had not regained consciousness from the shock. Ernest Bean was also severely shocked but will recover. None of them were burned, not even Odell Young, although there was a slight discoloration in his case.

New Law Makes Wagers on the Tracks a Felony.

KEENE SAYS SPORT IS DEAD

Covernor Hughes Won After a Long Contest to Force the Legislature at Athany to Suppress Horse Race Gambling.

Albany, N. Y .- The most sensational legislative battle that the Em pire State has known in a generation came to an end when the Agnew-Hart anti-race-track beiting bills were passed, by a vote of 26 to 25; in the Senate. By the immediate signature of the Executive the bills were made statutes of the State, and the placing of a bet upon a horse race a felony. The new laws will have a tremendous effect upon the sport of racing. dous effect upon the sport of racing. Most racing men say that "the jig is up" and the sport dead; others are less pessimistic and believe that the race tracks can continue without betting rings, though none of them is sanguine enough to predict that the haleven days of hig purses and great crowds will ever be known again.

James R. Keene has calculated that the new laws will practically destroy the new laws will practically destroy racing property in this State to the amount of $80,000,000, and will cause an annual loss to New York City of something like $30,000,000. Supporters of the bills hold that these figures are exaggerated. The new laws resulted from a cam-. Poughkeepsie, N. London, England.-When seen on the subject of the anti-gambling bills passed in the New York Legislature, August Belmont, chairman of the lockey Club, said: "I cannot say what the various racing associations will do eventually. The associations, however, have racing features to run off this season, which constitute sporting obligations, and they will undoubtedly live up to them. No one can well predict whether or not the prohibition of betting at races will ruin horse racing irretrievably, but it is a severe blow to the best interests of the turf in any event. It will ultimately throw many men out of employment and cripple the breeding and improve-ment of thoroughbred horses in the United States.

A Hard Blow in Kentucky. Louisville, Ky. — Kentucky probably will suffer to a greater extent by the passage of the race track bills in New York than will New York. Many wealthy Easterners own large farms and operate breeding plants in the Blue Grass region.

Millions of dollars are invested in these plants and a small army of mer is employed. The thoroughbreds raised on the places of these Eastern capitalists are culled over each year and the best of them retained and raced exclusively on the tracks near the metporolis. The operation of the law passed in

New York probably will mean the closing of these breeding establish ments, throwing out of employment more than 5000 laborers and the loss of many millions each year to the

was not an accident, no sign of a tottering step.

Loving hands served ice water to the old men as they passed along the coute, fans were distributed and syrything possible was done to relieve the long tramp of its tedium. That the heroes were in excellent spirits was shown by the fact that many of them sang old camp songs as they marched, such as "Buttermilk Cavalry," "Old Time Confederate," "Bonnie Blue Flag."

There were many in the parade who had left a leg or perhaps both legs on some bloody battlefield, but they enjoyed the occasion as much as the others, being carried in vehicles. Their appearance drew forth, as the others, being carried in vehiries. Their appearance drew forth, if anything, greater applause than the night of the foot soldiers.

The parade formed shortly after 11 o'clock and required one hour and 45 minutes to pass a given point. The route was frim Sixth avenue on Nineteenth street to First avenue, to Twenty-first street to Fifth avenue, in Twentieth street to Fifth avenue, to Twentieth stret to First avenue counter-marching on Twentieth street to Capitol Park, where the reviewing stand was located. In the vanguard were eight companies of the local National Guard, including one bat-

All of these will be held inside the huge stadium at Shepbeing the only Confederate body to have that distinction. Memphis representatives also came in for applause. They were acompanied by the crack fife and crum corps, which helped to give the martial atmosphere. CHERRY DUMPLINS. These made like apple dumplings and served with a sauce made of the juice of the fruit are delicious. An old time method is to make a thick batter, using two cupfuls of flour, two eggs, two teaspoonfuls of butter, one tablespoonful of sugar, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder sifted with the flour, one cupful of water and one cupful of stoned cherries. Drop the cupful of stoned cherries. Drop the mixture by the tablespoonful into boiling salted water. Only a few at a time can go in, as the water must not stop boiling. Cover closely and cook 12 minutes without uncovering. Take from the water and serve at once on hot plates. To make the sauce, cream together a cuptul powdered sugar and a tal of butter. Add gradually one begg and a half cupful of cherry bealing constantly.—New York
